A WRECK STREWN COAST. INGONISH, CAPE BRETON, October 13. -The heaviest gale since August, 1873, was, experienced here yesterday. There are no wrecks in the vicinity but much damage to fishing boats has been done. A large unknown vessel is wrecked at A large unknown vessel is wrecked at the Graphin beach, near Cape Dauphin; one is also reported moth but no particulars of either are available. Great damage was done to roads by the flood. The brig "Marie Anna" Capt. Pye, which left on Thursday for Cow Bay, patted her chains at the latter place and drove ashore. She will likely become a total wreck. A despatch from St. Anns, C. B. says a three masted schooner is ashore of the entrance to that harbor, and that the crew are reported drowned. Schooner "Fear Nor," from Sydney for Halifax, coal laden, was dismasted and put back to Sydney. The schooner "L. N. S.," from Sydney for Halifax, coal laden, was dismasted and put back to Sydney. New Glasgow, N. S., October 15.—
The four men who remained on the wreck of the barque "Melmerby," were rescued yesterday, the rescue being the result of great gallantry on the part of some of the shore people. All day Monday a crowd on the beach watched the men on the wreck, but they were powerless to effect or even attempt a rescue in the heavy sea then on. Two men remained on the shore all the night and occasionally waved lanterns to show the occasionally waved lanterns to show the sailors that they were not forgotten. Yesterday ar immense crowd assembled but it was noon before it was considered possible to make an attempt at rescue. Then a boat was lauched with a volunteer crew consisting of Capt. P. Graham. David Fraser Williams, Dr. McLean, of New Glasgow ; James McGlashen, of Big island, and a Descourse man. The little crew fought a terrible battle with the waves, but eventually reached the wreck One by one the exhausted and benumbed men were lowered into the boat, and
