

Rebels Capture Colombian Towns

Colon, July 7.—A revolution has broken out in the Republic of Colombia, apparently against the Government of Rafael Reyes, the president of the republic, who is now in London.

This news was brought into Colon by the British steamer Median, which has just arrived from Savanilla, Barranquilla and its sea, Savanilla, seventeen miles away, are in the hands of the revolutionists.

Private letters received here from Colombia report that the town of Santa Marta also has fallen to the rebels, but the Median brings no confirmation of this intelligence.

The trouble began Sunday morning at Barranquilla, the governmental headquarters of the revolutionists, and the authorities at that point. There was little resistance, and the rebels were on the whole successful. Two hundred men, armed with rifles, then marched down to Savanilla, and took that port without firing a single shot. Only one prisoner was taken, the captain of the port, and he was sent back to Barranquilla.

A Colombian gunboat was seen Monday night approaching Cartagena, but no news of what has occurred at this place has reached Colon. When the Median left the Colombian coast it was rumored that an American warship was expected momentarily at one of the coast points. Persons well versed in Colombian affairs are of the opinion that this movement is the beginning of a fusion of all parties against the Government. There is no direct telegraphic communication between Colon and the Atlantic coast of Colombia. All telegraphic news from the Atlantic side has to go first to Bogota, then down to Buenaventura, on the Pacific coast, and thence north by cable, and is subject to Government censorship.

LONDON STANDS HIGH IN BANK CLEARINGS

Only Seven Cities in the United States Are Ahead of City of Montreal.

It is an interesting fact, and one well worthy of comment, that in the listed bank clearings of 110 of the large American cities of the United States, only seven of them show a larger clearance than Montreal, according to Bradstreet's Montreal shows a clearance of $109,031,190 for the six months ending June, 1909. Against this there is New York, with $9,111,703,294; Chicago, with $1,186,719,823; Boston, with $659,387,405; Philadelphia, with $573,932,026; St. Louis, with $268,719,046; Pittsburgh, with $199,433,620; and Kansas City, with $189,936,337, for the same period. This is a remarkably creditable showing for Canada's eastern metropolis, and Toronto also compares favorably with American centers of population in this regard. San Francisco's $147,044,954, stands before the second Canadian city, which shows second tenth on the list, with a clearance of $122,561,523.

All Going Ahead.

The report is interesting, too, as a decided indication of the return of good times. Not a single city in the 112 listed shows a retrograde movement, but there is a pronounced advance all along the line. Especially is this noticeable in the case of New York, whose bank clearances during the past six months have shown an increase of almost double the clearance of the same six months of the preceding year. The grand total for the United States for the past six months is $14,015,684,101, an increase of $4,262,397,332 over the similar period last year.

This is equally so in the case of Canada. Her clearances for the past six months total $433,854,466, or an increase of $110,345,559 over the similar period of the preceding year.

City of London.

London, too, compares very favorably with other cities of her size in respect to her bank clearances. In fact stands pretty well at the head of the list of her cities, and, indeed, in many cases hopelessly outclasses them. London's recorded bank clearances for the past six months shows $5,386,457, again $4,569,231 over the same period of the preceding year.

These statistics seem to show beyond the shadow of a doubt that the back of the hard times has been broken and that the land is once again upon the high road to unprecedented prosperity.

NAVIES IN RIO

Railway Workers at Woodstock Strike and Refuse to Leave Cars.

Woodstock, Ont., July 7.—About 50 Italian navies, who are occupying a work train in the C. P. R. yards here, and engaged in track laying, went on strike this afternoon. The men demanded a raise from $1.35 to $1.50 per day, which the contractor refused to grant. A row followed, and the city police had to be called on to quell what amounted to an incident riot.

A QUIET WEDDING IN SOUTH LONDON

Miss Mary Dyer Weds Mr. Egerton Froone, of Glangerry County.

A quiet wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of Mrs. Dyer, Becher street, when her daughter, Miss Mary, was married to Mr. Egerton Froone, of Glangerry County. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Vinling, of the Talbot Street Baptist Church. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Isabelle Dyer, and Mr. Percy Armistage, of Lucan, was groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. Froone left last evening on a honeymoon trip, and on their return will take up their residence in Glangerry County, near Prescott.

DROWNED AT BRANTFORD.

Brantford, Ont., July 8.—This morning a young lad named Miller was in the river south of this place, having a swim, and was drowned. The life-saving boat was called out and his body was recovered about 11 o'clock. Miller, it is said, lived between Ancaster and Hamilton, and was on a visit to friends in West Brantford.

