

THE DOWNFALL OF LEVINSKY

Left Hook to Stomach by Dempsey Puts Loser Down for Nine—Never Stopped Before.

A right and left to the jaw, and Battling Levinsky had suffered the first knockout of his nine years' experience as a boxer. Jack Dempsey turned the trick in the third round of his bout with Levinsky before a packed house at the Olympia A. A. Philadelphia, on last Wednesday night.

It was the same old combination that had knocked Fred Fulton cold in eighteen seconds at Harrison (N. J.) not so long ago, and it sent Levinsky into even a sounder slumber. Dempsey with a right to his corner by his seconds and it was fully half a minute before he opened his eyes and blinked at the blinding glare while the spectators still stood up with mouths agape in astonishment over the quick result. The fight was to have gone six rounds. Levinsky tottered out of the ring with many a reminder of the encounter. Dempsey went without a mark, his sullen face unadorned by a smile despite his early and impressive triumph.

Action From Start

While there was plenty of action in the first round there were few effective blows landed. Dempsey was the aggressor, but was short in his left hand leads. Toward the end of the round he caught Levinsky with a right hand counter, which landed on the cheek bone, raising a lump. Another right hand counter broke away from a clinch cut Levinsky's lips.

In the second round Levinsky discovered he could not keep his feet on a straight left and feebly shot out blows that had little force, as he was hitting while going away. Dempsey did not seem to relish being jabbed and tore in, landing a short left hook on the Battler's chin. Levinsky went down. At the count of five he undertook to get up. His manager, Dan Morgan, yelled for him to take the limit. He obeyed instructions and got up as the referee was raising his arm to tell off the ten. At this broke away Dempsey made a terrific swing and just missed slipping to the floor.

Dempsey sprang out of his corner for the third like an unleashed tiger. Soon Levinsky looked appealingly to his corner. It was a mute sign that he was beaten. In another instant Dempsey landed a right on the jaw and the Battler fell half way through the ropes. At the count of six he crawled under the rope and tried to pull himself to his feet, but he failed and rolled over on his back, knocked out.

Jimmy Dempsey, promoter of the bout, being the only man satisfactory to the principals, was the third man in the ring. In the opening bout Joe Ward, of Kansas City, knocked out the Alabama Kid in the first round with a right swing to the jaw. They are negro heavyweights.

Joe Burman, a Chicago bantam, out-pointed Young McGovern, of New York, in six rounds. Burman outboxed and outlasted his opponent and McGovern was hanging on in the fifth and sixth sessions.

Johnny Dundee, of New York, shaded Gusie Lewis, of Philadelphia, in another spirited six round bout.

Dougherty spent little time in instructions and preliminaries. He told Dempsey and Levinsky to "go to it and fight" and the battle was on.

Battler Leads First.

Levinsky was first to lead after the opening gong. After fighting he let fly a left hook to the head and jabbed Dempsey in the mouth with the same hand. Dempsey then started rushing and hooked both hands to the body, causing the Battler to back away.

Dempsey went after his man and discharged a volley of straight left and right handers to the head with telling effect. Levinsky tried to keep off his aggressive opponent by shooting his left to the face, but the blows were light and had no effect other than to spur Dempsey to greater effort. Dempsey followed the Battler closely and just before the gong ended the round sent several hard right handers to the body. Levinsky was perceptibly distressed by the heavy punishment and was puffing hard as he slid to his corner set. It was Dempsey's round by a wide margin.

Dempsey started the second session with a furious rush and reached Levinsky's body with terrific smashes with both hands that caused the Battler to wince. Levinsky kept his left arm working like a piston rod on Dempsey's face, but the Utah slugger paid not the slightest attention to the jabs and tore in savagely.

Dempsey shifted his attack from body to head and landed crashing blows that soon had the Battler staggering about

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff, is surely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have a nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed, and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will, you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair, but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp.

Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

Toward the close of the round Dempsey hooked a hard left to Levinsky's stomach and the Battler measured his length on the canvas. He was badly hurt, but rolled over, got on one knee and took the count of nine. When the Battler regained his feet he clinched in a desperate attempt to prevent further punishment.

Dempsey pushed the beaten man away and rained blows on head and body. Just as it looked as though Levinsky would be stopped the bell tinkled and Levinsky tottered to his corner, saved from a knockout for the time being.

Levinsky came slowly from his corner for the third round, and Dempsey rushed to him and jolted him with a series of punishing blows to the head and body. A crashing right to the jaw, and Levinsky clutched his man and tried to hold on. The referee was compelled to separate the combatants.

Dempsey began a violent attack on the Battler, dealing out terrific punishment to body and head, under which the Battler weakened perceptibly. In a drying effort the Battler sent a number of left jabs to the face and then clinched.

Dempsey shook him off and sent two heavy blows to the body, which had been up the Battler. Before Levinsky could pull himself together Dempsey sent a heavy right to the jaw, and the Battler fell like a felled oak, unconscious.

Thirty-five seconds before the end of the round that the decisive blow was landed.

Hon. F. B. Carvell At Woodstock

Woodstock, Nov. 11.—In spite of the "trial celebration" of last Thursday the citizens today celebrated the end of the war and the downfall of Kaiserism.

An immense concourse was addressed by Hon. Mr. Carvell and Judge Carleton Hon. Mr. Carvell and Judge Carleton.

From the balcony of the Cadillac Hotel, Mr. Carvell said, in part: "For over four years we have been praying for this day which marks the end of a world-wide tragedy."

"Don't forget amid your rejoicing that 50,000 brave Canadians have laid down their lives that we might be here this afternoon. I hope that the people of this town and every town and hamlet in Canada will see to it that something will be done to keep alive the memory of these brave men who died in order that we might live."

