SAYS FARMERS MOULDERS OF PUBLIC OPINION

Strong Plea Made for Their Greater Protection

CONGRESS IN QUEBEC CITY

There Must Be No Such Thing as Class Legislation, Says Former Member of House of Commons—Work the Only Solution for H. C. L.

Quebec, Feb. 5.—Earnest and forceful appeals were made to the farmers assembled at the agricultural congress here last night by some of the prominent public men of this province who strongly urged moderation and preached the doctrine of law and order.

Addresses were delivered by William Power, former member of the House of Commons for Quebec West; Hon. J. E. Perault, provincial minister of colonization, mines and fisheries; Arthur Sauve, leader of the opposition in the Quebec assembly; Hon. J. E. Caron, minister of agriculture; and Ernest Lapointe, M. P. for Quebec East and Liberal leader of federal politics in the district of Quebec.

Moulders of Public Opinion. Mr. Power told the farmers they were assembled like the apostles of old, and when they returned to their respective districts they would be moulders of public opinion. He urged them to preach the doctrine of law and order.

Play Important Role. The important role which the farmer plays in this country was vividly portrayed by Hon. J. E. Caron. He said that in the present crisis Quebec was holding its own, but asked if it would be able to continue to do so. He pointed to reduced production in other provinces, due to the crisis and affirmed that the only remedy to the unenviable situation rested in agriculture. It was the farmer that would regenerate humanity, but since all depended upon the farmer he must be overburdened and must be given assistance to get the best results from his land.

Ernest Lapointe advised strict economy and super-production as a solution of the present crisis. The agricultural congress yesterday passed a resolution which will be sent to the federal minister of labor protesting against the appeal made to him by the National Catholic Unions at their convention at Three Rivers recently when they asked for a partial prohibition of the export of agricultural products from the province of Quebec.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornebean to the Times reporter, "I went into a flat yesterday on a little business and I seen something 'that made my eyes sike out. It needed a lot of repairs, and it was a real beauty, but I seen one o' them there big photographs, an' a bust, an' a lot o' ornaments I never look for in that house. The man works an' his wife spends, an' she had a wrist watch an' a lot o' joddy that must-a cost a lot o' money—yes, sir. The kids didn't look as if any money was been 'wasted on 'em—but she looked real prosperous." "Well," said the reporter, "what about it? She buys things with her own money, I have no doubt."
