GERMANY COULD NOT BEAR AN ECONOMIC WAR AFTER THIS ONE

Amsterdam, Nov. 20.—(Correspondence)—German victory in the war would mean that the Germans "as the dominant race, would have to keep in subjection by force of arms the crushed and dispossessed peoples," asserts Georg Gothein, a prominent Liberal member of the German Reichstag, in an editorial article in the official organ of the influential German Association for Commercial Treaties. "Should we actually succeed in gaining a decisive victory, which only a few persons believe possible," he writes, "we should have to bear a weight of armaments for that purpose which would make it impossible for our national strength, so terribly weakened in any case by bloody losses, again to regain its economic power. And yet without this permanent political strength is impossible. One day the world would rise against the German sway, would burst its fetters, would destroy our power, which would be lacking in economic support. For if we have been able to hold out this time, we have above all to thank our economic efficiency. "There remains only one solution, peace by understanding. A peace which is permanent must remove from the world the rivalry of power." "An economic war after the war would be unbearable for Germany."

A STATE OF PRODUCTIVE ACTIVITY.

(Auburn Citizen.) A Maryland law that compels all men to be engaged in productive labor during the war has been interpreted to call shoe shining as not-productive because people can shine their own shoes. # NEW YORK AID FOR HALIFAX SUFFERERS

(New York Evening Post.) More than a thousand dollars has been received from readers of the Evening Post in response to its appeal for money for the victims of the Halifax disaster. The need is still pressing, and according to dispatches from Halifax the most helpful form of assistance is money. The Evening Post has forwarded the contributions received from its readers to the agent of the Bank of Nova Scotia at 62 Wall Street, New York, in accordance with the suggestion of Sir Robert L. Borden, premier of Canada, who was asked to assume the proper authority for the receipt of the money. Sir Robert's telegram to the Evening Post follows in full: "Your telegram received. Treasurer of Halifax Relief Fund is Bank of Nova Scotia, Halifax. I suggest contribution referred to be deposited with New York branch of that bank, 62 Wall street, which will transmit it without charge to Halifax branch. This generous action of the New York Evening Post and its readers is, you may be sure, deeply appreciated."