"Those who will return home will need all the help and encouragement you can give them. The business of the world is all unsettled but Canada is young and has plenty of opportunities and natural resource. We are a virile people and must produce and save for the country will need it. Germany could not win this war because it was not right she should win. Today the Kaiser is a fugitive from justice—he has ceased to exist and we know what is in store for him. Germany will have many years to pay off the debt she owes humanity. The infidel Turk will be driven out of Europe and we all rejoice that civilization has been installed upon the face of the earth."

BOLSHEVISM WOULD MEAN CONTINUED WAR

Copenhagen, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Deputy Ebert and other party leaders have formed a committee to advise the German government on political factions, to facilitate co-operation with the soldiers' council.

No German press comment on the situation has reached Copenhagen over the adoption of Bolshevism would mean continued war with the Allies and misery for the people. The Independent Socialists, according to a special dispatch to the Berlin Tribune are demanding further concessions.

Prison Stopped.

Amsterdam, Nov. 11.—Armed Workers and Soldiers stormed the prison in the Alt-Moabit street, in Berlin, but at the request of Deputy Buchner, they released those incarcerated as "war distributors" including former Captain Von Berckfeld, who was concerned in the distribution of the memorandum of Prince Lichnowsky which accused Germany of starting the war.

THE KING'S WORDS

London, Nov. 11.—A great multitude waiting was gathered before Buckingham Palace a little before noon and cheered until the King and Queen, Princess Mary and the Duke of Cornwall appeared on the balcony. The National Anthem was sung repeatedly by the crowds.

Speaking from the balcony of Buckingham Palace, King George said: "With you I rejoice. Thank God for the victories which the allied armies have won and have brought hostilities to an end. Peace is in sight."

Celebration Began In City Last Evening

The celebration last night consisted mostly of the turning out of the whole civilian population, who paraded the streets, principally Union, Charlotte and King. Automobiles were out in numbers, all decorated; people walked about with horns, flags, shouting and cheering, and all went on without disorder until the Smythe street episode occurred.

Sergeants Scott, Sullivan, Rankine and Journey, of the local force, were at the head of King street, where the traffic was greatest, and they did good work. Military pickets were about various centres of the city and also gave material aid in quieting any disturbances which seemed about starting. On the whole it was a good-natured, joyous, crowd of thousands.

The main feature of the evening was a torchlight procession under the auspices of the Polymorphian Club, the old time famous parades. Under direction of Messrs. Crawford and Lobb, both of whom were mounted, the parade started at Queen Square and marched through the principal streets. The efforts of the promoters of the parade seemed to be appreciated, as a large number joined in.

The streets were gay with flags and bright with light.

Rumors of contemplated amusement at the expense of some inexperienced policemen on the force failed to materialize due to discretion used on the part of the officials. Instead of newly appointed policemen patrolling Charlotte and Union street where the largest number of citizens were assembled, Sergeants Sullivan, Scott and Rankine were doing duty and they handled things well.

WHERE WAR STOPPED

London, Nov. 11.—Field Marshal Haig reports as follows:

"At the cessation of hostilities we had reached the general line of the Franco-British frontiers east of Avenue de la Montagne, six miles east of Mons, Chivrey and Grammont."

Rome, Nov. 11.—The Italian armies have reached Brenet Pass in the Tyrol. In the battles extending over the period from October 24 to November 4 the Italians took 28,774 prisoners, including 10,468 officers.

DEMOLITION OF CANADIAN ARMY SOON

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Although no official statement is yet forthcoming from the department of militia and defense, it is understood that demobilization of the Canadian soldiers is proceeding practically immediately.

At present, according to a statement by an official of the department, there are some 35,000 soldiers of the Canadian expeditionary force in Canada. The maintenance of such a large number of troops is regarded as a huge expense which will not be borne by the government if the men are not required for service in France.

BACK TO THE FRONT LINES

(By F. A. McKenzie.)

It was seven weeks ago, somewhere in France.

The remnant of a Canadian Highland battalion was marching straight for the enemy. Pipes were at the head, skirling their pipes bravely. Dour and with grim, set faces, unshaved and covered with dust, the men swept forward.

A triple line of our guns on the hillside was pouring death into the enemy. Little heaps of German dead lay around for yesterday the place had been held by the Hun. We caught our breath as we passed the dead horses—many days dead. Shells were bursting with a tremendous thud, raising clouds of red dust, in the ruined village behind.

I knew this Highland battalion. Two days before it had been sent back for a rest, after a time of heavy, costly and vigorous fighting. It had done its bit, splendidly.

Why was it marching back to battle again?

I hailed a young subaltern. "What's up, old man?" I asked. "I thought you had been pulled out of the line."

"There's a stiff bit of work ahead, and they need us again," he replied.

"Hard luck!" I said. "Nothing's hard luck so long as we beat the Hun. Cheerio!"

The Highlanders marched on. Tired and with depleted companies, they struck the Hun afresh, and helped to carry us through the Hindenburg line.

"You're Mr. Citizen, are called back to the line again, not the fighting line but the landing line."

A stiff bit of work still lies ahead. Your help is needed.

Do your bit! Lead!

Of the 7,500,000 soldiers and male war workers recruited by Great Britain 1,900,000 came from her overseas possessions.

The latest number of the Journal Official of Paris tells what the French colonies have given. From 1914 till July, 1915, Algeria and Tunis had given 940,000 troops; the Sedan, Senegal, Tonkin and Madagascar, 250,000; the French West Indies, 31,000. To this total of 621,000 fighting men should be added 288,000 laborers.
