death the loss of Kief, and at three or four other locations in Southern Russia. The Paleolithic man of science may well be the antediluvian man of Genesis.

"In Asia, the rapidity of the subsidence spoken of, though so great that man could not adjust himself to it, might still have been so slow as to be almost imperceptible. But toward the close of this period there were 120 years (specially mentioned in the Bible as a time of warning) in which the movement was accelerated to such a degree that the rising waters gave point to the preaching of Noah. During the last 371 days of this period the catastrophe culminated in the facts specially related in the book of Genesis, when the reverse movement began and cleared a space near Mount Ararat on which the ark could rest, and where the race could make a new start under more favorable conditions."

NOW THE SUNBONNET

Smart Girls Affect an Up-to-Date Head
Covering That Is Picturesque.

New York, July 22.—After the various sorts of summer girls, the dainty girl, the white duck girl and the golf girl, comes the newest of all—the sunbonnet girl. With her curls flying about her sunburnt cheeks, her face never looked half so bewitching as when thus quaintly framed.

For sailing, tennis, golfing and, indeed, any outdoor sport, the summer girl dons this new and favorite head-covering down sailboats and to enjoy whatever fun there is in store for her.

She may tie the strings of her old-fashioned headdress under her chin or leave them fluttering to the breeze, just whichever happens to be the fancy of the moment, for the sunbonnet girl is one who indulges every whim and is in for a most enjoyable time.

She doesn't wear her smart little bonnet to keep off tan and freckles, for these trifles do not bother her. Half the time the bonnet is left hanging down her back, or she swings over her arm, and again may be carried by some member of the sterner sex, who flutters about the belle of the season as the proverbial moth.

Bonnet is much easier to carry than hats, and one doesn't run the risk of spoiling the freshness, as most of them will stand being laundered time and again.

A little ducking or tossing about on a tennis court doesn't hurt them in the least, and besides this advantage sunbonnets are extremely becoming to most faces.

For the same reason that they are popular with the maidens they are popular with the maidens' escorts. It is tantalizingly hard to catch a glimpse of bewitching white teeth, brown eyes, or blue, when hidden behind the ruffles that make so persistent a screen.

The golf sunbonnet, with its bright red gorgeousness, makes a charming bit of color on the smooth green links, and these bonnets are usually rather small, so as not to interfere with one's range of vision. There is a small scoop coming low over the face, but the sides are shown back to the lower part of the crown, the whole outside edge being finished with a single medium size ruffle bordered with lace.

The simplest bonnets, however, are the prettiest and the most serviceable. For when driving off one doesn't want to be bothered with too many frills and ribbons.

For sailing there is no head covering quite so adaptable as the quaint little sunbonnet. It is less heavy on the head than a sailor hat, and its shade protects the eyes from the glare of the sun and sheen of the water. The sides are shown back to the lower part of the crown, the whole outside edge being finished with a single medium size ruffle bordered with lace.

is shirred on wires to form old-fashioned puffs, while around the face is a full, lace edged, double ruffle. In the pink mull, with tiny Valenciennes edging this bonnet is decidedly attractive, and almost any face that can boast even a small claim to beauty looks stunning when framed by these soft billowy ruffles, especially if they are of a becoming color.

PICNICKED AT PORT STANLEY.

McCormick Employees Enjoy Their Thirty-First Annual Outing.

The employees of the McCormick Manufacturing Company held their 31st annual picnic on Saturday. Between 300 and 400 of the employees and their friends went to Port Stanley, where the afternoon and evening were enjoyably spent. The men and boys all wore old boys' hats, and each wore with his badge a bit of black ribbon, of respect to the memory of Thomas Hutchinson a fellow-employee, who died Saturday morning. A good programme of sports and games was carried out. A baseball game was played between the teams captained by W. Corcoran and J. McPetrie, the former winning by 9 to 6. Only one accident occurred, Robert Tait falling in the married men's race and spraining his ankle, an injury which will lay him up for nearly a month.

The various sports were as follows: Running race, open—W. Corcoran 1, J. McPetrie 2, L. Barton 3.

A RECOGNIZED REGULATOR.—To bring the digestive organs into harmony with the rest of the system is the aim of physicians when they find a patient suffering from stomachic irregularities, and for this purpose they can prescribe nothing better than Parnele's Vegetable Pills, which will be found a pleasant medicine, and the virtue of bringing the refractory organs into subjection and restoring them to normal action, in which they can perform their duties properly.

Jury trials are going out of favor in England. Out of 494 cases in the King's Bench at the present Trinity session 182 are to be tried without a jury.

VERY MANY persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.
