The Latest Method Treatment is a heaven-sent boon to nervous sufferers. There are scores and hundreds of persons suffering from severe nervous disorders resulting from overwork, hurry, worry, business and domestic cares, bereavements, dissipation, etc. To them life is one continual round of misery, while peace, comfort and happiness are impossible. They suffer from headache, loss of memory, mental depression, strange sensations, dizziness, disordered restlessness, irritability, constant indescribable fear, forebodings, sleeplessness, weakness, trembling, heart palpitation, cold limbs, utter fatigue and exhaustion. In this class of cases almost immediate relief is afforded by my treatment. The use of narcotics and poisonous stupefying drugs is done away with, and permanent cures accomplished.

WHAT WOMAN WEARS

The Long Skirts—A Three Piece Suit.

Smart Traveling Gown.

The long skirts are so full and so many yards of material unconfined at the bottom that nothing short of manila rope will support the volume of some drapery and keep it hanging in graceful flaring folds upon the ground. This rope is concealed in a silk casing attached to a flounce trimming of the drop skirt. Softer cotton ropes are also used, as well as cotton cording of a thick sort. This necessity bids fair to be the subject of further exploiting, and a new style of under support may be introduced later.

The dark blue velveting "three piece" suit illustrated is trimmed with fancy blue braid. The blouse of dark blue chiffon has a deep yoke and straps of velveting edged with taffeta. A taffeta belt is worn.

A directoire hat, with its high stiff box crown and its dashing brim curves by long odds the smartest for fall, well made women, although it does often add too much to their height. If this style of hat is not too exaggerated in size they may be worn becomingly by women anywhere from five feet five to six inches, as the gain in height then is of advantage according to the present ideal of figure lines. Women who are undersized should shun them, as they impart a certain burlesque air that is most objectionable.

Many of the smartly set up among the young contingent are traveling in tweed skirts and open three-quarter coats, severely plain, but on the best tailor lines. The shirt waists worn with them are dainty white lingerie affairs, very high in the neck, with prettily trimmed sleeves that show at the wrists. Chain bracelets and a short neck chain in gold workmanship of the finest kind are quite a good style of ornamentation, look very fit and are becoming. With such a suit is worn a French sailor. One black straw hat of this shape was trimmed with two narrow crown bands, one of bronze galloon, the other of dull silver. On the left was a small black and white bird. Most of the well dressed matrons are traveling in tailor made middie blues or heavy, silky mohairs. Dark blues, browns and sober grays prevail. Strap trimming is quite in the best taste. The utmost simplicity is observed on the smartest suits.

For traveling gloves white wash kids seem the favorites for day journeys and tans for longer ones. Both kinds are worn large enough to be an easy, roomy fit, while the kid should be heavy enough to prove serviceable. Upon economical grounds tan gloves are the best selection.

An idea much exploited is that of using colored leathers, soft and fine, for trimming. When cut into strips, or small figures, they are applied and embroidered upon lace shoulder collars, stocks, yokes, etc. Red upon pongee suits is very telling, so are the beige tans. Small plaits and fine shirtings, strapped with these leathers, are novel trimmings.

Tailor made voile suits of a quality as firm as canvas have become favorites with the best tailors. Lace waists are worn to match the browns and grays—in fact, any color—of the voile.

Fruit Straps For Food Drinks.
Fruit sirups and shrubs are healthful drinks for hot weather. As they are all made in much the same way, the right proportions of juice and sugar will answer for every variety of fruit, the rule being one pound of sugar to each pint of juice. Let this come to a boil and keep in it self sealing jars or bottles. A little lemon juice added to sweet insipid fruits is an improvement, or several kinds of fruits may be combined when extracting the juices, or again two or more kinds of sirup may be blended when serving. Allow two or three tablespoonfuls of the sirup to a glass of water.

Stewed Blackberries.
To a pint of water add half a pound of sugar and a few bits of lemon peel. Pick over the blackberries and place in it, letting them simmer for a short time. Then pour off the sirup, let it come to a boil and strain over them.

House Work

Need Not Wear Her Out

The drudgery of house work seems never ending to tired-out, dispirited women who suffer from female complaints or irregularities. Inflammation and ulceration of the womb and ovaries cause fearful bearing down pains which are aggravated by much standing on the feet, and lifting necessary in house work.

