

LABOR MEMBER SCORES DRURY'S CONTROL BILL

Peter Heenan Voices Strong Opposition To Lake of Woods Measure.

FEARS BLOCK OF TREATY

Charges Premier Being Used By Winnipeg Interests To Aid Manitoba.

TORONTO, June 1.—Denouncing Premier Drury's Lake of the Woods control bill as a surrender of provincial rights and unwarranted concessions to Winnipeg interests who sought to secure power benefits from Ontario's northwest waters, Peter Heenan, labor member for Kenora, headed with the Ontario Legislature tonight not to enter into any such agreement as the premier had submitted to the house.

In effect, the member for Kenora contended that Premier Drury was being used by the Winnipeg interests, who, in the agreement before the house for second reading sought to have Ontario consent to hold up her waters, store them in such a way as would permit Manitoba power interests to utilize them, without cost, when they got good and ready.

"We in the northwest portion of the province," said Mr. Heenan, "are utterly opposed to this—more opposed even than when the bill was before the house last year—because it will interfere with the treaty being signed."

Warmth of Hearst's Welcome In Britain Wouldn't Melt Snowball

LONDON, June 1.—William Randolph Hearst, millionaire American newspaper owner, whose publications never fail to seize an opportunity to propagate anti-British feeling, has received the shock of his life in the icy coldness of the reception he has received since he reached London a few days ago.

Hearst has been displaying unusual reticence posing as a man who hates press interviews, and apart from an obviously carefully prepared statement, which he gave out soon after landing and which masquerades as an interview, he has lain low since arrival.

Probably never before in the history of British journalism, which has a long tradition of hospitality, has any visiting newspaperman been treated with such open dislike from his conferees.

One of the London papers suggests Hearst's experience with victims of his own fake interviews have made him afraid to open his mouth. British publishers as a whole are absolutely ignoring him and it is believed they have no intention of extending the usual hospitality shown to American newspapermen.

Indeed Hearst's welcome is probably the least of any prominent man since the war, even Turks, Germans and Bolsheviks having been better received.

of the Woods situation. In January, 1919, Ottawa passed an order-in-council creating the Lake of the Woods Control Board to consist of four members, two chosen by Ottawa, and two by Ontario, the casting vote in the case of a tie being with the Dominion appointee. Mr. Drury claimed that Ontario by an order-in-council a month later agreed to this, casting vote and all.

Meanwhile, proceeded the premier, the question of development of power sites arose. Preliminary agreements were entered into between the Ontario government and Mr. Backus, by which, among other things, the control of the Norman Dam was given to Ontario. Unsettledness developed among power users lower down the Winnipeg and English Rivers, and eventually they took up the matter at Ottawa.

The premier said that because of this uneasiness he went to Winnipeg in December, 1920, and later to Ottawa and eventually negotiations between Ottawa and Toronto resulted in the proposed concurrent legislation. As a consequence a bill was introduced at Ottawa and passed, and one in Toronto last session, which was withdrawn, the premier fearing it would be defeated.

Set Up Joint Control.

This joint legislation set up a joint control board, the premier explained, but it did away with the casting vote for the Dominion appointee, and set forth that in case of dispute the matter should be referred to each of the governments for negotiation.

Mr. Drury then referred to the subsequent introduction into the Dominion House of the Lake of the Woods regulation bill. The excuse for this latter bill, he said, was that the Norman dam might get out of the hands of the province into private control.

This Ottawa act contained a clause declaring that for all time works under its jurisdiction were works for the general advantage of Canada. This, said the premier, involved every power development in Ontario.

Ontario might have carried the matter to the courts, the premier said, but there was a change of government at Ottawa.

Replies to Lennox.

The Ontario temperance act featured another lively sitting of the Legislature this afternoon, when Attorney-General Raney discussed the charges launched by Colonel Lennox. The report of the public accounts committee in connection with these charges has not yet been received by the House, and Mr. Raney discussed them in moving the second reading of the act to prevent liquor being carried on a public highway.

He said these charges had not been substantiated, and implied that they were along the line forecasted by the Liberty League, when it announced in a circular that it planned to attack the Ontario temperance act in the Provincial Legislature.

He started to criticize the Conservative leader's speeches when points of order were raised by W. F. Nickle, Kingston, and H. P. Hill, West Ottawa, that Mr. Raney was not within the rules of the house in carrying on such a discussion on a second reading of the bill. After many exciting passages and several rulings by Speaker Parliament, insisting that the mover must stick to the principle of the bill he is supporting, the attorney-general threatened to challenge this ruling. It was smoothed out, however, and the second reading passed.

Amendments Passed.

The second reading of amendments to the Ontario temperance act, which inflict penalties for the use of false labels, additional punishment for the sale of "swamp whiskey," additional punishment for O. T. A. enforcement officials, who themselves break the act, and lessening the penalty for a man caught with a bottle in a public place, was passed without opposition.

The act incorporating the Ontario Co-operative Dairy Products, Ltd., passed the house in committee. Hon. Manning Doherty explained that it was planned that the company deal with grading and marketing butter and cheese. It was not intended to manufacture dairy products in competition with the smaller factories.

The bill was amended to make this clear.

