THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH, ST. JOHN, N. 7B. MAY 17, 1902.

At present the staff must tend both medical and surgical cases. There is now no children's ward. There is something in the belief that the discipline is lax, and that is natural from the small staff of officials. The Halifax hospital is the only one he knows of besides St. John where the staff is paid. The pay here is $120 for two months' work, but the men here all do four months' work for the same may. The pay received is no remuner all do four months' work for the same pay. The pay received is no remuneration for the work done, and he knew that many of the staff were willing that it should be dropped. The daily average number of patients is about 78 and the cost per year is about $22,000. Halifax, with 158 beds and an average of about 128 matters arent $77,000 bet year on its 138 patients spent $57,000 last year on its hospital. The amount spent on this hospital is a long way off of being adequate. The $120 paid the staff here is on account of having to wait on private patients. At Halifax the staff get something for waiting on the sailors. Doctor MacLaren said he favored keeping children by themselves. There are two morgues. One is a very good one. Regarding the statement that he had worn operating clothes in the wards, Doctor MacLaren said there was nothing extraordinary in that, it 138 patients spent $57,000 last year on its in the wards, Doctor MacLaren said there was nothing extraordinary in that, it could be seen in any hospital. He denied that he had ever gone through the wards with clothes bespattered with blood, although he may have been in the ward with white coat and trousers with a little blood thereon. Only once or twice had be been in the ward in his operating. with white coat and trousers with a little blood thereon. Only once or twice had he been in the ward in his operating clothes. Always in the hospital he wears a long white coat. Witnesses may have failed to distinguish between that and his operating clothes. It had been said by one witness that a patient was so frightened that she declined to undergo an operation. That was incorrect. He declined to operate on the patient because of her condition.

To the chairm.

To the chairman-He did not consider To the chairman—He did not consider the present management as good as it ought to be. To improve the ventilation he would change a number of the rooms that are too small. There should be hardwood or composition floors throughout. He did not know if $20,000 would cover the changes necessary, but it would do a great deal

There was so much that was good to eat and drink at that gathering that he did not remember what was said of the hos-pital food. All kinds of complaints were made about the staff and the visitors and they retorted by complaining about the commissioners. He very seldom found it necessary to make any complaints. He had not given the question of im-provements any consideration. He thought the monthly commissioners were qualified to discharge the duties required of them. to discharge the duties required of them. He did not think a permanent superintendent with large powers and a medical staff would be any improvement over the present system, and it would be encumbering the house with officials. The complaint that the house staff is overworked is no more true now than it was 20 years

The chairman-The trouble, Mr. Trueman, is that you do not seem to recognize a true conservative when you see Mr. Trueman-Not in this instance

"That man is the true conservative,
"Who lops the mouldering branch away."
The chairman here expressed the opinion that as much had been got from Docfor Christie on this line as was possible, but Mr. Trueman did not think so, so the chairman said: "All right, you can go ahead; I was only giving you a little elderly advice."

Doctor Christie said the staff has talked these matters over and never could agree on them. He had not agreed that it was wise to go to Boston or New York for trained nurses. He was always ready to let the commission select the medical superintendent and the staff, and did not want to interfere with them in any way. The staff had no right to tender advice. He did not think it right to put the staff under the direction of a layman. staff under the direction of a layman. The hospital needs some modern apparatus, including a good sterilizer. He favored the admission of sailors and sick immigrants. Lots of worse people than sailors go to the hospital. If the hospital had an honest purchaser it made no difference whether the supplies were bought by contract or otherwise. He had often by contract or otherwise. He had often examined the food. Had sometimes seen poor butter. The general condition of the food was good. He had seen bad butter, but never sour bread.

To Mr. Coster—He had tended Miss Gooley, the patient whose case brought this inquiry up. She had strangulated hernia. He assisted Doctor White in an operation, and then the woman became his private patient. He believed she got a fair amount of attention—the usual attention. He knew that Mrs. Trombly was permitted to remain with her sister. He told Mrs. Trombly that she could not have alcohol, because it was not necessary, but he gave permission for her to bring it in. Miss Gooley was then on bring it in. Miss Gooley was then on liquid diet. Mrs. Trombly was a most troublesome person, constantly finding fault and making suggestions. He tolerated her, hoping that the sister would recover and that there would not be any fouble. The complaints of Mrs. Trombly were most unreasonable. He had told her not to administer certain foods to her not to administer certain foods to her sister, but she persisted, and on one occasion gave her peptonized food that was old and stale. Once Mrs. Trombly complained that her sister's wound had not been dressed for 24 hours. The nurses said the wound was dressed every two hours as directed, and the patient corroborated this. Miss Gooley never believe either she or Mrs. Trombly had any just ground to complain. Mrs. Trombly never complained of her sister getting sour gruel. He did not know of Mrs. Trombly taking broths. She may have complained of the hospital broths. being greasy. She was constantly making complaints. He would not have atrended the patient at a private house and put up with the annoyance Mrs. Trombly gave him. She continually asked if certain foods were not desirable. She fed tain foods were not disagreed the papers had the effect of making patients where the food independent. Find tain foods were not desirable. One led like to stay right on the some patients like to stay right on the giving the oranges if it had mot come out of the wound. Miss Gooley was quite out of the wound. Miss Gooley was quite capable of making complaints. Doctor Christie did not know anything about the first of the session.

