Grain deliveries have been moderateby good this week, wheat and oats forming the bulk of the receipts as We see no change in the valof wheat since a week ago, but in wheat the feeling is easier, and the price somewhat lower. A few sales were made at $1 25, and the lots sold at that price were extra good samples of white wheat. The bulk of sales ranged from $1 20 to $1 23.

Peas are a little easier, selling at 60c to 70c per 100 pounds. The demand

Corn was scarce and sold at 45c to 60c per 100 pounds. Barley was quiet; only a few loads sold, and they were nearly all feed

Buckwheat was quiet, and the demand steady, at 45c to 50c. No rve offered. Beans sold very slowly, at 25c to 40c per bushel-the latter price was paid for hand-picked only.
Eggs were active, at 12c to 13c by the basket, and 14c to 15c by the sin-

Butter sales were made at 15c to 16c mixed, $3 90 to $4 15. for pound rolls, by the basket; there was a good demand. Meats were steady, at 3 1-2e to 5c for beef; 5c to 6c for veal, and 8c to 9c for lamb. Receipts were good. Dressed hogs have been coming in sparingly lately, and sold all the way from $4 to $6, according to quality and

Live hogs brought $3 to $4 25. The hide market advanced 1-2c per pound. There was also a wider range for sheepskins, the extension being upwards, the best selling at an advance and about 14 mileh cows and springers. Export cattle—There was good demand and prices were a little better. Deal-Hay sales ranged from $7 to $7 50.

BANKER IN TROUBLE.

Writ Against the Proprietor of a Private Institution at Tiverton.

Toronto, March 8.—A dispatch from Tiverton, Ont., says: A writ for $812 was issued from the office of Mr. H. P. O'Connor, Q.C., of Walkerton, yesterday, against J. C. Graham, proprietor of the private bank of this town. The writ is issued at the instance of the private of Crustal City Jane the trustees of Crystal City Lodge of Oddfellows, an incorporated society, having a branch at Tiverton. Three of these gentlemen made affidavit, testifying that to the best of their knowledge and belief Mr. Graham has left the country to the detriment of his reditors, and ask that his property be creditors, and ask that his property be attaqued.

Many people believe that the absence of Mr. Graham is only temporary, and that the affairs of the bank will turn out to be in much better shape than anticipated. There are no charges of wrong-doing, the opinion being general that the Formosa and Mildmay failures have caused a serious run on the institution at a time of the complete; a carnival of bargains.

OCEAN CABLE MAKING.

He Who Does the Jointing Must Keep His Hands Almost Dainty. Jointing is one of the most difficult and delicate operations in Atlantic cable making. To see a joint made I climbed, on one of my visits to Woolwich, up into a swallow nest of a cabin, fastened in some mysterious way to the side of a wall of the 'core' tankroom. In the center of the little room sat an imposing individual, whose charcteristics seemed to be rotundity, profuse sweating and absolute cleanspace with him. A few simple iron tools and several big gas jets served as his equipment. First the assistant out off a few inches from the two ends, pared down the gutta percha in such a way as to leave two or three inches of copper conductor uncovered, beveled each end with a file, laid them together, soldered them, and then wrapped the joint tightly for the distance of half an inch with fine copper wire. This wrapping insures a connection in case the soldering should some time break. The other man so far had done nothing.

It was explained that in the work of jointing the copper he was not allowed to share est it should "spoil his hands." His duty was to joint the gutta percha, an operation in which much depends on delicacy of touch. When the copper joint was done, the core was passed on to him, and he proceeded to pare down the gutta percha until he had perhaps a foot in all to work on. He then heated the gum on each side with a spirit lamp, and with his fingers worked it down until the copper was all evenly covered. His next step was to build up the insulator. One after another strips of gutta percha, which had been heated at the end, were applied, wound around the core and carefully worked and molded the length of the wound. Should a bit of dust, an air bubble, a speck of moisture, be left in the insulator, it would give trouble later. Hence this heating and kneading and caution against dirt. Experience has shown, too, that no machine will pack the gutta percha at this critical point so perfectly as the human fingers. They alone can feel when the work is progressing properly and is finished satisfactorily. Hence the care to keep them always sensitive, to prevent their becoming callous by rougher work.

LET HIS LAUGH LOOSE It Proved an Ice Crusher and Captured the Frosty Audience.

"There's nothing in the world more contagious than good, hearty laughter," declared the manager who had a rough and tumble time of it in his earlier days, but is now on the warm and sunny side of Easy street.

"One time down in southern Ohio I struck a town that was really virgin soil for the theatrical missionary. There wasn't a minute of daylight that our posters were not surrounded by a crowd with mouths and eyes wide open. When night came, the hall was jammed, but it couldn't have been a less responsive audience if the pen-alty for laughing had been solitary imprisonment for life. The show wasn't half bad, and yet we couldn't get a hand or

"While the people on the stage were guying the crowd and talking about the comforts of the arctic climate, who should appear at the window of the box office but big Bill Meeker, that I used to know at home. He was a traveling man, and with him was Shorty Tompkins, just as big and just as jolly.
"'For heaven's sake, Bill,' I broke out,

'get right in there, you and your friend. Set that laugh of yours to going. Cut loose for all you're worth and see if you can't prove an ice crusher.' No sconer were they seated than Bill caught a joke, opened a mouth big enough to catch base-balls and let forth a roar that dropped icicles from the eave troughs. Shorty joined in, and the players couldn't escape the contagion. Pretty soon some of the old farmers broke into a cackle, and inside of three minutes it was simply pandemonium. People laughed till they were sick. Every act was encored. It was 1 o'clock before we could get the curtain down, and we had over 300 invitations to return,"— Detroit Free Press.