INTENDED TO SUICIDE.

Windsor, July 8.—The police found an unidentified woman sitting on the Grand Trunk dock late last night. When she was taken to police headquarters she refused absolutely to talk or to give any information about herself. An unsigned note was found on her giving an Essex address, and containing instructions as to the disposition of a body. It is believed it referred to herself and that she intended to commit suicide.

ADJUTANT HOWELL GOES TO VANCOUVER

Popular S. A. Officer Is Ordered to West—Very Successful Here.

Adjutant and Mrs. Howell, of the Salvation Army, who have been in charge of a number of years in this city, have received word from the territorial headquarters of their transference to Vancouver District No. 1.

Parfarel services will be held on behalf of the departing adjutant and his wife in the city on Sunday, and on Tuesday they expect to leave for their new home.

During their stay in the city Adjutant and Mrs. Howell have made a great many friends, who sincerely regret their departure. They have been very successful in their work here, and have done much to benefit the inhabitants of the city. Their untiring work on behalf of those who needed such care has left a marked effect upon all with whom they have come in contact, and has done much to increase the strength and influence of the army in the city.

Adjutant and Mrs. Howell desire to thank all those who have aided them in their work here, among whom are especially mentioned the merchants of the city and the newspapers, who have greatly assisted in the work that was done.

RUSSIA AND PERSIA

Czar's Troops Land at Baku and Will March on Teheran.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—Further detachments of the Russian expedition from Baku landed at Enzeli, a Persian seaport of the Caspian Sea, last night, and the remainder of the force will land this morning.

The troops will start immediately for Kasbin, a town 90 miles northwest of Teheran. The expedition is commanded by Gen. Dobvor Mussinsky, who has a distinguished record as commander of a division in the Russo-Japanese war, in which he was wounded several times while directing operations. Gen. Mussinsky has strict orders not to intervene in the fighting between Gen. Liakhoff and the Bakhtiari tribesmen. In case of the defeat of Liakhoff's brigade, Gen. Liakhoff and the other Russian officers will be afforded protection on the same terms as other Europeans.

EX-LONDON LAD LEADS

The Splendid Record Made by Herbert Plant at Ottawa.

The Ottawa Free Press contains the following reference to a former London boy: "The McClenaghan gold medal for general proficiency in the commercial work in the public schools has been awarded to Herbert Plant, of the Glasgow school, who secured the highest aggregate on the year's work. Plant is about 17 years of age and is one of the brightest pupils at the Glasgow school. The medal was donated by Mr. Stewart McClenaghan, who until recently was a public school trustee and is now a member of the Collegiate Institute Board."

Herbert is the son of ex-Ald. Frank Plant, an old-time Londoner and graduate of the Advertiser establishment. Mr. Plant, as many will remember, was prominent in bar circles here, and at present holds an important position in the Government Bureau of Labor at Ottawa. He has a host of friends in this city who will be pleased to hear of his clever son's success.

A FLYING RECORD.

North Bay, July 8.—Last Sunday morning at 6 o'clock Mr. B. V. Bailey, agent for the Canadian Express Company here, representing several homing pigeon breeders of Baltimore, Md., released 500 homing pigeons for a race to Baltimore. Partial details of the race received today show that 400 of the 500 pigeons reached Baltimore. The first bird reached Baltimore at 2:17 p. m., its average speed being 1,600 yards per minute, this being the fastest time on record.

WEKERLE REAPPOINTED.

Budapest, July 8.—The official journal today published an imperial decree reappointing Dr. Alexander Wekerle premier of Hungary. The other members of his cabinet are reappointed to their respective offices.

TO STRENGTHEN FORCE.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—A dispatch received today from Constantinople by the Novoe Vremya says that the Porte has ordered reinforcements to the Turkish garrisons at Talmas, which is on the Turco-Persian frontier, near Urumiah.

PROF. BYERS DEAD.

London, July 8.—The late Lawrence Marshall Byers, of Dubuque, Iowa, died yesterday in a nursing home in London, where he underwent an operation.

ADGIE WAS ATTACKED BY A LIONESS

Lady Lion Tamer Who Was Seen at Bennet's Injured at Hamilton.

Hamilton, July 8.—While feeding lions this morning at Maple Leaf Park, Madame Adgie had a miraculous escape from being seriously, if not fatally, injured. The lions are given raw meat twice a day, but on account of Tribby, one of the lionesses, being sick, Madame Adgie has not been allowing her the usual portion. Today she decided not to give Tribby any meat, and the lioness became enraged. The plucky trainer had often seen her that way before, and used the usual methods to try and quiet her, but Tribby was not to be put off that way, and pounced on her trainer before Madame Adgie knew it. She tore the flesh from her arm with her paw, and was having the better of the argument when the keeper got on the job with a revolver and scared the enraged beast away. Madame Adgie had the wound dressed, and outside of having to wear bandages, shows no signs of being much the worse for the encounter.

