FALL ARRIVES AND THE M. R. A. STORES ARE READY

The advent of the autumn season was fittingly heralded today at the formal Exposition of Fall Modes held in the Costume Department of the M. R. A. Ltd. store. Many bright, new and fascinating fall styles were brought to light and viewed by St. John women for the first time.

For this special occasion the fashion department of the store was appropriately decorated with autumn branches and fall flowers. The usual stands and fittings of the department were temporarily removed and a large space in the middle of the room reserved for the display of frocks, coats and costumes of latest mode. Between the hours of 10 and 12 a. m. and 3 to 5 p. m. a musical programme of high order was rendered by local musicians, and was greatly enjoyed by the many visitors present.

The longer skirt was undoubtedly the chief style point characteristic of the new season; however in both frocks and costumes a strong tendency to embroidery as trimmings and straight line effects of foreign influence prevailed. Great quantities of heads were also used on many genuine French Dinner Gowns of elaborate mode and flowing panels, low waist lines and clever sleeve variations found favor with discriminating dressers.

Not to be overlooked either were the graceful overdraperies of fancy net and lace that prove so entirely becoming. Matelasse, clove and crepe weaves of many kinds were featured among the new materials and a decided leaning to such shades as aluminum grey, brick dust, leather, wood browns, and blues was noticed.

Coats for the most part were designed for warmth and service; however not one of the many models shown was lacking in charm or individuality. The big English looking plaid coat with raglan sleeves, roomy pockets and free hanging or belted bodices was a popular model fashioned from soft duvetyns, velours or perillanes—of course for best wear the latter model has the preference.

In costumes plenty of variety was observed. Heavy tweeds in plain tailored styles seem favorites for street wear and utility suits; while boxy suits with elaborate embroideries and trimmings of contrasting furs are suited for use on more dressy occasions.

The influence of the far east—Russia, Egypt, Persia and France is very evident in these new fall styles. The opportunity is offered to all women interested in good dressing to view these latest modes for themselves on Thursday and Friday.

Miss Lena Pusley, who was drowned in Ontario, as reported yesterday, was a daughter of Newton Pusley of Parrboro, N. S.

When You Buy Consider Value

Value is the only time measure. When a man buys a 20th Century Brand Suit of Clothes or one of our other good makes, he is making an investment which will prove profitable because he has bought something of real value. The low-priced suit that lasts but a few weeks and NEVER looks well even during its short life is an extravagance—you cannot get out of it the price that you put in. Gilmour's Fall Suits are priced $25 and upward, with special values at $30 to $45. They are garments that give real service.

MONTREAL TO GET COAL BY MONDAY

That is Word Received from Pennsylvania—Come by Water from Oswego.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Montreal and New York will be the first cities to receive considerable shipments of anthracite coal from the Pennsylvania mines and the first cargoes will reach here on Monday. This information was contained in private advices yesterday. The coal will be borne by water from Oswego, N. Y. Car shipments will arrive later. General optimism prevails here as regards the winter supply being received. Montreal takes twenty-five per cent. of the Pennsylvania coal which is imported into Canada.

FINAL ACTION ON THE TARIFF IS TODAY'S PLAN

Washington, Sept. 13.—The house, meeting an hour and a half earlier than usual, planned to take final action on the administration tariff bill before adjournment late today, thus paving the way for its final action tomorrow on the soldiers' bonus bill.

The first order of procedure was the reading of the 162 page conference report covering the action taken by the conferees on the 2486 senate amendments. This proceeding, a formality required by the rules, was of little interest to members, most of whom had acquiesced themselves with the chief high spots in the perfected measure. With the reading ended, the agreement among leaders called for four hours of general debate with a final vote to follow immediately afterwards. Spirited exchanges between democratic opponents and republican proponents were looked for.