Hon. W. E. Raney, in moving the second reading of the bill to restrict the transportation of liquor by making it unlawful to carry it in any vehicle on the roads of this province, began to resume the fight which he claimed was being waged under cover against the Ontario temperance act. He said one stage of the conflict was reached in the public accounts committee today. The first gun was fired about the time the present session opened in February, when the Liberty League issued a circular urging that the best way to fight the act was in the Legislature, and that the league had begun a lobby which had already met with success, and that there was a nucleus of members there prepared to assist in attacking the "Drury-Raney" temperance policy.

Claims League Defunct.

J. McNamara (Riverdale) wanted to know if the attorney-general was aware the Liberty League he referred to had passed out of existence some time ago.

The attorney-general replied it was in existence when this circular was printed. It had behind it, he said, respectable citizens who had a perfect right to start such a propaganda, but they soon found themselves unfortunately associated with Janizaries, mercenaries, bootleggers, moonshiners, blindpiggers and rum-runners. They all joined to put the propaganda over.

He referred to speeches made by Hon. Howard Ferguson as forecasting some less stringent temperance policy after prorogation. "After dissolution," Mr. Ferguson corrected. "The charges made by Colonel Lennox (North York) were then taken up one by one. These took the form, Mr. Raney said, of a blanket charge that the attorney-general knowingly employed thugs and criminals to enforce the Ontario temperance act, followed by a series of definite charges to support the blanket charge. He read the various claims of Mr. Lennox that employee after employee engaged in the enforcement of the O. T. A. had been convicted of serious crimes and many of them had continued to be employed by the attorney-general.

Comparison of the charges by Mr. Lennox with what was brought out in the evidence given before the public accounts committee, Mr. Raney said, showed that not one had supported the blanket charge, many of them were exaggerated or partially untrue and the remainder had no application to the real charge.

Point of Order Raised.

At this stage the point of order was raised, and the subject was changed.

Failing to secure the information asked for in any one of his half dozen questions relating to the corporation tax act enforcement, H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., tonight intimated his intention to press tomorrow his motion for a return of all legal opinions and correspondence, including an alleged communication from the chief justice of Ontario.

After stating his reasons for declining to give the information asked for, Mr. Raney said: "Without questioning motives, the only persons interested in the answers to these questions are those who are maintaining the controversy against this legislation, and there is no duty on the part of the government to make disclosures at the request of persons who adopt the same attitude as that adopted by the Ontario Jockey Club.

Answers Dewart.

In reply to Mr. Dewart's question as to the government's intention in the matter of submission of a stated case of the validity and jurisdiction of the corporation tax act or remedial legislation, Mr. Raney simply said the government had not formulated any policy on the subject.

Concerning communications received from "any legal or judicial source in regard to either the corporation act or the corporation tax act," Mr. Raney said: "Any such communications there may have been are privileged, and their publication would be against the public interest."

"There is a controversy now pending between the crown and the Ontario Jockey Club, in which the authority of this Legislature to enact the statutes above mentioned is being questioned, and it is therefore, not in the public interest that the crown should be called upon to disclose the advice it has received, whether voluntary or otherwise, or proceedings it has in view for maintaining the authority of the Legislature."

In connection with his replies, Attorney-General Raney tabled the letter of May 29 to the Ontario Jockey Club announcing the exaction from

DO YOUR BOWELS Move Regularly, or Do They BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt, at once, from irregular action of the bowels. When there is no regular action the retention of the undigested and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS, will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N. S., writes: "For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicine, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

STATES FRANCE STANDS BY VERSAILLES TREATY

Premier Poincare Draws Applause From Majority of Deputies.

PARIS, June 1.—France's desire to maintain an accord with the Allies is very earnest, but France cannot sacrifice her rights, and will act alone in case of flagrant violation of the Versailles treaty, Premier Poincare declared in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon in the course of his exposition of the government's foreign policy.

This was greeted by great applause from the members except the Socialists and Communists, with some Radicals—about 120 deputies dissenting.

France wants nothing but the execution of the Versailles treaty, and desires resumption of normal relations with Germany, but cannot overlook the ferment of hatred against France in Germany, added the premier. He gave a pledge that France would not attend a political conference at The Hague, but said the government was willing to assist the Allies, neutrals and former enemies by sending French experts to the conference of experts on June 15.

Reconstruction of Europe was impossible without the aid of the United States, in the opinion of M. Poincare, and the Genoa conference was a failure politically, but a success from the financial and economic standpoint.

"Germany only understands the argument of force," said the premier in conclusion. "The best way to secure peace is to keep up our vigilance and strength."

STATES POSITION OF BOND HOLDERS

OTTAWA, June 1.—(By Canadian Press.)—The position of the government with regard to holders of Grand Trunk Pacific 4 per cent debenture stock has been placed before shareholders in Great Britain by Major Bell, deputy minister of railways and canals. Major Bell, in replying to an inquiry from Sir Francis Harrison-Smith, K.C.B., Wilton Lodge, Marlborough, England, states that: "The position of holders of those Grand Trunk Pacific 4 per cent debenture shares is appreciated, but the Canadian government is scarcely in a position to make good unfortunate business investments of that nature."