MUNICIPAL MEAT INSPECTION

is planning a campaign of education to bring about municipal inspection. The first step required is the appointment of a veterinarian to inspect the meat at the slaughterhouse. But even this will be of little account unless municipalities educate a corps of trained inspectors. A veterinary surgeon without special training is not a meat inspector, and his conclusion as to the soundness of meat which he views already cooked and offered for sale on the market is practically of no value. When the Dominion Government undertook to administer the Dominion act, it was found that there was absolutely no trained meat inspectors in Canada. Therefore it became necessary to provide without delay the nucleus of an inspection staff. This was done by arranging for a special course in meat inspection and kindred branches of knowledge at the Chicago Veterinary College, to which through the kindness of the United States authorities was added the great privilege of a course of practical work in the large meat establishments in that city. Sixty-four Canadian veterinarians were authorized to take this course, which lasted five weeks, on the understanding that if they were successful in passing the examination to be held at its close, they would receive a bonus of $100 and be eligible for appointment to the Canadian meat inspection service. Even this proved but a beginning, and it has the ingenuity of the Government to train and provide for the enforcement of the Dominion act.

That drastic action is called for by the municipalities is apparent from the "People talk about the Chicago packing houses and the sensation created by the 'Jungle,'" said Dr. Rutherford the other day. "Yet far worse than can be found in 'The Jungle' are going on at this very hour and every day in this city, Toronto and other cities of Canada."

Dominion Act Limited.

For it must be remembered that the Dominion act under which Dr. Rutherford and his inspectors have authority to correct abuses is limited in its application, to meat slaughtered for inter-provincial or for export trade. The inspectors cannot interfere with any butcher or packer who sells his produce solely within his own province. Thus, for example, although it is well known that a large business is being done in the slaughter of "slink" calves, which are packed and shipped a few days old—a most unwholesome food, the Dominion authorities have no jurisdiction so long as the stuff is not sold outside the province. If, however, some of this "canned chicken" or "slink" of this "jellied veal" were shipped from Ontario to Montreal, it would fall under the story, and the federal inspectors would have to be called in, or, at least all they have done, so far, is to notify the Provincial Government.

Offence Against Community.

It must be added, however, that the people generally have no idea of how serious an offence it is against good morals to sell poisonous food. The butcher in many cases cuts out the diseased parts of the carcass and offers for sale. In one case not far from here a farmer killed a dying cow, and the butcher would not buy the meat, so the farmer himself peddled it to his neighbors, some of whom, by the way, were taken sick almost immediately. In the trial of the case the jury found the farmer guilty of damages in the county court because the defendant had sold him some cattle which turned out to be diseased. He set out a complaint and testified under oath that he had promptly killed the cattle, but was compelled to take a lower price from the butcher, because they were diseased. He said he was not aware of the difference between the value of sound cattle and the price which he had actually received from the butcher. The case was tried through without anybody seeming to be impressed with the fact that diseased meat should not be sold for human food. Judge Gunn, who presided, was amazed at this state of affairs, and reprimanded the plaintiff. By this time, however, the meat had long ago been consumed and nobody apparently injured, so criminal proceedings were not entered.

BROCK PAID UP.

Ottawa, July 7.—Dr. R. W. Brock, chief of the Canadian geological survey, is in the civil isolation hospital with an attack of diphtheria, which developed soon after his return from a tour of duty in Montana. The case is not a serious one.

PRAYING FOR RAIN.

Washington, July 8.—A raising of voices in prayer, the Chinese Imperial government hopes, may be followed by copious and greatly-needed rains, and a consequent revival of crops. So dry has it been in China this summer that the Government has issued a decree ordering a number of the princes to offer up prayers for rain. Several of these documents have just been received in Washington. It is hoped that beneficial showers may respond and gladness to the hearts of the farmers, the decree concluded.

WESTON FAILS IN FEAT BUT HAS GREAT RECORD

The Aged Walker Has Gone 3,650 Miles in Ninety-Six Days.

New York, July 8.—Eastern sportsmen, at today observing with interest the progress of the aged Paxon Weston, the walker, who is plodding across the Sierras in California, on the last swing of his transcontinental walk from this city 100 days. This is the 99th day and Weston has still over 200 miles to go over the mountains, so that his effort to make the distance of about 4,000 miles in a century of days appears to have failed; but he has established a feat of pedestrianism that will probably remain unequalled for a long time to come.

