

- canal (q.v.), 373, 390-91, 428-34, 436; joint development of Great Lakes-St. Lawrence basin, 436-39; pollution, 368, 447-48—see also International Joint Commission; International Waterways Commission
- defence: interest in Empire war establishment, 231; in Canadian naval units for Atlantic and Pacific, 243-44; in any British boycott of aggressor states, 247; naval vessels on the Great Lakes (q.v.), 818-40—for US and the war see below
- diplomatic, consular and other representation: Consul, Consul General, Ottawa, functions, 6; protocol, 11; to discuss tariff schedule, 771; at reciprocity talks, 783, 785, 788 (see also Foster, J. G.); Consul in Montreal, 820-21; Ambassador in London, 402, 412, 414, 418-19 (see also British Ambassador, British Embassy, Washington); Canadian representation in Washington, 24-35, 168-69; Allied missions in US, 33, 59, 138, 168-69—see also New York.
- fisheries (q.v.): arbitration of North Atlantic fisheries controversy, 449-61; procedures for considering validity of Canadian fisheries legislation, 461-81; wider privileges sought for US fishermen in Canadian and Newfoundland ports in return for removal of duty on fish, 485-98; US-Canadian conference on outstanding fisheries questions, 499-504; mutual relaxation of restrictions, 505-7 —for fishing rights off B.C. coast see Hecate Strait
- migration: Indians, 324, 610-11, 613-14, 617, 664; control of Japanese emigration to US, 612, 737, 745-46, 748; non-admission of US labourers at B.C. ports of entry, 629, 648
- Panama Canal tolls (q.v.), 840-48
- pecuniary claims (q.v.), Canadian, British and Newfoundland, 799-818 passim
- pelagic sealing (q.v.), 507-90 passim
- President of the United States (see also Harrison, Benjamin, 1890-94; Roosevelt, Theodore, 1901-9; Taft, William Howard, 1909-13; Wilson, T. Woodrow, 1913-21): German armistice terms, 214, 217; boundary waters, appointments to International Joint Commission, 372; fisheries arbitration, 457; fisheries regulations, 469; pelagic sealing, 513, 573; immigration, 745; tariff, choice of scale to be applied to Canada: interpretation of powers under 1909 Tariff Act, 756-58, 764; message to Congress, 763-64; aid of Tariff Board in reaching decision, 764-70; talks with Fielding on avoidance of tariff war, 771-76; extension of minimum scale to Canada, 777; President's views on Tariff Act, 824 (see also Tariff Act, below); reciprocal trade agreement with Canada, request for negotiations, 775, 792, 794; procedures and timetable, 776-79; degree of formality, appointment of negotiators, 780-84, 788; special trade arrangements needed, 787, 789; implementation of reciprocity agreement, 794; delay in Congressional action on reciprocity, 798; pecuniary claims, 805; limitation of naval vessels on the Great Lakes, 824-25, 828; and of naval construction on the Lakes, 825-26, 831; resistance to pressure aimed at relaxation of restrictions, 828, 834; Panama Canal tolls, 847-48, 848n—see also preambles of all treaties and conventions signed by US representatives
- reciprocity agreement with Canada—see reciprocity agreement, Canada-US
- Secretary of State, State Department—see Sherman, John, 1897-98; Hay, John M., 1898-1905; Root, Elihu, July 7, 1905-Jan. 27, 1909; Bacon, Robert, Jan. 27-Mar. 5, 1909; Knox, Philander C., Mar. 5, 1909-Mar. 5, 1913; Bryan, William Jennings, Mar. 5, 1913-June 9, 1915; Lansing, Robert, June 23, 1915-Feb. 12, 1920; also State Department (US); United States, Tariff Act, 1909, 1913; also subject headings of interest to US throughout volume
- Tariff Act, 1909, 756-78; scale to be applied to Canada under Payne-Aldrich tariff, issues raised by preferential clauses of Canada's agreements with France and other countries, 757, 757n, 759-61, 763-66, 768, 771, 773; and by US agreements with certain states, 760-61, 765; Canada leaves decision to US but will retaliate if maximum tariff applied, 758-59, 761-62; existing Canadian duty on US products relatively low, 762, 764; US attitude affected by rivalry with Canada in French markets, 763; threat of application of maximum scale to Canada, 771-72; President's attitude, 756-57, 824; US Tariff Board's search for a formula to permit applica-