FALLING WALL HURTS FOUR.
Serious Accident at Canada Foundry—Man's Back Broken.

By the collapse of a wall at the Canada Foundry yesterday morning, Harry Carter, a bricklayer of River-ton-avenue, had his back broken; Alfred Carter, bricklayer of 24 Franklin-street, was severely cut; J. Brown, a steamfitter, had his head cut and T. Sanderson, a painter, was lightly injured.

Three of the men were taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where their injuries were attended to. All were able to go home but Harry Carter, who although in a critical condition was resting easier last night.

Holby Bros., contractors, could not give any reason for the collapse of the wall beyond the idea that the wind was high and that the dozen or so men working on the scaffold had been leaning against the structure.

TWO-CENT RATE IN SIGHT.

Windsor Record: Parliament of course gives Mr. Maclean, M.P., no credit for bringing about the enforcement of a three-cent railway rate east of the Rockies, but this will matter little so long as the press put him in the right before the public, and this it is doing all over the country. There can be no doubt that Mr. Maclean's able and persistent fight for two-cent fares was the means of forcing the hand of parliament and of the commission in the latest reform. Mr. Maclean is not the man to abandon his effort in this connection, and a two-cent rate is in sight.

WILKINSON PRESIDENT NORTH TORONTO LEAGUE

Strong Committee Appointed to Promote Public Ownership in That Riding.

North Toronto is in line for public ownership.

At a meeting in Cumberland Hall last night, a strong committee was appointed to act with the central committee, when formed in the organization of leagues throughout the province and the propagation of the idea.

W. K. McNaught, M.L.A.; D. C. Hossack of Deer Park; J. W. Curry, ex-convicted attorney, and other prominent citizens, addressed the meeting. J. M. Wilkinson was elected president of the North Toronto League.

The chair was taken by A. W. Wright, chairman of the organization committee.

Mr. Wright discussed Mr. Byron E. Walker's statement, that there was not enough money in the world to buy all the public utilities. He (Mr. Wright) was glad to welcome Mr. Walker to the ranks of the "rag baby lunatics," who believe that our banking system, which is operated with a view to public profit and advantage, either by municipalities, provinces or the Dominion as the circumstances and conditions may require.

Mr. McNaught moved the first resolution, which was seconded by J. W. Curry, K.C. The resolution declared that all public utilities and services that are of the nature of natural monopolies should be owned by the people and operated with a view to public profit and advantage, either by municipalities, provinces or the Dominion as the circumstances and conditions may require.

He premised his remarks by a reference to the late J. W. St. John, who, he said, was a believer in public ownership, and one of the last meetings addressed by Mr. St. John was for promoting this very object.

Mr. McNaught favored public ownership of natural monopolies, which should only be operated by the public. He gave several strong reasons why franchises of that nature should be operated by the people. These natural monopolies were divided into three classes. Under the head of municipal franchises, he would group gas and electric light, water, street railways, telephones and electric power; under provincial control should be the generation of electric power from the waterfalls of the province; the telephone trunk lines and some railways; while in the next group he would place such services as the postoffice, the canals, the express companies, telegraph lines, railways and the coal fields, which should be owned by the general government.

Mr. McNaught believed that the operating of these franchises by the city councils would be dangerous; but under a committee from the Dominion, which he could see no reason why public ownership would not pay.

Mr. Curry endorsed the idea.

J. W. Curry, K.C., former growth attorney, spoke briefly in seconding the resolution. He submitted that public utilities were those things that were needed by the public, and that they were of a large number of people into a community—water, lighting, scavenging, street railways, and such services. The gathering together of large communities made the furnishing of these services profitable to private individuals. If these services were necessary, why not operate them yourselves?

asked Mr. Curry. He suggested the combining of the telegraph and telephone systems, and their operation as trunk lines by the provincial or federal authorities, with the municipal bodies controlling the lines within their bounds.

J. W. Moyes moved the formation of a branch in North Toronto, and the motion was unanimously received.

North Toronto Executive.
D. C. Hossack, J. M. Wilkinson and J. W. Moyes were nominated for president. All retired except Mr. Wilkinson, who was declared elected. C. W. Cavers was elected vice-president; E. M. Dumas, secretary, and W. H. Hall, treasurer. The following were named on the executive: Robert Tyson, Allan Thompson, P. A. Good, W. J. Nichols, P. W. Johnston and J. C. Coe.

