

TWELVE

GERMANY HAS NOT GONE COMMUNISTUprisings in Easter Week Are Abortive, Exaggerated and Not Significant.

WORKERS HOLD ALOOF

Leaders Mostly Untrained
Youths, Adventurers and Nondescripts.

BERLIN, July 7.—The Communist uprising of Easter week in Germany did not prove that there is impending danger of Bolshevism in this part of Western Europe. On the contrary it brought to light the irresponsible agitation and tribal leadership of the German Communist Party, and emphasized its consequent want of influence over the great majority of German people.

The uprising shows that the German workers have not "gone red," and, if anything, that there is less revolution in Germany today than at any time since the armistice. The German workers are perhaps a little more inclined toward political action as any people in the world. They have not the least enthusiasm about political doctrines, communism or any other.

It was also misleading to speak of the conflict between the German Communist Party and the "reds" as "military operations." Of Central Saxony as a "front," and even more so of the hands which attempted to establish a "red army." The Communist uprising at least had the value of showing the absurdity of the statements of many alarmists who for reasons of their own talked of the "enormous secret communist army" which was supposed to be ready for action at any moment.

There is no doubt that the responsibility for much of the bloodshed last March rests with the Communist Party. How much of this can be put on Moscow which now and then is supposed to be a "blood bath" abroad to help along the revolution at home, it is difficult to say. Keeping the peoples of Europe constantly agitated, arousing class feeling and hatred, and increasing popular misery as the best breeder of communist armies during the uprising and not one of them either in leadership, organization or equipment was worthy of the name.

"Reds" Blamed for Bloodshed. There is no doubt that the responsibility for much of the bloodshed last March rests with the Communist Party. How much of this can be put on Moscow which now and then is supposed to be a "blood bath" abroad to help along the revolution at home, it is difficult to say.

Even here in many a part of the German Communist party hesitated to arouse the workers to arms. Most of the leaders obviously kept their hands off. The big Berlin party went only half as far as that of Halle. In some parts of Germany the party ventured no action whatever. Indeed, in the fighting zone the Communists were divided.

At the Leuna works the Communist head of the workers' council, for example, told me that he opposed this action as badly timed and plain suicide. The Zeiss works, which I visited at the time, though nearly half Communist, gave no support to the action, and the same was almost as true of Leipzig, one of the strongholds of the party.

Notable of the leadership in the March uprising was that most of the torch-bearers were young, irresponsible boys who never played any part in the German labor movement and who had not the slightest claim to the confidence of the German workers. They were not members of the papers, Russians or other foreigners. Most of them were members of the so-called "Communist Labor Party," which has its headquarters in Moscow, but which is not a member of the Third Internationale. The leaders of this party are, for the most part, young fanatics, many of them overworked "intellectuals" who have made themselves dizzy with their own phrases.

The rank and file among the Communist Labor Party are not the German workers, but the boys who grew up during the war untrained, who either ran wild in the streets, or who earned their money by carrying out the orders of National Bolsheviks, Nationalists, who found that Hohenzollern nationalism does not pay, are now trying the Trotsky brand.

The military conspiracies of these groups would be funny had they not led to the death of so many misguided workers. Some weeks ago a so-called "military conspiracy" was unearthed and prosecuted by the Government at Halle with much gusto. Nationalists who hoped again to lead the workers in carrying out the orders of National Bolsheviks, Nationalists, who found that Hohenzollern nationalism does not pay, are now trying the Trotsky brand.

That the German Communist militants were committing a military folly was amply proved by the March uprising. Albert, one of the Red Flag, warned the workers that armed action would be folly at a time when the other crowd had most of the guns.

Times have changed since the old Liebknecht days when every man had his gun and was in the habit of carrying it. This uprising proves that disarming, at least so far as the individual German citizen goes, has been effective. The Orghesh and so-called home defence organization still have their rifles tucked away, but the individual German, whether worker or man in the office, gave up his last year, tempted by the premium.

The much exaggerated "red army" of war munitions is being used to manufacture the articles of peace. Even swords are being beaten into candlesticks.

