

ALLIES INTEND TO KEEP FIRM HAND

Will Not Transfer Control of Germany To League.

NOT PROPER TIME YET Claim of Berlin Is Refuted In Note From Paris.

LONDON, May 30.—The allies intend to keep a firm hand of control in Germany by maintaining the commission of control in full operation until the disarmament demands made in the Treaty of Versailles are fully executed, according to a long note from the council of ambassadors sent to Berlin from Paris to-day.

The ambassadors' communication was in reply to the German note of March 21, in which the Berlin Government maintained that it was time for the League of Nations to take over the supervision. The ambassadors' note reaffirms the contention that it is the legal right of the allies to decide for themselves when the time has arrived for transferring the duty of controlling Germany to the League of Nations after the time limit clauses have been executed.

"It would be hardly possible to contend that this condition is fulfilled to-day," the note adds.

The allies propose to end the military control as soon as possible, says the note, which urges acceptance of the general inspection contemplated by the allied note of March 5, which would consist of a series of visits.

This inspection in view of the allied Governments could be completed within three or four months if it met with no obstructions and if no grave infractions of the treaty's clauses were discovered.

Replying to the German claim that the allies themselves had recognized that apart from five specified categories Germany has fulfilled her disarmament obligations, the ambassadors' note says the allied Governments never expressed such an opinion. It points out that in the British House of Commons the Government made certain declarations relative to German disarmament, but that these declarations were not intended to imply that Germany had fulfilled her obligations; they merely indicated that certain clauses at one time appeared to them to have been effectively carried out.

If, more than four years after the enforcement of the treaty, Germany is still unable to carry out her obligations, responsibility for the situation rests only on herself. If the allies have not been systematic in their supervision, which the allies many times had complained, the operations of disarmament would have been completed a long time ago.

The ambassadors say they feel called upon to define for the last time the conditions of the problem, which allows only one of two solutions:

First, either the German Government will accept the general inspection desired by the allies and at the end of this inspection, and if the results are satisfactory, the military control will be limited to five points; or,

Second, Germany will persist in refusing the allied offer, upon which the allies will demand strict application of the treaty.

The ambassadors conclude their note courteously, saying that from every point of view the present situation, which is a source of constant difficulty, cannot be further prolonged, and the allies hope the German Government understands that it is in the general interest to arrive at a definite solution without delay. They say the German Government's present note, which is a source of constant difficulty, cannot be further prolonged, and the allies hope the German Government understands that it is in the general interest to arrive at a definite solution without delay.

five-reel motion picture is too much for the average director and that the remedy lies in association.

"Too much is demanded of the individual director to-day," says Mr. Favre. "He must have the imagination of a novelist, the technical knowledge of an expert and the driving force of a leader. Each is a career in itself. If well done, to-day people are thinking and reading. The peddler can tell you about the intrigues in the Sultan's court and how they have affected his own affairs."

"People know as much about France to-day as they knew yesterday about the next country. Hunchbacks in tatters and tinsel battling each other with stuffed clubs can entertain a peasant, but it takes perfect realism or thoughtful allegory to interest a thinking people. The answer is better pictures."

"How can we expect the director to do it? I am convinced that only by the association of several men can the superior motion picture of the future be produced. The director of to-day will become the chairman of the board to-morrow."

"The Breaking Point," opening next Monday at Loew's, is a story of New York and Wyoming by Mary Roberts Rinehart, Cyril Ring, Theodor Von Eltz, Charles A. Stevenson and many other big names appear in the supporting cast.

Loeue takes the palm for rapid-fire romances. First it was Nita Naldi, then Gloria Swanson, and now it's Leatrice Joy.

Of course, it's pictures we refer to. La Rocque played with Miss Naldi in the DeMille production, "The Ten Commandments," then came a featured role opposite Miss Swanson, in "A Society Scandal," and at present he is featured in the principal male role in Cecil B. DeMille's newest Paramount production, "Triumph," which comes to Loew's Thursday.

La Rocque gets a great acting chance in this picture as a man who has never had to work as a peasant, only to find himself stripped of the money and power he was accustomed to as heir to the Garnet Can Works.

The story is a foreman in the factory, determined to get ahead by his own efforts and not because of any man who might marry his daughter. Victor Varoux is La Rocque's rival for the girl's hand. Never having had money, he has strange ideas of his power, ideas which he might marry his daughter. Victor Varoux is La Rocque's rival for the girl's hand. ### MORE REPORTS ON BAYRY. LKELY

Further Findings By Engineer In North Available For House

MAY HAVE MADE SAVING W. D. Euler Believes 1917 Report Should Have Been Tabled Before

OTTAWA, May 30.—Further reports of the engineer in charge of the work at Port Nelson, D. W. McLachlan, regarding the Hudson Bay route, will probably be tabled in the House in the afternoon, says a source in the House. The Minister of Railways to-day asked the minister of railways to-day if the adverse reports made by Engineer McLachlan, in 1917, and published a few days ago, were in the hands of the department in 1917. If they were not, he asked, have been acted upon and the public saved the expenditure of much money on its operations in subsequent years?

Hon. Mr. Graham said that they were not, perhaps, technically in the hands of the department. They were reported to the late chief engineer, W. A. Waterford, for his personal information. They had been brought out by the order of the House, moved by Hon. H. H. Stevens, in the House, and presented to Parliament. Mr. Graham added that there were other reports, not specified in the order of the House, which in his opinion ought to be tabled.

In reply to another question he said he could hardly table these later reports until they were ordered to do so. He would have his department make copies preparatory to according to any demand which might be made.

The incident was closed with applause from the Progressive benches.

General Council of Presbyterian Organization to Hold Next Biennial Meeting in Regina.

