EVELYN NESBIT THAW IN LEADING ROLE AT THE PATRICIA

"A Fallen Idol," Fox Feature, Will Be Shown Again Today,
Matinee and Night.

At the Patricia Theatre today, matinee and night, "A Fallen Idol," featuring Evelyn Nesbit Thaw in new version of East vs. West theme.
The familiar blood barrier of Oriental versus Occidental is given a rude jolt in "A Fallen Idol." Evelyn Nesbit's new picture. Indeed, East and West meet and marry, which, incidentally, is something new under the camera lights. Before this picture of an ancient tradition that Kipling epitomized into poetry takes place, a sensational and highly colorful melodrama is unfolded. And if there is a suggestion of great labor in the composition insofar as coincidences and conveniences occur, nevertheless it is entertaining from inception to conclusion.

The picture marks a screen holiday for Miss Nesbit, since she not only paves the way in breaking down the ancient barrier, but she takes a colorful photograph as an Hawaiian princess. The star fits the character admirably. Her dark features, her languorous charm, are truly suggestive of the type she represents. Consequently she has given the screen her best performance.

This Hawaiian princess is the protagonist of a California social leader, whose nephew becomes enamored with her. The girl is whisked back to Hawaii by the villain of the play because the society woman doesn't want the East and West barrier smashed in her home. When the mad lover follows her to the islands, the melodrama comes right out in the open, and before he leads her to an Hawaiian altar the spectator is in for some rousing thrills.
The concluding reels carry an elemental punch which, combined with realistic atmosphere, suffice to get it over. Lillian Lawrence and Sydney Mason render good assistance. Kenean Buel's direction is praiseworthy.

You need iron in the blood! Every healthy man or woman should have about as much iron in his or her body as there is in an ordinary railroad spike.
To gain this iron, the best way is to take Tonal-iron Capsules, a combination of iron in its most soluble form, recently discovered, and now having a marvelous effect on the blood. The blood cells get round, rich red in color, the cheeks are pink, the appetite improves, and one feels full of "snap!"
"pop!" "vigor!"—instead of tired before the day is half done. The eyes take on a lustre and the body feels that tingle which one gets from a cold bath.

Eyesight Dim?
If your eyesight is dim, your vision blurred; if your eyes ache, itch, burn or feel dry, get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets from your druggist, dissolve one in a fourth of a glass of water and use to bathe the eyes from two to four times a day. Bon-Opto has given stronger eyes, clearer, sharper vision and relief to thousands.
Note: Doctors say Bon-Opto strengthens eyesight 50% in a week's time in many instances.