Weston is over 70 years of age, and when he started away from the New York city hall on March 15 last there were many predictions that he would never reach the objective of his journey. Overcoming difficulties of the spring roads Weston kept steadily on, and April 21 found him trudging into Chicago. All along the line of his march bands of townsmen came out to greet him and escort him to his resting-place for the night.

Notwithstanding his many years the walk seemed to give Weston new life. Two months after the start found the aged pedestrian in Wakeney, Kansas, and nearing Colorado. A month more and Weston was travelling the plains and Wyoming, near Granger, and while it was apparent that he could scarcely make San Francisco at the time appointed, he kept steadily on. Weston remained at Reno, Nevada, yesterday, and today he began the long ascent of the Sierras. From New York to Reno Nevada, Weston has covered 3,650 miles in 96 days, exclusive of Sundays.

LIBERAL VICTORY IN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Conservatives Made Strenuous Fight in Queen's Bye-Election.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., July 8.—The Liberals tonight are jubilant over the result of the local bye-election in the first district of Queen's, where Cyrus Crosby defeated John Myers, Conservative, by 69. The seat was vacated by the death of Hon. Matthew Smith, Speaker, whose majority at the general election of 1905 was 81. The Conservatives made a determined effort to capture the constituency. Had they succeeded the standing of the parties would have been 16 to 14, and as the other bye-elections are to be held in the fourth district of Prince, where Hon. Joseph Field was returned at the general election, the Conservatives would have been in a position to win the seat also and make the parties 15 to 15. The total vote today was heavier than in the general election, every man being got out, and both parties putting up a tremendous fight in this crucial contest, which was virtually a general election in one district.

The ablest speakers on both sides stumped the district and seldom in the island's history has such interest been taken in any bye-election. The parties are now 16 to 13, not counting Field. The Conservatives practically keep the Government in office until at least the end of their four-year term.

DIES OF WOUND.

Manila, July 8.—Sergeant Robert Johnson, of the United States Artillery, who was wounded in the fight at Patian on Jolo Island, by the notorious Mory outlaw, Jikri, and his band, who were exterminated last Monday, died today from the effects of his wounds. Corporal Hauser, who was wounded during the same fight, is not expected to live, but the remainder of the wounded, including the three officers, are making satisfactory progress.

TWO TWIRLERS OUT.

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—Mordecai Brown and Ed Reulbach, the Cubs' star pitchers, will not join the champions during the present series with Philadelphia, and it will be longer before Reulbach will be able to take his turn on the slab.

Brown's injury showed little or no change in her condition yesterday, and the three-fingered pitcher asserted that he would not join the team until his wife is entirely out of danger.

Reulbach, who was taken suddenly ill with ptomaine poisoning last Monday, was able to stand yesterday for the first time, but he has little hope of joining the team for ten days or two weeks.

THE KANSAS FLOODS.

Kansas City, July 8.—Daybreak today revealed much distress throughout the flood-stricken districts of Missouri and Kansas. Thousands of people along the Missouri River, the Grand River and the Missouri and the Marais des Cygnes River in Kansas, who had been forced to take refuge in upper stories of houses, were rising, and the washing away of property the life is causing much suffering to many farm-people, who are marooned in remote and inaccessible spots. Several relief trains sent out from Kansas City and other points were unable to reach their destination, and boats along the river were unable to supply the hungry people with food. The situation was desperate, and it was feared that the people in the town have lost everything they had.

GIANT ENGLISHMAN ALLEGED TO BE INSANE

John Thornber, of Westminster Township, Made Things Lively at a Belmont Hotel.

John Thornber, of Westminster Township, appeared before Squire Chittick this morning charged by John Byrne, the hostler of John Charles hotel at Belmont, with being insane and dangerous to be at large.

Thornber is a handsome young Englishman standing considerably over six and a half feet high. He is at one and the same time, according to his story, a Plunkerton detective and a member of the royal family.

Thornber had been working for Wm. Carter, of Mapleton, when dangerous symptoms arose, and Mr. Carter at once discharged the man and succeeded in getting him to Belmont, and left him at the hotel of Mr. Charles.

Thornber had quite an amount of money with him, and immediately started in to provide refreshments for all the thirsty souls of the locality. It was not long before he became very boisterous and started playfully disposing of all the movable furniture.

As a result John Constable Hughes was warned and immediately sent out money to Squire Chittick to arrest the man. When the officer arrived he found out his orders a lively melee occurred, and Dan McCallum and John Byrne joined in the fray.

