Henderson Holds That Britain Must Decide the Method of Punishment

Z. R. 3 Makes a Successful 33 Hours Flight—Chief Accountant of Home Bank Convicted.

HENDERSON'S VIEWS.

PERPLEXING.
Some perplexity has been created here by the views expressed in Geneva by Arthur Henderson, British Home Secretary, at the Conference of the Committee of the League of Nations dealing with the Disarmament Protocol, on the subject of the obligations of the nations to apply sanctions against transgressors who resort to war in breach of the arbitral machinery to be set up to replace war. The British Home Secretary's opinions, given in Committee on various occasions, have been of an apparently contradictory nature, and he has expressed views here recently which apparently are not in accord with all his previous remarks. Just when everyone present at the meeting of the Committee in Geneva yesterday thought the proceedings were closed for the day, the French representative, M. De Jouvenal, startled the meeting by contending that each State should supply the League of Nations' Council with whatever force the Council might require in enforcing sanctions. Signor Schanzer, former Foreign Minister of Italy, immediately opposed this view on behalf of the Italian Government. He contended that this was putting the League of Nations' Council above the State. Arthur Henderson supported Signor Schanzer's view and remarked that yesterday he was fighting against those who were weakening the protocol, while to-day he was opposing those who wanted to go too far. He expressed the hope and belief that loyal and effective co-operation in support of the covenant could be confidently expected from every member of the League, otherwise their membership would be a fraud and delusion. What we wish to proclaim to the world, Mr. Henderson said, is that we are determined to join hands loyally in effectively punishing aggressors. The extent of our co-operation in this must depend upon the actual circumstances, not only with regard to the aggression but also with regard to the geographical position and the resources of the individual States. It would be of no use to bind oneself to do a variety of things which may not be required. Mr. Henderson said he wanted to make it unmistakably clear that Great Britain could not depart from this position. He insisted that it must rest with the British Government to determine by what method in its judgment it could most effectively punish an aggressive nation. The Council of the League of Nations could make recommendations to procedure, but the government of the country was entitled to use its discretion if it thought it had a better and more effective way of an aggressor in keeping with the discharge of its obligations.

TRAIN DERAILED BY BANDITS—FIFTEEN DEAD.

ODESSA, Sept. 26.
Fifteen persons were killed, twenty seriously hurt to-day when the Moscow-Odessa express was derailed by bandits about 300 miles from Moscow. Five women were among the fifteen killed. The bandits disconnected the rails which caused the locomotive and ten coaches and baggage cars to jump the track. With the exception of the three last coaches the entire train which was travelling at a high speed was completely wrecked, the engineer, conductors and passengers being instantly killed. The rails were torn up for a distance of nearly a thousand feet. The bandits escaped.

STORM DAMAGE IN ITALY.

ROME, Sept. 26.
Great damage is being wrought by floods, following in the wake of a storm, throughout Northern Italy, especially along Lago Maggiore, and the Upper Adige River. Overflowing rivers and streams have caused landslides, have carried stones and trees and have crushed numerous bridges and houses.

GALE SWEEPING COAST OF FRANCE.

LA ROCHELLE, France, Sept. 26.
A gale is raging along the Atlantic Coast of France devastating gardens, damaging houses, and keeping fishing boats in their harbour. Many vessels have failed to make port and it is feared that some have been wrecked.

CHANG DECLARED A TRAITOR.

Peking, Sept. 26.
A proclamation declaring the Manchurian Military Director, Chang Tso Lin, a bandit and traitor, and offering a reward to anyone who "will turn him over to the Government" was issued to-day at the headquarters of Wu Pei Fu, Commander of the Central Government Armies proceeding against the Manchurian chief.

SMITH AGAIN NOMINATED.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 26.
Governor Alfred Smith was to-day unanimously nominated by the Democratic State Convention. The nomination came after a great demonstration lasting fifteen minutes, during which the delegates paraded and danced through the hall.

THE FIRST CONVICTION.

TORONTO, Sept. 26.
Ocean G. Smith, former Chief Accountant of the defunct Home Bank of Canada, was found guilty on the count charging neglect in connection with the filing of returns to the Government, in the decision announced by County Judge Emerson Coatsworth this morning. Sentence is deferred for one week. This is the first verdict in several charges to be tried against officers and directors of the Home Bank, which collapsed August 17th, 1923.

IN THE AIR FOR 33 HOURS.

FRIEDRICHSHAVEN, Sept. 26.
The Z.R. 3 returned to this city and landed safely at 6.30 o'clock this evening, after an entirely successful flight of thirty-three hours over Germany and the Baltic.

FREIGHTER WITH CREW OF 25 BELIEVED LOST.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.
Hope that the whaleback freighter Clifton, with a crew of 28, survived the storms of Sunday and Monday on Lake Huron, practically was abandoned early to-day. The only hope held out was by the Progress Steamship Company, owners of the vessel. Other vessel men believe that the boat more than eighty hours overdue at Detroit, has sunk with her crew and cargo of stone.

AUSTRALIA GETS TARIFF PREFERENCE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.
Ratification by the Canadian Parliament will be necessary, it is stated here, before full effect is given to the trade treaty concluded between Australia and Canada. Provision has already been made by Parliament, however, for giving Australia a tariff preference on dried currants and raisins by Order-in-Council, and it is on her dried fruits that Australia has sought trade preference more particularly. The present customs duty on dried currants and raisins is per pound one-half cent preferential, 2-3 cent intermediate, and under legislation passed in 1922, the Government may by Order-in-Council admit these dried fruits free under the British Preferential tariff and impose a duty of 3 cents per pound under the Intermediate and general tariffs. Australian dried currants and raisins, if the Order-in-Council is passed, would therefore be admitted free while the customs duty on dried raisins and currants coming from countries outside the British Empire would be raised from 2-3 cents to three cents a pound. The bulk of dried raisins and currants now entering Canada come from countries outside the Empire.

The Orphans' Collection

As will be seen from our advertising in this issue, the Belvedere Orphanage collection will be taken up to-morrow. It need scarcely be said that this is a most deserving charity, as those fatherless little children housed at that institution are absolutely dependent on this collection. The Sisters who so wisely administer the affairs at Belvedere have nothing personally to gain in any way. They have given up their lives to the education of little ones sorely afflicted in their early years, and they only ask now for the bare necessities of life to sustain the little charges under their care. Moreover, they are unable to make any public request. They are more or less isolated from the public, who until recently knew very little of the great work accomplished at Belvedere. It therefore behoves us all to lend a very material, helping hand to-morrow, and we have no doubt but that our Roman Catholic citizens will be well to the forefront as usual and that the announcement in Monday's papers will be a record collection.

Striking Matches All Day Long

WAS MAN'S WORK MANY YEARS.
London, Sept. 13.—Tom Tutbill, who worked for 36 years in a London match factory striking matches to test their quality, died recently from blood poisoning contracted while at work. His job, one of the queerest in King George's Kingdom, was created for him after he had suffered from infantile paralysis, and needed an easy task.
All day long, day after day, year after year, Tutbill went on with his work, scratching all his matches by hand and passing judgment upon the quality of each fresh consignment from the workrooms. Some years ago he became eligible for a pension from his company but he liked his work and would not give it up.

Come and see the British Empire Exhibition pictures and hear Miss Cherrington's lecture, Spencer College, 7.30 Saturday night. Admission 50 cents, children 20 cents. Tickets at door.—sep26,21
