TO-DAY'S Messages.

10.30 A.M.

IN COUNCIL ON DEFENCE.

General Joffre and General Castellano came in from the front to-day to attend a meeting of the Superior Council of National Defence at which President Poincaré presided.

REDMOND'S VIEWS ON THE EMPIRE.

LONDON, To-day. Winston Spencer Churchill considered Redmond has rendered an immense service to the Empire and that Britain owed a deep debt to the National Party for their exertions in the present struggle, the first struggle, said Churchill, in which Ireland has been a valiant friend on our side. He would feel the same reluctance, he declared, in praising the Irish question against Redmond's opinion as he would feel against the South African question. The whole future of Ireland, he continued, depends upon two men—Redmond and Carson. There is no difficulty they cannot surmount if they act together. It is understood Churchill has decided to resume politics.

READY FOR FUTURE NAVAL RAIDS.

LONDON, To-day. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, in a letter to the German raiders on east and south coasts, for shadows changes in the disposition of Britain's naval force which will likely prevent future German raiding squadrons from escaping severe punishment. Balfour says the net results of such hasty attacks on unfortified towns are singularly futile. He expresses the opinion the Germans have made their last raid because having duped the Irish rebels to their destruction by a promise of a serious attack on Britain they made a show of fulfilling their engagement by bombing Lowestoft and Yarmouth for thirty minutes. He adds it is not an experiment, as far as I can judge, they would be well advised to repeat. This would be true even if distribution of our naval forces on east coast was undergoing no alteration. In the earlier stages of the war, a consideration of strategy required our battle fleet in the North Sea, but with the progress of the war our maritime position has improved. The submarine portion of the Grand Fleet is now available in growing numbers for coast defence, and what is even more important, the increased strength of the great fleet will enable us to bring important forces south without impairing any naval preponderance elsewhere.

CONFERENCE BETWEEN REDMOND AND CARSON.

LONDON, To-day. Irish politics are again in the foreground as a result of the recent rift and the consequent convergence of sentiment between Redmond and Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Leader. The conference of these leaders yesterday on the disarmament question is to-day's significant debate in the Commons on the possibility of bringing Ireland within the purview of Conscription Bill have given this matter still greater importance. It looks as though Ireland's unfortunate experience might become the indirect means of adjusting in a manner, satisfactory to all parties, the difficult Home Rule problem, which has been hung up during the war. It is understood the manifesto to the Irish people has been agreed upon, but the contents of the Manifesto to the Irish people have been withheld until Thursday, so as to enable a simultaneous proclamation throughout Ireland. Various rumors are current in the lobbies of Parliament to the effect that the Irish situation which is expected to-day.

VILLAGE BOMBARDED.

PARIS, To-day. A despatch to the Havas Agency from Athens says the village of Mayada was bombed yesterday by German and Bulgarian who threw 30 shells, causing much damage, including the destruction of a number of houses. The reason for the bombardment is not known. The civil population is protesting.

SHORTAGE OF MEAT IN BERLIN.

LONDON, To-day. A Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says the police in Berlin searched the shops and dwellings of butchers to-day for hidden stocks of meat. The result showed a supply of meat in Berlin sufficient for only a few days. All butcher shops including Wertheim's large meat market have been closed. The best quality of meat now costs 24 marks per kilo of 2.20 lbs.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST GUSTAV.

STOCKHOLM, To-day. The Aftonbladet to-day prints the rumour of an unsuccessful plot by Socialists and Anarchists against the life of King Gustav.

MARRIED ENGLISHMEN MUST RETURN.

LONDON, To-day. All married Englishmen eligible for military service who are living abroad, who ordinarily are residents of Britain must return to England forthwith to report for military duty. This announcement was made in the Commons yesterday by Sir George Cave, Solicitor-General.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVEN OF CREW SAVED.

BANTRY, To-day. One hundred and seven members of the crew of the steamer Cymric arrived here this evening. Several suffering from broken limbs were sent to hospital. The officers of the Cymric declare the vessel was torpedoed without warning. A submarine was seen but disappeared immediately after firing the torpedo. The Cymric although badly damaged made way for some hours but finally sank. Many of the crew arrived here were poorly clad, they were provided with clothing and given all care possible.