At the Germania Shipbuilding plant owned by the Krupp in Kiel-Gaarden, they are employing more men than before the war, about 100,000, compared with 80,000 in July, 1914.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

MARSHAL FOCH COMING TO CANADA

It is practically certain that the commander-in-chief of the allied armies in the late war, will be a guest and speaker at the Great War Veterans' convention, to be held in the latter part of September.

therefore went into the field with no artillery, very few heavy and light machine guns, and not one rifle for five men. The so-called fortress of the Leuna works despite fantastic stories had only 360 rifles, four light and one heavy machine gun. This I know because I saw their armory at the time the German press was talking out "500 machine guns and countless rifles."

TONS OF TOMATOES
ARE BEING SHIPPEDEarly Vegetable Growers
Around Ruthven Are Reaping
Rich Returns.

RUTHVEN, July 7.—The hot spell may mean discomfort to many, but in this district it is bringing rich returns to growers of early vegetables and fruit. Tons of tomatoes are being shipped. On Tuesday evening Stationmaster Bolton handled no less than 2,550 eleven-pound baskets of tomatoes, all in the finest condition, and from now on the shipments will be heavier. Generally speaking everything is ripening about ten days earlier than last year.

The early ripening of fruit, together with the hay and wheat, means busy times for the farmers, and they are putting in long hours. A great deal of wheat has been cut and it is a fine sample. The big corn crop, which never showed better prospects, is also being cut, and many fields of it can now be seen cut in full tassels.

Hay Crop All in. The hay crop is now all put up in large stacks in the field, and tons of it has been stowed away in the barns. This crop has been cured out in the best possible shape and will make fine feed for live stock later on.

Principal Chester Hunter of the public school here, who went to spend his summer vacation with his parents in Southwold, went out into the harvest field to assist his father and was overcome with the intense heat, causing a light stroke, according to a telegram received here.

E. Clair Jarvis of London, head counsellor of the Woodmen of the World, paid Ruthven Lodge a visit on Tuesday.

Fred Chute, wife and daughter, Miss Irene, of Wheatley, were the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pearson, here this week.

Rains Damage Roads. The recent heavy rains caused some dangerous washouts at places on the lake front road, and the council has appointed Peter Upcott to oversee the repairing of them at once.

J. P. Pearson and Miss Jean Shaw of Chatham are the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pearson, here this week.

Dr. Claude Moore and wife, who have just returned from a trip to Des Moines, Iowa, stopped off here on Monday, and were the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Cameron Wigle.

Mrs. Solomon Fox, who had been slowly recovering her health, took a relapse on Tuesday and is seriously ill again. Heart trouble is the cause of the illness.

ASKS CITIZENS TO LOOK AFTER THE DELEGATESMayor Appeals To People To Take Visitors in Their Homes.

ST. THOMAS, July 7.—Because of the limited accommodation of the local hotel the mayor is appealing to householders to make provision for the opening of their homes to the big crowd of visitors who will come to the city in connection with the convention of the B. of L. F. and E. which meets, in St. Thomas from August 1 to 6. Delegates, their wives and families from the chief cities of Canada and the United States will be here by the hundreds. The mayor asks that they be given a big share of the best to be had in St. Thomas.

The Baby Clinic. The baby clinic, considering the sweltering temperature, was fairly well attended this afternoon. About a dozen and a half little ones were treated. Miss Cameron, the newly-installed nurse, with Miss Riddle, public health nurse, Toronto, and Miss Burns were in waiting. The examining physicians, Dr. Doctors Mackenzie and Giddison, Miss Burns is leaving for Leamington this week, and will make a survey of Essex County.

Pastor Will Holday. Rev. W. P. Gaetz, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has been granted his holidays and will take them this month. During his absence his pulpit will be supplied by Rev. D. Rogers, D. N. Canus, J. P. Reynolds and P. S. Dobson.

POLICE SEIZED
TWENTY CASES OF
LIQUOR AT PORTSarnia Man Is in County Jail
After Pleading Guilty.

[Special to The Advertiser.] ST. THOMAS, July 7.—Alex Crossley, Sarnia, is locked up in the county jail, pending a sentence to be given him by the county magistrate on Monday for secreting 20 cases of various brands of liquor in a place on Hill Street, which is not in the bounds of the Ontario temperance act.

