

PROVINCIAL ACCOUNTS.

An Increase in the General Expenditure and Decrease in the Revenue.

Revenue by Districts as Compared with the Previous Fiscal Year.

The public accounts for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1894, were presented to the legislature yesterday. The net revenue is $1,975,466 less than the previous year, while there is an increase in the expenditure of $52,967. The details of the expenditure, which are too numerous to be published, make very interesting reading. The appropriation for advertising was $7500 and the expenditure was $11,912.65, of which amount the Times was paid $2. Besides the $11,912.65, there was a large amount expended for advertising voters' lists, and the government organs also got a share of the printing, the printing office account being charged with work done in outside offices. On the whole, the government papers did very well just previous to the last general elections.

Sir Joseph Renals the New Lord Mayor of the Metropolis and His Career.

Prince of Wales' Birthday Celebration Conducted Quietly in His Absence.

London, Nov. 13.—Floods in various parts of England are still raging. The Avon has overflowed its banks at Bath, and thousands of persons are imprisoned in the upper stories of factories and dwellings.

In a proclamation to the people of Finland the Russian emperor says he will maintain the religion and fundamental laws of the country and the rights and privileges of every class.

A dispatch from Dresden says: By the explosion of fire damp in the Pluto colliery at Wiesa yesterday twenty people were killed and many injured.

The czar has appointed the Prince of Wales' honorary colonel of the Kiev regiment of dragoons.

A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople says that three thousand Armenians, including women and children, are reported to have been massacred in the Sassoun region, near Moosh, Turkish Armenia, during a recent attack by Kurds. Twenty-five villages were destroyed. The Turkish officials declare that the report is untrue and that the report is the suppression of a small uprising in the region in question. The British ambassador is making inquiries into the matter.

Flags were flying and bells ringing all over England, Scotland and Wales on Friday in recognition of the 53rd birthday of his royal highness the Prince of Wales. The festivities which were to have taken place at Sandringham House were necessarily abandoned owing to the absence of the Prince of Wales, who for the first time in many years spent his birthday beyond the borders of his own land. Elaborate preparations had been made for a grand ball at Sandringham, the first to be given by the Prince of Wales since the death of his eldest son, the Duke of Clarence, but the death of the czar called the heir to the throne to Livadia where he passed his 53rd birthday amid gloomy surroundings and the grief-stricken relatives of the dead monarch. Upon his return to England, however, he found that the usual large number of tokens of esteem in the shape of presents received from all parts of the United Kingdom and the different courts of Europe. Before leaving for Russia the Prince and Princess of Wales instructed Col. Kholly private secretary to his royal highness, that the customary anniversary gifts to the London hospitals and other charities should not be neglected in their absence.

Elaborate ceremonies marked the official opening of the free port of Copenhagen. All the vessels in the harbor were decorated with flags and bunting, and a continual booming of cannon was kept up during the progress of the ceremony. Sales were delivered by King Christian, Vice-Admiral N. F. Ravn, minister of the marine, Major-General J. I. Bahnsen, minister of war. Tens of thousands of visitors witnessed the exercises. Invitations had been sent to members of all the royal families of Europe, but the death of the czar prevented the majority of these from attending.

Sir Joseph Renals, the new Lord Mayor of London, was born and educated at Nottingham, where for a number of years he was engaged in business with his brother. At the age of 32 he retired and removed to London and in 1888 he was elected alderman. Prior to this he had represented Aldergate at the court of common council. At the time of his election as Lord Mayor he was senior sheriff of London. His election was vigorously opposed by many aldermen on the ground that he was the promoter and director of nine companies having an aggregate of $15,000,000, not one of which was paying dividend. A ballot of the entire guilds electorate was taken and Alderman Renals received a majority of the votes and was declared elected.

SOUTHERN REBELLIONS.

Rebel Brazilian Chief Defeated at Lima.

New York, Nov. 14.—A morning paper publishes the following: Montevideo, Nov. 13.—Advices from Rio Grande do Sul says that the Brazilian rebel chief Salgado was defeated at Lima in a battle lasting nine hours. The government loss is said to be 181 killed and the rebel loss 63. Some of the rebels captured by the government troops were shot while the government soldiers captured by the rebels were given the option of death or enlisting under the rebel flag. All decided to enlist.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 12.—The rebel admiral Mello says that if President Peixoto is given command of the Brazilian army after the inauguration of President Motis he will endeavor to continue the revolution. The revolutionists are in a better shape peculiarly now that ever. Reports from all over Brazil report the people are for revolt.

Danger From Catarrh. The most important feature about that very common complaint, catarrh in the head, is its tendency to develop into some other more serious and dangerous disease. The foul matter dropping from the head into the bronchial tubes or lungs is very likely to lead to bronchitis or consumption, that destroy which causes more deaths in this country than any other disease. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do but little good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla. The powerful action of this medicine upon the blood expels every impurity, and by so doing cures catarrh and gives health to the entire organism.