BUDGET OF WAR NEWS.

LONDON, To-day. The French and German forces, fighting northwest of Verdun, for the moment at least, are deadlocked, the Germans being unable to advance further and French attempts to expel the invaders from captured positions being unavailing. To the east and northeast of Verdun, where respectively violent infantry attacks and bombardments characteristic of the recent fighting, only intermittent cannonading is now going on. The only infantry engagement reported anywhere where along the French front was launched by the Germans against the French trench west of Hill 304. Northwest of Verdun the French brought into play their curtain of fire and the Germans were unable to debouch. The shelling by the Germans and Russians at Ikaskvill Bridgehead on the eastern battle line, which has been in progress for many days, still continues. There has been artillery activity on various other sectors of the Russian front, but no infantry manoeuvres of importance are reported. The Russians in Armenia have put down with heavy casualties the stubborn Turk attack southwards and driven the Ottoman forces from their defences in the mountain chain. In addition, the Russians are operating westward on the front of the Persian frontier towards Bagdad and have dislodged the Turks from fortified positions and driven them further westward. Gordia Bridgehead on the region around San Martino in the Austro-Italian theatre have been heavily bombarded. At San Martino, Vienna asserts, the Italians suffered heavy losses through an explosion of a mine. Bombardments featured the fighting in other sectors of this front.

RUSSIANS IN FRANCE.

MARSEILLES, To-day. The second instalment of the Russian contingent for France landed here to-day, after a long and arduous journey approximately 17,500 miles from Moscow to port Dalny, Manchuria, overland, then by water transport. The total number of Russian troops now landed and supplied with French rifles and being prepared for service on the French front is estimated at something under 10,000. Since the foregoing was written, three additional contingents of Russian troops have landed. On Marseille, on the basis of the size of the first two contingents, something like 25,000 Russians are now in camp or in the field on the west front.

CHURCHILL AND THE IRISH OFFICE.

LONDON, To-day. Col. Winston Spencer Churchill is the latest prominent person mentioned as a possible successor of Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland. Churchill's speech in the Commons, says the Daily Graphic, sounded like nothing so much as a feeler for the office of Irish Secretary. Churchill is an exception among who would possibly be in his element at the Irish office in the coming era of new reconstruction.

12.30 P.M.

TURKISH CONSIDERATION FOR PRISONERS.

LONDON, To-day. According to a despatch from the "Eye Witness" with the British army in Mesopotamia, Khalil Pasha, the Turkish General, to whom the British under General Townshend surrendered, showed the utmost consideration for his prisoners.

PENETRATED SEVENTY MILES.

PARIS, To-day. Belgian forces have penetrated 70 miles into German East Africa, according to an official statement, issued to-day by the Belgian War Department at Havre.

1.00 P.M.

TURKS TALK OF PEACE.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch to the Morning Post from Saloniki says, messages from Constantinople state the Grand Council has held in the Sultan's Palace at Dolma Bagtche, to consider terms of peace. Preachers in the principal Mosques are urging people to "Prepare for liberation." A secret committee is forming, and grave events are anticipated.

GERMANY TALKS PEACE.

LONDON, To-day. "There is no doubt whatever," says the Daily Telegraph, "that during the last few days a definite attempt has been made by the German Government to impress neutrals with its strong desire for peace with a view to inducing them to come forward as mediators and break up the alliance of its enemies by getting orders to conclude a separate peace. For the present it would not serve any useful purpose to disclose the facts in the entirety, but it can be said that the Kaiser has personally sent a letter to President Wilson in which appealing him as the greatest neutral authority, he expresses the necessity of urging the western powers not to prolong indefinitely what seems to him their quite useless efforts of revenge. Moreover in the capitals of several of the neutral countries, the German representatives have been particularly insistent on their assurance that if given fair chance Germany would do her best to conciliate her present opponents."