Rev. D. C. Hossack, in a winding-up address, dealt with the argument of the corporations, that public ownership would be a failure, and showed clearly that the people were competent to conduct large enterprises. It was not a political object. He would belong to the Public Ownership League if it was to be manipulated in favor of one party or another.

Last night Rev. N. Wellwood of the Eglington Methodist Church, instead of holding the regular prayer meeting, read a letter received by him from his niece, Miss Caroline Wellwood, from China. Miss Wellwood, the daughter of William Wellwood of Wingham, is a graduate of the Deaconess' Home, Philadelphia, and a trained and graduated nurse of the General Hospital of Washington, D.C. She is one of a party of twenty missionaries sent from the Canadian Missionary Society to their different stations, and she gave a description of the country she passed thru. The letter was written and dispatched from the household of the Yangtze River. Most of the missionary party are graduates of the Victoria University. Miss Wellwood wrote that she had no reason so far to regret the step taken to go to China as a missionary.

Swansea.

W. H. Quin, ex-trustee of Swansea Public School section, complains to The Toronto World that the board of trustees of the school, which is probably the only one in the riding of West York that was not flying the Union Jack at half-mast out of respect for the late Hon. J. W. St. John, M.L.A. It is customary when a public man dies that the flags on the public buildings in the riding be lowered to half-mast. Mr. Quin attributes the neglect in this case to political partisanship, as the majority of the board is composed of Liberals, and states that when he was a member of that board on Frederic Day, that there was a resolution of the board for doing so. A half holiday to the school children, and that he authorized the teachers to give a half holiday, thereby earning the gratitude of the board for doing so.

R. B. Johnson has returned from Bermuda, and is busy with building operations on the W. Bermer-road.

Reeve Pugsley is progressing towards perfect health again.

The whole town seemed possessed with one idea, the nine-cent sale for the 9th. The ladies of the W.M.S. are to be congratulated on the success of their enterprise. The concert could not well be excused.

Rev. M. McKinlay of Woodbridge took the services in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday. Rev. J. A. Grant, the pastor, still lies in a very critical condition.

A very successful Easter offering was given at the home of Mrs. C. P. Wiley for the W.M.S. at the last regular meeting on Thursday.

P. C. Petlock and family moved out last week to the fifty acre farm which he has rented on the third concession of Markham.

Mr. Thompson and family have moved to the farm formerly worked by Walter Benson.

FUNERAL OF MR. ST. JOHN ATTENDED BY THOUSANDS

General Esteem in Which Late Speaker Was Held Strikingly Shown by Cortège.

To me remains no place or time,
My country is in every clime;
I can be free from every care
On any shore since God is there.

—Verse copied by the late Speaker on the fly leaf of his Bible.

Hundreds of citizens who had been pleased to regard Hon. J. W. St. John as a personal friend, and thousands who knew of him and respected him, yesterday paid their last and sad tribute to him.

Ten thousand persons, it was estimated, passed the caquet as it lay in state in the Speaker's apartments at the parliament buildings yesterday morning.

The apartments were draped in black, the portrait of the late Speaker hanging on the south wall. The floral tributes were banked around the caquet.

At 1.45 Alpha Lodge, A.F. & A.M., and a body of the Masonic brethren entered in regalia, bearing their significant emblems and wearing sprays of yew. The brief responsive service of the order was repeated and the procession filed out.

Rev. W. H. Hincks, pastor of Dunn-avenue Methodist Church, conducted the service. Rev. J. Treleven, Hamilton, read several passages of Scripture. The burial service in the Queen's cemetery was held at 2.15, and the address on the life and character of the late Speaker, Rev. Dr. German announced the hymn, "Rock of Ages." Rev. R. N. Burns, that of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and Rev. D. C. Hossack offered the benedictory prayer. Another hymn sung was "Sleep Thy Rest, Sleep," by the Doric Masonic Quartet.

The True Type.

Chancellor Burwash of Victoria paid a strong and interesting address, telling many interesting things about him, and of the days when Mr. St. John was his pupil. He said: "Mr. St. John came of good stock. Sixty or seventy years ago, stricken Ireland poured out her best, and many of her sons and daughters came to this country to found homes and farms in the then unbroken forests. They were brave and sturdy men, and above all, they were God-fearing and moral."

He said from these people that our brother came, and I remember him as he came to me thirty years ago, broad of shoulder, deep of chest, with heaven's blue reflected in his eyes, and the flash of health upon his brow, anxious to acquire the benefits of intellectual training. He told of Mr. St. John's offering himself for service in the foreign mission field, but that desire, he said, was over-ruled by God's wisdom.

