

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH
Works With a Will When You Use

Old Dutch Cleanser
Largest Safer Can, with Full Directions, 10c

Burglars Kill Three

IN NEW YORK RESTAURANT.
Thieves Use Cleavers to Batter Their Victims to Death in Cellar.

New York, April 5.—Otto Zinn, a restaurant keeper, and two of his employees, a porter and a cook, were killed early today in Zinn's restaurant, supposedly by burglars. Zinn and his wife who slept over the restaurant, were awakened by a crash down stairs and the proprietor went down to investigate. When he failed to return his wife called a policeman, who found the restaurant keeper and his two employees dead in the cellar.

In the cellar was found also a safe which had been moved from a place on the floor above and evidently thrown down stairs. It had not been broken open. Beside the dead man lay three bloody cleavers with which the burglars had battered in their victims' heads. The police found also a revolver and a set of burglars' tools. The porter and the cook had been surprised and killed when they came down to get coal. The proprietor apparently had surprised the thieves at work trying to open the safe.

The two employees were Roman Hald, porter, and Steven Bovorsky, cook.

Get Them Out!

MR. DEALER.—You want your goods moved off your shelf quickly, do you not? There are two things that will move them for you—

ADVERTISING and QUALITY.
First Advertising, that people may learn of the good points of the article for sale, and may be led to try it; then Quality, that having tried they may find it all they expected and more. Buy BEAR BRAND RUBBERS from us, and you get both. We advertise all the time. The quality of the rubbers is excellent. Therefore BEAR BRAND RUBBERS will have but a short stay on your shelves.

Consider these points well and place your order with

Cleveland Trading Co.
3pr3,5t St. John's.

Aristocrats in War.

The Prussian family of von Buelow, has announced the death of ten of its members in war. It is a striking sacrifice, but it probably can be matched in Great Britain, Austria, France or Russia. Among the most impressive records of the war are the pages of portraits published by the British warblers of officers who have died on the field.

What ever sinister part kings and

At the House.

FRIDAY, April 9.

Several questions asked the Minister of Public Works had to remain over as the Minister was absent. To the questions asked by Messrs. Lloyd, Coaker and Grimes the replies were that answers were being prepared.

Mr. Kent asked the Prime Minister whether a loan or financial assistance had been received from the Imperial Government, what amount, for what purpose, what terms and conditions, also, if any expenditure or appropriation had been made therefrom and for what amount and for what purposes and to lay upon the table of the House all correspondence in relation thereto.

The Prime Minister replied that the Imperial Government had loaned One Million Dollars to the Colony for pressing emergencies at the same rate of interest they were paying themselves. The temporary loan of $250,000 from the Bank of Montreal for war purposes had been repaid out of the Imperial War Loan.

In reply to a question of the Leader of the Opposition as to whether the 1914 Railway Loan had been raised, the Prime Minister said that it had not been raised and that when he was in London in June last our financial agents advised that it was in the best interests of the Colony to issue at 4 per cent instead of 3½. He had obtained a temporary loan of a million dollars.

Mr. Lloyd asked for any recent correspondence from the agents as to the markets, but the Prime Minister said there was none.

Mr. Coaker asked why mails should not be brought by couriers from Millertown to the logging camps.

The Colonial Secretary replied that he was in sympathy with what he considered a most desirable improvement. He had taken the matter up with the Postmaster General and that in the near future he hoped to get the lumbering men intercourse with civilization.

In reply to a question of Mr. Coaker, the Colonial Secretary said that £7,500 was paid per trip for conveying the mails twice a week from King's Point to Three Arms.

The Bills relating to the Employment of Loggers; the Sale of Fish on the Labrador Coast; the Amendment of the Customs Act; the Naturalization of Aliens; the Administration of Local Affairs; the Seal Fishery and Patent and Trade Marks were read and deferred till next sitting.

Mr. Stone rose to make a few observations on the Speech from the Throne. The speech, he said, was very remarkable, not for what it contained, but for what it did not contain. He was in sympathy with the provision being made for those who suffer on account of the war. He was made to believe at the War Session last September that the deficit up to June 30th last was $237,000 while as an actual fact we were facing a deficit of $300,000, a difference of $73,000 but of course that is considered a flea bite by the present Government.