The license inspector went to the resort early this morning and seized the assortment as well as the auto of Crossley. The man from Sarnia, after pleading guilty, confessed to having met a stranger, who directed him to a place on the Lonkwoods road in Midland where Crossley would find the liquor cached.

True to this information of the stranger, Crossley came across the goods, in ten large sacks and landed over $2,500 for the bundles. The auto was left on Hill Street to wait the return of the officers. But when they got back they found the car gone and no trace of its whereabouts.

PORTION OF CANTEN
FUND FOR VETERANSCabinet Passes Order-in-Council Setting Aside Monies.

OTTAWA, July 7.—The cabinet today passed an order-in-council setting aside a portion of the monies to be received from the expeditionary force canteen fund to be used for the purpose of relief work among indigent veterans of the late war. Officials of the G. W. V. A. headquarters branch here stated tonight that no specific amounts had been mentioned, but that monthly payments would be made by the Government out of the fund and that a board of trustees would administer the relief. The members of this board, two of whom are Government appointees and two from the G. W. V. A. consist of Major N. F. Parkinson, deputy minister of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, Major J. Barnett, chairman of the soldiers' settlement board, R. B. Maxwell and C. Grand MacNeill, president and secretary, respectively, of the G. W. V. A.

PICNIC PARTY LOSES
CAR AT SPRINGBANK

After departing themselves at Springbank last night, John Bullivant and his family of London Junction, returned to the place where they had parked their car, only to find it gone.

Mr. Bullivant was then forced to ride to the city via the London Street Railway. On reaching here he reported the incident to the police, who now have the matter in hand. The missing car is a Chevrolet, license No. 64-061.

A neighbor was good enough to convey the unfortunate motorist to his home, a short distance in the country from London Junction.

THEY CALL THIS
HOT AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, July 7.—The highest temperature in the records of the official meteorological station for the district of Ottawa was registered this afternoon when the mercury reached 95 degrees in the shade. Tonight brought no relief in the intense heat wave. At 9:30 the thermometer registered 86 degrees, with no wind.

NEW CHIEF JUSTICE
TAKES OFFICE MONDAY

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Former President Taft is to be sworn in Monday as chief justice of the United States. The ceremony, it is said today, will take place in the office of Attorney-General Daugherty, and the oath will be administered by Justice Hoelling of the District of Columbia Supreme Court in the absence of the chief justice of the United States Supreme Court.

HEADS FUNERAL DIRECTORS. WINNIPEG, July 7.—C. N. Greenwood, Stratford, Ont., was this afternoon elected president of the National Association of Funeral Directors at the inaugural session. W. B. Yule, mayor of Swift Current, Sask., was elected secretary. The first session of the convention will be held tomorrow.

MISSING GIRL MAY
HAVE BEEN DRUGGEDPolice Following Up Clue
From Township Near Brantford.

HAMILTON, July 7.—A clue that may result in the solution of the disappearance of Miss Viola Davidson of Brantford has been discovered in South Clinton Township. A prominent resident of the district a few days ago noticed a young girl answering the description of the missing Miss Davidson being ejected from an automobile. Later he got in touch with the police. The girl seemed to be in a comatose condition. The occupants of the car, which it has been discovered, came from Toronto, returned later and picked the girl up. The driver said the girl was crazy and then rode off with her. Miss Davidson's father was in Grimsby, investigating, and he feels satisfied that the girl was his daughter.

SERGEANT'S BODY WAS RIDDLED BY BULLETS

DUBLIN, July 7.—The bullet-riddled body of Police Sergeant Foody was found near Ballina, County Tipperary. To it was pinned a paper reading "revenge for the Dwyers." Foody was on duty in Tipperary Village a few days ago, when two brothers named Dwyer were shot there.

The republicans are active throughout Donegal. At Lifford, roads have been blocked, wires cut and trains delayed.

