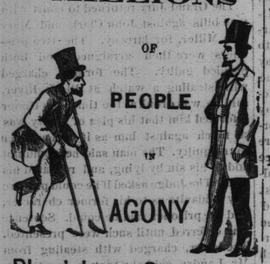
MILLIONS OF PEOPLE IN AGONY



Physicians Cornered!

I SUPPOSE there is not in the whole of physician's experience, anything in human suffering which calls forth his sympath, and pity, to such an extent, as to witness the excruciating pains of a poor mortal, suffering from that fearful disease,

RHEUMATISM!

Heretofore there has been a considerable diversity of opinion among medical men, as to the true character of this disease. Some locating it in the fibrous or muscular tissues of the system, and others viewing it as an acute nervous disease; but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is admitted that Rheumatism can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating such poisonous matters from the blood, by a constitutional internal remedy. We feel confident that none will feel better satisfied, and rejoice more, than the conscientious physician, who has found out that a cure for this stubborn disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a gentleman of standing, and high respectability, and well known to the Canadian public, cannot fail to satisfy all that the

is a wonderful medical discovery.

MR. ISAACSON'S ENDORSATION.

MONTREAL, 21st March, 1874.

Messrs. DEVINS & BOLTON,

Dear Sirs,—I, with pleasure, concede to the agent's wish that I give my endorsation to the immediate relief I experienced from a few doses of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure, having been a sufferer from the effects of Rheumatism, I felt now, after taking two bottles of this medicine, entire free from pain. You are at liberty to use this letter, if you deem it advisable to do so.

I am, sirs, yours respectfully,

JOHN HELDER ISAACSON, N. P.

FURTHER PROOF.

I AM ANOTHER MAN!

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have suffered for fifteen months with Chronic Rheumatism, and could not find any relief, after trying every medicine that I saw advertised to cure it, until I was told about the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have used three bottles of this valuable remedy, and now can say that I am another man to what I was. I would advise anybody suffering with this terrible disease to try it, and see if it does not do the same for them that it did for me.

Yours,

JAMES L. EAGLES,
Indiantown.

BARNES' HOTEL,
ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1873.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in stating that I put every confidence in your Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have suffered for the past two years with Rheumatic Pains, during which time I have had the advice of some of the most prominent medical men in the Province, and experienced no relief, until I tried the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have now taken three bottles, and I feel greatly improved, and now am confident of a permanent cure.

Yours truly,

JAMES O'BRIEN.

There is no medicine which so promptly relieves the depressed vital action, restores the general and local circulation, allays the pain, dissipates the congestion, prevents inflammation, and restores the healthy action as the

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE!!

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists through Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock ask him to send for it to

OSBORN

First, as Usual!!

THREE years in succession. The Osborn was awarded at the Great Central Exhibition Guelph, 1874, the first prize for Family Sewing Machine, and second prize as Manufacturing Machine. The new patent shuttle makes the Osborn unrivalled. In this Shuttle there is not the annoyance that is experienced in all other Shuttles; there are no holes in the Osborn Shuttle, and the thread can be put in its place in an instant. The Tension is self-regulating, which cannot be approached for smoothness.

MOUNT TABOR.

On Tabor's height a glory came,
And shrined in clouds of lambent flame,
The awe-struck, hushed disciples saw
Christ and the prophets of the law:
Moses, whose grand and awful face
Of Sinai's thunder bore the trace,
And wise Elias, in his eyes
The shade of Israel's prophecies,
Stood in the vast mysterious light,
The Syrian noons more purely bright,
One on each hand—and high between
Shone forth the god-like Nazarene.

They bowed their heads in holy fright,
No mortal eyes could bear the sight,
And when they looked again, behold!
The fiery clouds had backward rolled,
And borne aloft, in grandeur lonely,
Nothing was left "Save Jesus only."

Resplendent type of things to be!
We read its mystery to-day
With clearer eyes than ever they,
The fisher saints of Gallilee.
We see the Christ stand out be ween
The ancient law and faith serene,
Spirit and letter—but above
Spirit and letter both was Love,
Led by the hand of Jacob's God
Through wastes of old a path was trod
By which the savage world could move
Upward through law and faith and love.
And there in Tabor's harmless flame,
The crowning revelation came.
The old world knelt in homage due,
The prophets near in reverence drew,
Law ceased its mission to fulfill
And Love was lord on Tabor's hill.

