Rev. John Jacobs, the Missionary to the Indians on Walpole Island.

Rev. John Jacobs died at his resilence on Vidal street, Sarnia, on Monday morning, at the age of 52 years. Mr. Jacobs was born at Cape Crocker, n the Hudson Bay district, removing with his father to Ontario when quite young. His father was a clergyman of the Methodist Church, and the son chose the same calling, but decided to enter the Episcopal Church. He was educated at Huron College, London, Ont., and was ordained by Bishop Cronyn on July 18, 1869. He was first appointed missionary to the Sarnia and Kettle Point Indians, building a brick church on the former reservation, and a frame one on the latter. He worked most faithfully and successfully amongst these charges for nearly seventeen years, when, upon the death of the Rev. Mr. Jamieson, he was appointed missionary to Walpole Island in 1886. There he has carried on a highly successful work, and was greatly beloved by all his people. He collected nearly $1,500, with which a handsome parish church was erected about three years ago, and he was contemplating the erection of another church on the island, but his health began to fail him about a year ago, and he was obliged to give up active work in December last, since which time he has been confined almost entirely to the house. Mr. Jacobs trans-lated and published a Church of England hymnal in the Ojibway language which is used extensively throughou Ontario, Minnesota and the North-west. He was beloved and respected by all who knew him, and his demise will be a severe loss to all, and especially to the Walpole Island mission He leaves a widow and two children a son and a daughter, to mourn his

British Trade.

Two Years. A General Increase All Round, But a Decrease in Britain's Imports from the Colonies Excepting Canada-Interesting Figures Relative to Business With Many Countries.

The Board of Trade Journal, just is sued, makes the following comparison of the foreign trade of the Kingdom of the years 1895 and 1896. As regards the value of merchandis imported from and exported to each foreign country and British possess during the year ending Dec. 31, 1896, and bound Nixon in $100 to appear when | it appears that, taking first the im port trade with European countries, the greatest increase is found to have been with France, the imports of which, valued at £47,470,583 in 1895, rose to £49,973,850 in 1896, an increase of £2,503,267. Belgium comes next with £17,545,169 in 1895, and £19,225,420 in 1896, an increase of £1,710,251. There is a notable decline in the value of imports from Russia. All other European countries show increases, with the exception of European Turkey, £83,934,874 in 1896, as against £70,001,-The import trade of the United King dom with the African continent has, on the whole, declined, notably with regard to the West Coast, Cape Colony and Madagascar.

With regard to imports from Asiatio countries in 1896, as compared with 1895, the trade with British India has declined in value £1,250,558, and with China (exclusive of Hong Kong) there is a decrease of £360,961. There is a decrease in the value of the imports from Australasia for 1896 of £3,926,300, as compared with 1895. On the other hand, the imports from the Dominion of Canada, valued at £12,798,469 in 1895, rose to £16,138,758 in 1896, an increase of £3,340,289.