Rev. W. H. Hincks spoke of his catholicity of spirit, saying he was the type of Methodist Wesley had in mind when he said, "The world is my parish." A Catholic priest, he said, had offered prayers for Mr. St. John's recovery one Sunday morning. Almost the last speech he made was at the funeral of the late Speaker, and he said, "I do not even know what whiskey tastes like."

"There was nothing of the slim-milk parliamentarian about him," said the preacher.

After the singing of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," Rev. Dr. Hossack gave the closing prayer and benediction.

The Cortège.

The mourners and representative citizens having entered their carriages at 10 o'clock, the cortège, in its vehicles, moved towards the cemetery at 3 o'clock. Large crowds were waiting outside near the west exit to see the funeral cortege pass, and the route was thronged with sightseers all the way to Davenport-road, and again at Yonge street was reached.

The chief mourners were Mr. St. John's brothers, James and William Glover; his brothers-in-law, Henry and John; and his nephews, Dr. G. Dennis, Mr. St. John's nephew; W. J. Paulin, nephew, and Mr. St. John's son and grandsons, Mr. Geo. Syme, son, strong enough to attend.

The offices in the parliament buildings were closed at 1 o'clock, and the heads of departments and civil service generally attended. J. T. Englehart, chief clerk of the T. & N. O. Ry. Co., and Mr. J. W. Wright, M.P., were also present.

The government was fully represented by Premier Whitney and the other cabinet ministers, and by the greater number of the members of the house. Premier Whitney and Hon. G. P. Graham marched out to the funeral cortege pass, and by the side of the caquet, Mr. St. John did not feel strong enough to attend.

The following represented the trustees and quarterly boards of Parkdale Methodist Church: Messrs. L. Lennox, W. H. Adams, J. H. Welsh, Dr. Stewart, Dr. Gilmore, Dr. Lake, W. J. McMurtry, E. A. Rogers, A. Pool, J. A. Cook, Dr. Burchard, T. W. Miller, R. Rutherford, O. Jull, A. W. Mayall, A. Howe, Geo. Blackwell, H. S. Pell, E. J. Carhart.

The Sunday school was represented by Ivor E. Brock, W. F. Mountain, W. H. Smith, O. J. Furr, E. T. Young, A. K. Doan, W. K. McInosh, A. Taylor, Thomas Jackson and W. Chalmers.

The Salvation Army was represented by Commissioner Coombs, Colonels Gaskin and Pugmire, Brigadiers Howell and Southall.

At the Cemetery.

The final ceremonies of the Masonic ritual were conducted at the cemetery where were very impressive. The Doric Quartet taking the recitative and vocal parts.

After the ceremonies were over, the caquet and the flowers were removed to the vault, from whence it will be taken for interment later.

RICE LEWIS & SON, LIMITED.
Cor. King and Victoria Sts., Toronto

few years ago—perhaps 15 or 20—that I made a sketch of an old man singing that song, accompanying himself on the piano, at the Savages Club. He was then close on 80 years of age; this was the veteran, Henry Russell. He died some years afterwards, nearly 90 years of age. No single man, by his entertainment, approached Henry Russell the good he did in rousing among the mass of English people an imperial enthusiasm. He did more work by his music than a regiment of recruiting officers, and he made thousands of British sailors by that one song alone, "A Life on the Ocean Wave." Altogether he composed 800 songs, of which one need only name "The Ship on Fire," "There's a Good Time Coming, Boys," "To the West, to the West, to the Land of the Free," words written by Charles McKay and put to music and made famous by Russell.

"Quite recently I was having a conversation with celebrated conductor, who informed me that song-writing, nowadays, was the most profitable occupation. Many thousands a year are ruffled sung by young ladies in modern burlesque, yet the great Russell, who was a national benefactor, received the magnificent sum of £5 for "Cheer, Boys! Cheer!" for the "Ivy Green" and 8s 2d for "Woodman, Spare that Tree!" His 800 songs, some of which were sung by thousands during the 50 years of his own life, averaged 10 a song. If this is not a startling illustration of the change in our times, in taste and honesty, I wonder where one could find evidence to show that as regards our amusements we have lost our art and become willing to overpay the representatives of mediocrity. It is interesting to note that the great Henry Russell has left behind him a son who has kept the minds of the young enchanted with the sea. Clark Russell is the favorite author of the schoolboy and of many who have left school, too. And a stepbrother of his, London Ronald, carries on the musical side of his father's life work and keeps alive his father's reputation as a composer and conductor."
