The Alberta A, A. M. have gone on the authority given them by the Dominion body recently and have whitewashed some of the best known professionals in the country back into meek amateurs. Mickey Mackay, formerly of Chesley, is probably the best known of the "new" amateurs. While the ruling only allows these simon pures to play in Alberta, the big complexity will come when any Dominion honors come into the question, as they are most liable to do with the Allan Cup games.

The finish, a battle that will not be decided until somebody gets out of the game. It is possible that the person getting out may be one of the club owners who has not figured prominently in this fight up to this time. Rumors are heard that each side has something big in reserve to spring at the opportune time, but the nature of this coup has not been indicated, unless it is that the belligerents will buy into another American League club and add to their strength, at the same time weakening the opposition.

The statement issued by Charles A.

The statement issued by Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, during the last week would indicate that there is no tendency to back down or to compromise on the part of the faction of which he is a member. The showdown will come on December 10, the date specified by the American League constitution for the annual meeting of the club on a joint stock basis. Enlargement of the club house is planned, and the locals are ambitious to have the finest for the fun of it—and a gold watch or something. The new amateurs claim Frame Difficult.

No athletic contest is more difficult to frame than a baseball game. It is a comparatively simple thing to rig up the result of a boxing contest, a fracas between wrestlers, or a golf match. Football games can be fixed very easily with the help of one or two of the backfield men. All that is necessary is for a "fixed" halfhack to fumble the balf a few times right into the hands of one of the opposition players—while in critical territory. Or he can fake the missing of several attempts at tackling. Or the star kicker can miss easy fired goals and punt miserably.
