If you don't believe that statement, take a peep at the account of the Horton-St. Thomas game of last night. Our litle champions made the visitors look like sausages without skins, and put a crimp in St. Thomas' hockey aspirations that will require months to remove-if ever it can be done. In the words of the poet, "They may get over it, but the water tank known as St. Thomas.

Riley Hern, the Wanderers' crack goal guardian, spent Saturday and Sunday in the town where he first learned to play the game, Stratford. The Beacon says:

"You can talk about 'Hod' Stuart being dirty," said Mr. Riley Hern, of the Wanderers hockey club, Saturday morning, "but there is nothing to it. I never saw Stuart do a dirty thing yet. Why, he has played an entire season and only been on the fence twice, once for holding a man and in the most gladsome manner, against the fance, and once for a trip. He is not as bad as he is painted.

"And, say, he certainly takes all sorts of atuse, too. Why, in that Ottawa game everybody who came near him took a crack at him. I was over at his place the other day, and I took a close tally of the scars on his face alone. He had fourteen on his face, to say nothing of the seams and cicatrices on his scalp. I guess may be he hasn't been through the fray. He is always game to come back for more. Any time you make him quit why just wire me, will you? I'll be interested."

Evidently Thomas the 'Frisco wel terweight boxer, is a marvel in the ring. A new York exchange says: Those who think Abe Attell the wizard of the ring have not seen Joe Thomas in action. This welterweight or middieweight from the coasts fights so easily and coolly that he appears to be in a trance. In his recent bout with Mellody, the welterweight champion, he showed in the very first round that he had the punch, a marvelous knowledge of ring tactics and coolness that could not be surpassed. During the entire six rounds he never made an effort to swing and with but few exceptions his blows were of the short arm variety that seldom failed to land

It was given out that Thomas weighed under 140 pounds, but many are did play! If he succeeds the runner will score three times out of four, although the batter may be caught at first. If the batter fails to hit the ball at all-well, that is a different story, and the 'squeeze play' is immediately in disrepute." At the Atlanta training camp two years ago, Carr, then with Cleveland, suggested not only the "squeeze play," but also a play that the Indianapolis team used successfully in several games last year. proved futile, because the Hortons a seven-days' mystery. Robson at present is hard at work training in Philadelphia for bouts which have been offered him by the National A. C.