Continuing he alluded to the financial condition of the Colony as being in a deplorable state, because of the wanton and extravagant expenditures of the Government gave a scathing criticism of the incomplete branch railways, which are still incomplete, despite the millions of dollars spent on them. The speaker pointed out that desolation prevailed all over the country owing to lack of employment, and he hoped that means would be adopted to relieve such a state of affairs. He regarded the big proposed Labrador industry of the Government a bad omen.

Mr. Targett. He endorsed the sentiments of the previous speaker regarding the war. When he heard the Speech from the Throne he thought Newfoundland would never see a poor day again. Last September he heard the Prime Minister say that the country was in a prosperous and flourishing condition. The accounts show that the country is in financial difficulties. He is bewildered what to believe, having had the former information from a man 30 years in public life. He compared a country to an individual, who lives beyond his means must eventually get into the hole. He said that last year's codfishery was poor on the whole so that with an apparently bad codfishery this season it looked to him as if all and sundry would have to die of starvation, as the duty on goods was continuing to increase but that according to the Government the revenue was diminishing. In conclusion he hoped that in future that the House of Assembly would open in the winter instead of in the spring.

Dr. Lloyd was the next speaker. In rising he said it was not very often he had occasion to congratulate the Government and the Prime Minister, but now he was very pleased to have an opportunity of congratulating both. When he entered the House on opening day he was struck with the decorations. The flags of our Allies stimulated us with the thoughts of the solidarity of Entente; and the draping of the Speaker's Desk with the Union Jack was a fitting emblem of the fight Britons were waging for free institutions against German Militarism. Our Colony had done much and was doing much, but he detected a note of sorrow in the Speech of the Premier in his regret that Newfoundland was handicapped in doing more by the great expenditures and obligations incurred during the past five or six years. He had in mind the fact that the Government had not attempted recruiting for the Naval Reserve by evoking up the pay to that of the Newfoundland Regiment. In his big hearted way the Premier had promised that a Newfoundlanders should man Dreadnoughts, and although but a few were doing this, the bulk of our Reservists were at the post of honour in a position of the greatest danger in sea down with mines and overrun with German submarines doing their duty bravely and some sixty had already given their lives for their country. It was a pity the efforts of Newfoundland was so handicapped with debt. True it was the Prime Minister had declared he could and would defend everything his government had done in the past, but still he had offered the apology that they could not be foreseen and that they had not been as economical as they might have been. It seemed to him, however, that the Prime Minister was preparing for some coming events. They had the unusual spectacle of the Chairman of Committees seconding the Address in Reply. His speech had been eloquent, hearty and patriotic. He was proud to be the son of a fisherman and had dilated at length on the honourableness of a man's calling in life. The occasion was as apt as the selection. The Prime Minister had in good time selected an undertaker to perform the obsequies of the coming disintegration of his government. The disease was financial overexpending and high living. The announcement of the deficits did not come as a surprise to the Opposition as it had been foretold by them long before the last session, and also at the last session. It will be remembered the remarkable budget that preceded the election of 1913, which was regarded by the Opposition as the herald of financial disaster. Subsequent events have proved the truth of the charges with the duties taken off, the revenue was impossible to meet the expenditure, and instead of the surplus of $50,000 foretold by the Hon. Minister of Finance, the country was faced with a deficit of some $300,000. Last Spring's addition to taxation was estimated by the Finance Minister to bring in $240,000, which was nearly $600,000 out in his 1913 Budget forecast. The estimates cannot intelligently be discussed until some full financial information is forthcoming and in this respect he would strongly express the desirability of furnishing the information as speedily as possible.

Referring to the Railway Loan, Mr. Lloyd dealt with the folly of the Government in persisting in 1914 in the matter of the Loan at 3½ per cent. At the introduction of the Act he Opposition pointed out that such a loan could not be raised as no Colonial Government had effected a loan at that rate, but no attention was paid to their warning. The result was that the Loan at 3½ per cent was not raised and the Government was consulted with the agents of the colony, he was informed that the Loan Act was useless, and the loan could not be put on the market. Quite recently the Canadian rates were raised to 4½ on 50, as against 4 per cent on twelve months ago. The whole showed a lack of financial foresight. He then dealt with the recuperative powers of the country, citing as instances the rebuilding of the city after the fire of 1892 and the Bank Crash of 1894, and said that therein lay the hope of the country getting out of the state of financial disaster into which it has fallen.