Personally I see no objection to admitting seamen. Anything that will increase the efficiency of an institution is advantageous. In my opinion the priv-

Dr. William Christie.

Dr. William Christie, swora, said he had been on the hospital staff for 22 years. He knew nothing of the finances of the hospital. He believed there had been some complaints during the last two of three years of the discipline, but had not make any complaints himself. The discipline was far worse 15 years ago than in late years. I sometimes have to take patients to my own house to treat them as some appli ances can't be taken to the hospital and they are not to be had there. Have they are not to be had there. Have spoken to commissioners on the matter. There is considerable offensive odor about the building from closets, etc. There is no ventilation, but rather a system of draughts. I think material improvement might be made in this respect for a small sum. I do not think visiting physicians should get paid for gratuitous patients, but should be allowed to charge throse able to nay.

> To Mr. Coster-I made requisition for nstruments, but never heard of it after. Have got instruments upon solicitation rom time to time. Two years ago made requisition, but they cut the list down and I finally got none of those mentioned. Failure to get instruments might be construed as refusal.

hose able to pay.

Dr. T. D. Walker was recalled at his own wish to give views on sailors' admission. Had never found them as a class undesirable—always amenable to discipline. Have never found much loathsome disease among them. It would be detrimental to the hospital to do away with their admission. There is less dan ger of smallpox from sailors than tramp that come in otherwise over the border As a rule they have to pass through quar antine. There might be some receiving or isolation room where suspects could be kept till infection is determined.

at present house surgeon in hospital. Since February 1 various improvements have been made in the grounds. There are ashes and refuse dumped on the north side of the hill facing the City road. The epidemic hospital has had new plumbing, floors fixed up, etc. In the main hospital the elevator has been repaired, bu aside from painting and cleaning no radi-cal repairs have been effected; several new beds have been put in the female ward. No additional orders have been received as to discipline since February

1. The lack of discipline had nothing to do with spread of smallpox. I don't know there is lack of discipline. Have seen the doctor from epidemic hospital in the main building, but don't know that any one objected. I did not object, as he took all necessary precautions.

To Chairman Tuck-I can't say whether smallpox in the general hospital was the result of communication with the epi-demic. I think it may have come from the epidemic hospital, but can't say posi-tively. Dr. Morris had special garments which he removed after visiting the epidemic. I do not think Dr. Morris car ried smallpox into the general hospital-I never felt his presence was attended with risk. To Mr. Trueman-I find that there i not much effort on my part to maintain discipline. The appointment of a sup ntendent would be good, but not ficiently good over the present system management to warrant the change. It the house physician was permitted to at tend to medical duties without having other things to do it might be better, but it is and has been done, though under amplained, and Doctor Christie did not strain. I have sufficient time to attend to the dispensary and my other work. To Mr. Coster-I think all monies are judiciously expended. I have the same quality of food as that given to patients. Have never found bad bread, but once or twice the butter was not up to the mark; that was easily remedied. In regard to attention of nurses I have seen no laxity

Dr. James Christie.

Dr. James Christie said he was one o the consulting staff of the hospital. Do not think one house physician sufficient to say a superintendent should be appoint ed to carry on the executive work ed. On about four occasions have heard superintendent of nurses .- On two to diet by my patients. The serving was not what it should have been.

To Mr. Coster—I have been connected with the hospital ever since it was built I never saw certain kinds of vermin in the hospital. Knew they were brought there, but everything possible was done to get rid of them. I don't see anything to prevent the kespital being managed by commissioners and think they have done their duty with the means at hand.

Dr. J. F. Macaulay said he had been left undone for the time being as there It might be possible that medicine would be overlooked. I always made it part of my duty to see that nurses were attending to the patients. I sometimes made when they were noticed. I found the diet first-rate. I have had complaints on a few occasions. I found the butter and meat both off color upon two or three occasions. (The statement made by Lec Atcheson was brought up.) To Mr. Coster—I gave him an anesthetic five times and each time he grew more active and convulsive. There was no undue violence used. I may have said fix him, but only ancidental to preparing him, or might mean that I would soon have him feady. I remember Mary Gooley. Her sister, Mrs. Trombley, made frequent complaints. I do not think complaints had any justification. The matron said Mrs. Trombley was was bothering the nurses in every way, but we tolerated har on ecount of knowing her sister's illness