Even with this force it was some time before Thornber could be handcuffed. On the journey in Thornber varied matters by alternately holding a prayer meeting and inviting all and sundry within earshot to drink at his expense. In front of the Salem Church band hand and foot as he was, he made a leap from the rig and almost succeeded in carrying the rest of the party with him.

Thornber is a man of evident education, but at the same time he has no relatives or friends in this country.

He appeared before Squire Chittick this morning, and was remanded for a week.

CRACKSMEN AT ZURICH BLOW OPEN BIG SAFE

Discharge Wrecks Front of the Building and Thieves Decamp Without Loot.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Zurich, July 8.—Last night about 1 o'clock burglars entered the office of Edmund Zeller, conveyancer, of this town, and succeeded in demolishing a large safe, nitro-glycerin being used. The store front of the Herald printing and telephony office, also owned by Mr. Zeller, was blown to atoms, and part of the safe was driven through the telephone cabinet. The cracks, however, got nothing for their work. The loss will be considerable to Mr. Zeller. His fine gold watch and chain hung directly behind the safe, but was not taken. A number of citizens were awakened by the report of the explosion, but by the time they sounded the alarm, the night owls had flown.

AN ASIAN 'QUAKE.

Hamburg, July 6.—The seismograph at the university here registered an earthquake at 10:43 o'clock last night which was equal in violence to any of the shocks that have occurred at Messina since that city was devastated last December. It is believed that the earthquake occurred about 2,900 miles to the eastward, evidently in Central Asia.

JAP ARMS ACTIVE.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—A dispatch to the Reich today from Harbin reports that the Japanese are strongly reinforcing the garrison at Mukden, which now consists of 22,000 troops, including fifteen squadrons of cavalry. Trains of ammunition and provisions are constantly arriving and the Japanese are actively repairing and extending the fortifications.

A PROBLEM UNSOLVABLE.

The mysterious power we term life, which alone renders possible the production of a few of the chemical elements of such diverse fabrics as bone and skin, horn and hair, muscle and nerve and brain, which, when manufactured all the infinite varied products of the vegetable kingdom—the thousand delicious fruits for our use and enjoyment, the endless woods and fibres, gums, and resins, to serve the purposes of our ever-developing arts and manufactures, will surely never be explained—many suppose they will be explained—in more matter and motion. But beyond even these marvels is yet greater marvel of that ever-present organizing and guiding power which to take a single example—generation after generation, and even year after year, the life of the individual builds up anew that most wonderful congeries of organs, the bird's covering of feathers. Not only is a feather a miracle of complexity, but the entire structure, adapted for most important and even vital ends, but it may be safely stated that no two feathers on any bird are absolutely identical, varying in contour, in curvature, in rigidity, in size, by almost imperceptible gradations, so that each fulfills its special purpose. And beyond

STORY OF A BELL.

Few persons suspect that in the cathedral church of Notre Dame is a bell contemporaneous with Joan of Arc—"the blessed bell" which sounded the tocsin when the maid of Lorraine appeared in August, 1429, and Paris was besieged by the English. This historic bell, referred to by Victor Hugo in his "Notre Dame de Paris," was given to the cathedral in 1400 by Jean de Montaigne. It was refounded in 1836 and then relapsed under the name of Emmanuel Louise Therese, in honor of Louis XIV. and Marie Therese of Austria.

So if this bell is not the same bell which the heroine of Domremy heard, nevertheless the same metal vibrates today at the great religious ceremonies of the metropolitan church. In view of later events it seems rather more than a coincidence that when all the other bells of Notre Dame were destroyed by the revolutionists, Joan's bell should have been spared.—London Globe.

BURGLAR-PROOF GLASS.

A burglar-proof plate glass is now reported from Rheims. It is thus described by the United States consul there: "While an ordinary plate glass, such as is usually put into jewelers' show windows, was smashed to atoms by one single stroke with a metal-trimmed mallet, the same attempt to break the 'dalle polie' proved entirely fruitless. They then proceeded to throw a large piece of cast iron with extreme violence at the show window, and all they succeeded in doing was to make a small hole into it measuring only a few centimeters. Thereupon several shots of revolver loaded with steel cast balls were fired at the show window with no further damage to the window than the entering of the balls into it to the depth of a few millimeters. The plate glass which will stand all such usage is ordinarily made of a thickness of from 20 to 25 millimeters (.787 to .984 inch); but, if desired, a heavier plate can be made without in the least diminishing the transparency of the glass.—Scientific Miscellany.