The Premier replied. He took a very optimistic view of the financial situation, and was inclined to think that the previous speaker was a prophet of evil, who at the same time he wished to congratulate him on the frank and open manner in which he had attacked the Government. He even ventured to say that something would be learned from the remarks of the Opposition. He then went on to say that for the past thirty years he had been listening to the same old tune with regard to the deplorable condition of the country. He referred to the improvements effected by the Government since coming into power, and referred to the present great depression as only a temporary setback caused by the war. He said the Government had a mandate from the country to build the railway. He assured the House that the Hon. Minister of Finance will bring forward a statement that will be satisfactory. He concluded with a reference to the increase of the Colony's imports and exports, and said that the outlook for Newfoundland was a bright one, that Peace will bring reaction, and surpluses will come back to the country. He reiterated what Mr. Lloyd had said regarding the country's recuperative powers and said that now it was only bending to a storm that was not of its own making.

Mr. Morice was not surprised at the attitude of the Premier regarding the finances of the Colony, as he had always looked upon the Premier as the father of optimism in Newfoundland. While the Premier thought Mr. Lloyd pessimistic and termed him a prophet of evil, he was of the opinion that Mr. Lloyd might in the future be regarded as the true prophet of the House. He then criticized the various points of the Premier's speech. With regard to the increase of the exports of the country and the proportionate increase of the imports, which was cited by the Premier as an instance of the country's prosperity, Mr. Morice said that it must be remembered that when the imports are equal to the exports the country is spending every dollar that it can earn, and so cannot be prosperous. The country has no reserve, a fact due to faults in the financing of the Colony's affairs. The Government had evidently closed their eyes to the philosophical fact that cycles of depression must come to every country, and this lack of foresight in the matters of public expenditures, is the mistake that is now around the neck of the Colony. Borrowed money sunk in unproductive works is no evidence of prosperity. He held that the purchasing power of the Colony, part from purchases on borrowed money was due mainly to increases in the value of our staple industry and not to remunerative returns from railways or other large enterprise, which had so far remained unprofitable. He disagreed with the Premier that when the war is over trade will recover rapidly. The universe cannot respond to the loss of war for a long time to come. Tens of thousands of men at the front and engaged elsewhere in the production of munitions, and now being shot away, will be thrown out of work. While the large borrowings for war will affect the money market and leave behind a great burden of interest to be borne. It was wiser to prepare for the stress of the future. Optimism was as dangerous as pessimism. The future called for economy in managing the affairs of the state. The House adjourned at 6 p.m. until 3 p.m. on Monday next.

Drooping, Tired, Weary, Try This Remedy.

Don't give in to that depressed, played out, don't care sort of feeling. Better days are ahead. Cheer up, do as the other fellow is doing, tone and strengthen your blood, and you'll feel like new again. You'll dance with new found energy once you use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They will quickly fill your system with energy, bring back the old appetite, restore that long lost complexion, make you feel like a kid again. A wonderful medicine, chucked full of health bringing qualities. You need Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Get a 25c. box to-day at any dealers.

Orangemen at Long Pond and Foxtrap

Editor Evening Telegram:

Dear Sir,—I should very much like to have the pleasure of seeing my letter in print. This is my first letter, but seeing things in such a favourable stand, one can do nothing but look on and admire the energy and pluck of one's friends. The two places I shall particularly refer to are Long Pond and Foxtrap.

On December, the fourth our Loyal Orangemen started to build a hall at Foxtrap, much to the surprise of everybody, but the greater surprise followed after when on the 24th ult., a tea was held in it. The amount raised was $155.60. Since then at times the men have been giving it the "finishing touch." Indeed they can well feel proud of their hall as it is a splendid building. But did they give up then? Oh, no! On Easter Monday about 200 Orangemen met at the hall and paraded through Long Pond as far as Mansuels. They then retraced their steps to the Methodist Church at Long Pond where a splendid address was given by Rev. Nurse. The bandsmen who came from Topsail worked had but with success as many melodious tunes echoed we are ever grateful. After leaving the Church the society marched to the hall followed by number of men, women, and children. The kind ladies said a very dainty tea was prepared, which we hope all did justice. After tea was served to all visitors, the young people indulged in a trip of the light fantastic, till the wee small hours. The amount made was $115.00.

Too much praise cannot be given to the people of Long Pond and Foxtrap, and may they long continue to work together and be crowned with success is the sincere wish of ONE WHO WAS THERE.

Western Fishery

A PHENOMENAL SUCCESS.