So now, while creed perplex the mind
And wranglings load the weary wind,
When all the air is filled with words
And texts that ring like clashing swords,
Still, as for refuge, we may turn
Where Tabor's shining glories burn—
The soul of antique Israel gone—
And nothing left but Christ alone.

The Way to Get Along.

Twenty clerks in a store, twenty hands in a printing office, twenty apprentices in a ship yard, twenty young men in a village—all want to get along in the world and expect to do so. One of the clerks will become a partner, and make a fortune; one of the compositors will own a newspaper, and become an influential citizen; one of the apprentices will become a master builder; one of the young villagers will get a handsome farm, and live like a patriarch but which one is the lucky individual? Lucky? There is no luck about it. The thing is almost as certain as the rule of three. The young fellow who will distance his companions is he who masters his business, who preserves his integrity, who lives cleanly and purely, who devotes his leisure to the acquisition of knowledge, who gains friends by deserving them and who saves spare money. There are some ways to fortune shorter than this old, dusty highway; but the staunch men of the community, the men who achieve something really worth having, good fortune, good name, and serene old age, all go in this hard, dirty road.

New Year's Resolutions.

It is easy enough to satirize what are called "New Year's Resolutions"—which are too often of so frail a texture that the temptations of the New Year's Day on which they are made sweep them away as though they were gossamer, and which seldom are kept until the summer solstice. But is not life a perpetual succession of fails and failures, which are only susceptible of being partially redeemed by ever recurring regrets and consequent new up risings of resolve and effort, just as our walking is a succession of efforts to recover ourselves from falling? Those who argue from human weakness against the renewal of high purposes are false philosophers and guides, whose teachings, well followed, would lead to utter demoralization and the despair of complete fatalism.

Life is a constant conflict, and requires constantly new impulses of high sentiment, manly courage and self-renunciation. We cannot stand still; we cannot make over the past. Fortunate will those be who out of all that there is wrong or wretched in the past, can get the stimulus to sting sloth into activity, to drop lower pleasures that the higher may find welcome in the soul, to substitute work for idle dreaming, and make believe. It is never too late to use the past in this courageous and self helpful style, "to snatch victory out of the very jaws of defeat," and to begin the work of life with fresh aspirations and chastened ambition.—N. Y. Mail.

Cupid in the School-Room.

School subjects are always discussed as pertaining to the head or intellect, solely and purely. Whereas, in every school where the sexes are co-educated—and there should never be any other—there are always, in fact, two schools in operation; one kept by the visible and ostensible teacher—of the head, and the other of the heart—Cupid keeps it. And it is in his department that the lesson is learned that in after life is to prove of infinitely greater importance than all the learning of the schools, whether it be remembered with pleasure and profit or with pain and a sense of great loss. There be frost bitten bachelors who have taken to cheap whiskey and five-cent cigars for consolation, and may be maiden ladies who have long since found comfort in the milder cup that "cheers, but not inebriates," who will say: It had been better for us if this thing were not true, and who are trying through the length and breadth of the land to dispossess Cupid of his stronghold in the schoolroom.

The learned essays now being written to oppose the co-education of the sexes, are written mainly by frost-bitten bachelors or ancient maiden ladies whose hopes have sailed to sea in a tea-cup, and are not expected to return, all because they failed to graduate from Cupid's department in the days when they went to school together. They cannot bear to see John and Julia sitting together declining nouns and conjugating verbs, lest they should, accidentally, of course, rap their knuckles together and so convey the electric spark of love. The logic of the separate course is, the tendency to the emotional or sentimental must necessarily interfere with the growth of the intellect, and it is desired to grant the intellect a monopoly of the privilege of growth and development during the school period. There is no doubt, however, that nature designs her human offspring, like all the rest of her children, to grow and develop in all departments of being harmoniously and at once. To claim for the intellect a monopoly of the privilege of growth and development during the school period is no less absurd than it would be to stop breathing while eating, in order to grant the stomach a monopoly of pleasurable function, or to tie up the arms that the legs might have a better chance to grow during the play period. This is what is proposed by the advocates of separate education of the sexes: to suppress and rob the social and sexual elements of the students' being to expand and enrich the intellectual parts.—From the Phrenological Journal.
