St. Johns and Bloomer Girls Play Before Large Crowds - Eastport

St. Johns, 8; Bloomer Girls, 5. Several thousand St. John people yes Several thousand St. John people yesterday saw the St. Johns play the Star Bloomer Girls of Boston, in games which were very tame. The afternoon game was something of a farce for the local boys let things slide along and made no attempt to play, while the girls, who play well enough for girls, do not put up any sort of ball. There is only one on the team, Miss Neilson, pitcher who has ability and her work pitcher, who has ability, and her work is indeed creditable. She is all over the field, has her eye on every play, and puts more snap into the game than all the rest of the team combined. As Louis, 4. a pitcher she has any amount of speed and all sorts of shoots, while at the bat she is easily the leader. She made in the fifth inning a drive which should have been a three-bagger, but because she hesitated when leaving second base she was put out on third. In a later inning she hit a fly to right field which called forth prolonged cheers.

There is one other player among the girls, Miss Day, who is lively enough, but has not nearly the ability of Miss Neilson. The team yesterday afternoon was composed of six girls and three men, the latter being Dodge, McKenzie and Record, none of them much good.

McKenzie piled up three errors in the first inning and got another one later. McKenzie pheu of the control of the control of the visit of a total of eleven errors for the visitors, the three male players made six and the girls five. The St. managed to make seven errors.