MONTREAL, May 30.—The Officers of the general council of the Women's Missionary Society, of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, for the biennial period, 1924-26, were elected to-day. Mrs. John MacGillivray, Toronto, being selected as president.

Invitations for the next biennial meeting were received from Winnipeg and Regina. It was decided to meet at Regina in 1926.

RED FACINGS ON COATS OF SOVIET ENVOYS WHO WILL BE KING'S GUESTS

LONDON, May 30.—The Russian delegates to the Anglo-Soviet conference apparently intend to accept the invitation to the King's levee on Monday, for they are discussing how they will dress. The cards of invitation specify "uniform or evening dress." As the Soviet delegates do not possess uniforms they must adopt the alternative. They seem, however, not to favor the idea of hiding the Communists red from such a conspicuous occasion.

The Daily Herald, the Labor organ, quotes M. Bittner, first secretary of the delegation, as saying: "There have been several proposals made, and possibly the final decision will be to wear black evening dress with red facings on the coats."

X-RAY INDICATED CANCER, RELIEVED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Splendid Fruit Medicine Performs Another Miracle.

The incalculable value of "Fruit-a-tives" can best be appreciated when it completely relieves some dangerous, deadly malady that is sapping the health and strength of the sufferer. After reading this letter, it is easy to understand why Mrs. Glover was glad to write about "Fruit-a-tives" in the hope that her experience would guide others to try this wonderful fruit medicine.

"For years, I was a sufferer with chronic Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation; the stomach pains were dreadful and finally my health broke down completely. After five X-rays had been taken, I was advised that my condition strongly resembled Cancer of the Stomach and an immediate operation was necessary. Dreading an operation, I consulted other physicians but grew steadily worse. I had almost given up hope when I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives" recommended by many friends.

Immediately my condition began to improve. Pains disappeared; soon Dyspepsia and constipation were things of the past. After a few months I was perfectly well again and have been in the best of health for over a year now." Mrs. ANNIE GLOVER, 16 Henry Street, Ottawa.

DIVING ACT TO LEAD BILL AT LOEW'S ALL WEEK

Madeline Berio and her four sisters, who have been featured in three New York Hippodrome productions, will feature a series of vaudeville portions of the program at Loew's for the entire week, commencing on Monday.

The largest tank used for diving exhibitions in vaudeville will be brought here and the entire program is expected to eclipse any other preceding ones of the season.

Their vaudeville exhibition consists of 35 different dives, and is concluded by Madeline Berio with a high dive from a trapeze swung from the roof of the stage. During the week Miss Berio will conduct amateur diving contests for the boys and girls of London, awarding valuable silver cups for the winners of each contest.

Laura La Plante, New Star, at the Patricia

Miss La Plante began her screen career in comedies. She learned to take falls, look cross-eyed from pie-battles and other trifles. She then took parts in Western pictures, where she learned to ride horseback, yell like an Indian and stand till she became numb.

Miss La Plante then became a leading woman in feature productions and recently signed a new contract with Universal. Her first feature under this contract, "Excitement," which comes to the Patricia Theater next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is adequately titled for two reasons. First for the theme of the story itself, and second, because in one picture it presents an opportunity for Miss La Plante to live again the excitement and thrills of three years' training.

The story reflects the experiences of a girl who shied from the paths of every-day routine for the rollicking thrills of adventure. She thrived on thrill from airplane stunts to fox hunting, from aquaplaning to auto racing.

CLUMSY "EXTRA" IS PLAYED BY GIBSON

Rome fell in a half a minute at Universal City. That isn't history, but its great comedy—and something of a thrill. The director of Hoot Gibson in "The Thrill Chaser," the feature picture coming to the Patricia Theater next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, directed by Hobart Henley, famous director of "The Flirt," "A Lady of Quality," in important scenes pertaining to an imaginary production, "The Last Day of Pompeii."

The finish to the sequence was a grand crash of the set, a reproduction of a Roman palace with Vesuvius in the background. It was elaborate and pretty. Gibson, as the cowboy hero, an extra at $3 a day, was supposed to catch the spear which was carrying in a rope—a very important rope-pulling creation down around him.

In many pictures of movie life the stars and directors do not appear for more than one "shot" apiece; not so in "The Thrill Chaser." King Baggot, Hobart Henley, Norman Kerry, Mary Quinn, Laura La Plante, Reginald Denny and many others appear in many scenes.

THEATER MANAGERS OBJECT TO NEW PLAN ON AMUSEMENT TAXES

Theater managers here have entered a protest against the alteration effected by the Provincial Government in the collection of amusement taxes whereby a central headquarters has been established at Toronto. This does away with the offices in the various cities, including London, through which the amusement tax tickets were formerly distributed.

The change was proposed from the standpoint of economy in the collection of amusement taxes. It is claimed by the theater managers, however, that as the distribution incurs small cost and the agents get but small percentages, the amount in salaries at head office and in the securing of tickets will, therefore, more than offset the saving, it is affirmed.

In particular the alteration will hamper organizations staging amateur productions, since it would in a measure prevent the purchasing of tickets in small quantities.

A protest will be made to Hon. W. H. Price, provincial treasurer, under whose department the change has been effected. Similar protests have been registered in other centers.

NO RUM TREATY WITH U. S. IS DRAFTED YET

OTTAWA, May 30.—(Canadian Press)—Negotiations which are under way between the Governments of Canada and the United States in relation to prohibition enforcement, are a continuation of those which were begun at the conference between United States and Dominion officials here last November. This was the statement of Premier King this morning. The content of the negotiations is not disclosed, but it is understood that the purpose of devising co-operative means to curb rum-running between Canada and the United States, lasted four days and it is understood was productive of a number of suggestions designed to be helpful in the drafting of a treaty. So far, however, the matter has not progressed beyond the point of negotiations.