The Bowring coaster Prospero, which arrived back from the Westward yesterday afternoon, brings word that the codfishery on the western banks continues to be a phenomenal success. All the vessels have done extremely well. Some of the high liners of the fleet have already landed at their respective home ports over two thousand qtls. each. The weather of late has been favorable to operations, but the scarcity of bait has a material effect. The bankers say they never saw fish as numerous as they when the bait is not to be had the fish is not. About a dozen schrs. visited St. Mary's Bay during the past week for bait and after getting a supply proceeded to the banks to resume the voyage. Halibut on the Rose Blanche and Burgeo grounds are reported to be scarce. By the Prospero a consignment of fresh frozen codfish and halibut came for the local market.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DYPH-THERIA.

A Coat

you will be glad to own we can make for you. You needn't be ashamed of the style, the quality nor the fit, if you come here to get an overcoat or a suit that to your measure.

WE TAILOR

We cater to high-class trade, yet our prices are always reasonable. Come in and let us take your measure.

J. J. Strang,
Ladies' and Gents' Tailoring.
153 Water Street, - - St. John's.
mar31, eod, 1t

New Easter MILLINERY

— AT —

TEMPLETON'S.

(See Window.)

CHILDREN'S HATS Specially Attractive

Owing to hard times we have marked our Goods Very Low.

Evening Gowns at Reduced Prices!

While many of the larger social functions are—on account of the war—conspicuous by their absence this season, there are never-the-less many smaller affairs which take place where a really smart gown is not only admissible, but really necessary.

¶ We are offering a limited number only of Evening and At-home Gowns and Blouses, in combinations of Silk and Net, Satin and Lace, Charmeuse, Ninon, Voile, etc.—in very beautiful designs and in different sizes. These Gowns and Blouses are copies of French and American models, and, owing to the depression in trade, are to be sold at heavy reductions.

¶ This week presents an excellent chance for you to purchase a dainty Evening Gown for the coming Easter festivities at actual cost.

U. S. Picture & Portrait Co.

Great Reduction in Prices.

The Big Furniture Store

Visit our Home Furnishing Department and examine for yourself our excellent qualities in all lines shown there: BRASS and WHITE ENAMEL BEDSTEPS, BUREAUS, WASHSTANDS, TOWEL HORSES, MATTRESSES, BOLSTERS, PILLOWS, CUSHIONS, SIDEBOARDS, BUFFETS, TABLES, CHAIRS, BOOKCASES, HALL STANDS, CAKE STANDS, COFFERS, LOUNGES, FAHNER-SUPERS, OAK CHAIRS, And a splendid variety of WICKER, BAMBOO and RATTAN GOODS.

CALLAHAN, GLASS & CO.,
DUCKWORTH & GOWER STREETS.

Advertise in the TELEGRAM

Are you Anaemic?

Our blood is composed of red and white corpuscles—the red to nourish the body, the white to fight disease. In Anemia, the red corpuscles are more or less deficient. Thus the blood cannot properly sustain and nourish the body. The eyes become dull, the face white, and a feeling of intense weakness pervades the whole system. There is nothing so effective in Anemia as 'Wingarnis.' Because 'Wingarnis' foods the body with new, rich, red blood, which gives a sparkle to the eyes, brings the roses into the cheeks, and gives new vigour, new vitality and new life to the whole body.

Begin to get well FREE.

'Wingarnis' is made in England and you can obtain a liberal free trial bottle—sent airmail—strong enough to do you good by sending 6 can stamps to my postpaid to COLLEMAN CO., Ltd., Wingarnis Works, New South, London. Recd. stamps can be obtained from all leading Stores, Chemists, and Wine Merchants.

WINGARNIS

Agents for Newfoundland—
Messrs. MARSHALL BROS., Water Street, St. John's, Newfoundland.

915 modights, Cir-meter, all
ent. See t Garage. and avoid
by Ste-
$800.00
$725.00
ng's Road

ohn.
air sales the past
as we are selling finances the past TOP are our two rs for these from reshwater to Sig-r leader; in fact is the only real er lb.
EY, 7c. lb.
your free Cou-
at Xmas.
ANT ROAD.

are going to ertain. Per-perhaps in a it.

hy it's wise to
that our stocks
get more style than a narrow low—you may pection of the ASES.

LEANING!
selected stock of PERS.
Prices range from
vas, Linoleum, Hearth
EW.
toes!
ality of es,
d.
a potato eater potatoes I've quick.
RAY.