The night was fine, and This doubtless was owing to the fact that although the weather was fine, the roads were bad, and the night was dark, which prevented the people of Balmora and Shannonvale from being present The Church was not so well lighted, and the decorations were not so nice as on

The music, however, was excellent, and the visitors (of whom there were many present,) were delighted with it This was not surprising, as the choir under the direction of Mr. Baker did themselves infinite credit in their render ing of Battman's Mass in C. Hymns appropriate to the season were sung during the Mass. Miss Christy Ann McIntyre presided at the organ, and Miss

Agnes Savoy sang the principal solos. The efficient state of the Choir reflects credit on Professor Baker, to whos careful training the members are indebtso acceptably before the public.

There was an unusually large number of communicants who partook of the election of the new Board of directors Blessed Sacrament. Hence, Father Boucher must have been greatly fatigued, and did not preach. But at high Mass on Christmas day he preached a very appropriate and affecting sermon in English, taking his text from the second charter of the Gospel by St. Luke.