BELFAST REBELS
FIRED ON POLICE

BELFAST, July 7.—During the current hours tonight the police were fired at from windows in one of the outlying districts. A policeman was wounded. A military canteen store at New Bridge, County Kilmore, was burned Wednesday, supposedly by armed rebels. The caretaker's wife threw her baby to her husband. She then returned to save her steeped but hot porridge. The other occupants of the building had narrow escapes.

DOCKYARD EMPLOYEES STRIKE. KOBE, Japan, July 7.—Thirteen thousand employees in the Kawasaki dockyard struck today for an increase in wages. Strikes also were begun in other industries. The police reserves were called out to preserve order.

CARPENTER FACES
CHARGE OF THEFT

A carpenter employed by the military at Carling Heights was arrested on a warrant by Detectives Downs and Bolton last night. The charge is theft.

GERMANY THRIVING,
IS REPORT TO BANKKrupp Works Turning Out
Great Variety of Products.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The London representative of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York has returned from a tour of observation in Germany, during which he visited Berlin, Essen, Düsseldorf and Dortmund and the agricultural districts between Berlin and the Dutch-German frontier. He reports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

CUNARD
ANCHOR
ANCHOR-DONALDSON

REGULAR SERVICES

MONTREAL-GLASGOW.

July 23, Aug. 27, Oct. 1, ... Saturnia
Aug. 6, Sept. 10, Oct. 15, ... Cassandra

New York-Glasgow (Via Moville).
July 16, Aug. 13, Sept. 10, ... Columbia
July 30, Aug. 27, Sept. 24, ... Cameronia
Aug. 30, Oct. 4, ... Assyria
Sept. 20, ...

New York-Liverpool.
July 9, ... Castalia
July 12, Aug. 20, Sept. 27, ... Albania
July 16, Aug. 13, Sept. 10, ... Carmania
July 30, Aug. 27, Sept. 24, ... Caronia
Sept. 6, Oct. 11, Nov. 15, ... Scotia
New York-Cherbourg-Southampton
July 15, Aug. 11, Sept. 6, ... Mauretania
July 26, Aug. 23, Sept. 13, ... Anitania
Aug. 18, Sept. 12, Oct. 20, ... Berengaria
Boston to Liverpool.
Aug. 13, ... Assyria
N. Y. Ply.-Cher.-Hamburg.
July 21, Aug. 30, Oct. 11, ... Saxonia
Vigo, Gibraltar, Patras, Dubrovnik, Trieste and Fiume.
Aug. 6, ... Calabria

For rates of passage, freight and further particulars apply to local agents or
THE ROBERT REFORM CO., LIMITED
GENERAL MANAGERS
36 KING STREET EAST
TORONTO, ONT.

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one a day. In another shop good wagons are manufactured at a rate of eight a day. In still another building nearly five-ton lorries were being manufactured alongside of small motor scooters.

The articles manufactured at the Krupp works today cover a surprisingly wide range. They include railway supplies of all kinds, cash registers and adding machines, surgical instruments, doors for safes, Locomotives, iron and steel products of all kinds, machines for textile and paper industries, apparatus for moving pictures, dredges, floating docks, pneumatic tools. The Krupp works are also manufacturing machinery for making artificial teeth. They are not only manufacturing the machines to make the teeth, but they are also manufacturing the teeth. The Krupp works are turning out this large variety of goods with exactly the same workmen who made war munitions. Every tool used in the manufacture

ports that Germany, despite her handicaps, is thriving.

All the way from the Dutch border to the German capital was an unending panorama of waving grain," he says. "The German crops are unusually far advanced. Both the rye and wheat crops are advanced. While a large number of locomotives are in bad order, there is considerable repair work under way, and new canal construction. Wherever there was a chimney stack it was belching smoke. Compared with Holland, there is marked absence of cattle and horses, and the labor in the fields is being performed almost entirely by women. In Berlin the hotels are all crowded. The price of accommodation in Berlin is about the same as at hotels of a corresponding class in Paris and Brussels, prices having been raised to cover the depreciation in exchange. There is ample supply of food of all kinds, and fresh milk is now available for families with children. Those without children

use canned milk.

In the great locomotive shop of the Krupp works at Essen heavy locomotives are turned out complete at a rate of one