But let no woman despair of relief from this torture. That famous tonic reconstructor of diseased or disordered female organism, has cured more than five hundred thousand American Women, and it will cure you. When monthly periods are painful or irregular, when backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring back health, strength, and happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It Made Me a Well Woman

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than doctors or medicines. I suffered for four months with suppression of monthly periods. Headaches were a daily occurrence. Pains in my back and limbs made it hard for me to attend to my domestic duties.

The medicines I had taken did not help me, and I was in misery and despair until one day I read an account of your Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and I thank God that I did so, for it not only regulated my monthly periods, but made me a well woman.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Where Others Fail

The Wishbone.
The wishbone in birds is called by scientists furcula and is in reality the union of what are in man the two separate collar bones. These in the birds receive the brunt of the strokes of the wing that turn the creature in its flight. Few realize the strength of stroke of the bird's wing. It is said that a swan has been known to break a man's leg by a blow of its wing, and in like manner the wing beatings of the larger birds are dangerous if they strike the head or face. If, therefore, a large bird is in the habit of making sudden turns to right or left in its flight it must be fitted with a wishbone competent to withstand the great strain of the wing stroke on one side, with no special action on the other side. For this reason we find in the eagle and like birds of quickly turning flight a furcula that is a perfect Roman arch, widely at variance with the Gothic arch, which is the shape of the wishbone of our common fowls. The eagle's furcula is a solid rounded arch, everywhere equally strong and not developing those points of weakness that make war sport of breaking the wishbone possible.

Necessity of Exercise.
The variety of beneficial motions that may be had in muscular exercise is almost unlimited. It is interesting to notice that children, when free to play as they choose, instinctively make so many different motions that they seem to use all their muscles. When people's ideas of propriety shall have become what they should be grown people can exercise like children without being considered daff or silly. Many of the performances of children seem to older persons purposeless and useless.

There is such a state of ignorance and prejudice that many people of considerable education lack very much of having a proper conception of the relation of exercise to life and health. One may learn and practice with benefit a system of exercises, as many do, without having the acquaintance with the principles involved that makes possible the greatest benefit and interest and enjoyment. There is an important advantage in knowing the reasons for the various movements and what muscles make each movement and how muscles use bones as levers.

Dying of Hunger.
London, March 28.—Starvation threatens Armenia, according to a cable message from Van Ried yesterday by the Bible Lands or Turkish Mission Aid Society to the local agents of the society. The message reads: "Suffering from poverty. General food supply in many villages nearly exhausted. Deaths from hunger beginning."

Confirmed Bishop of Montreal.
Rome, March 28.—The Pope held a secret consistory yesterday without creating any cardinals, merely preconizing bishops. Monsignor Zefirio Raciotti was confirmed as auxiliary bishop of Montreal.

Have You One of Those Can't Taste, Can't Smell Colds?

If you have you had better get rid of it immediately. If you don't, that terrible and disgusting malady, Catarrh, is sure to take hold of you and make you miserable, and an object of repugnance to your friends. The best and quickest cure for your cold is

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.
It contains all the virtues of the Norway Pine Tree, combined with Wild Cherry Bark and the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Mr. Harry Mosher, Mosher's Island, N.S., writes:—"We have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in our family for the past six years, and have always found it a reliable remedy for the cure of coughs and colds."

Many cases of substitution have been brought to our notice. Do not be humbugged into taking any other pine syrup which unscrupulous dealers say is just as good.

Dr. Wood's is the original, put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark, and the price 25 cents.

YOUR EYES

Are surely worth more to you than the price of a pair of glasses. If you value your eyes have them properly fitted at once. Delay and your eyes may become so bad that no glasses will help them, then you will regret it the rest of your days. This is true every word of it. Do not trust travelling Opticians and peddlars to fit you with glasses. They get your money and you get the experience. This we know because it is told us by people that come to us for glasses after having bought of the Spectacle peddler. Our Optician is a graduate of the Detroit Optical college and is fully equipped with all the modern conveniences. We will examine your eyes free of charge, at the sign of the Big Clock.
