Saved From Years of Headaches.

MRS. HONORE VALIQUETTE

The wonders of the famous Fruit Treatment are only revealed when you read a letter like this, which comes from Madame Valiquette, 1183 Notre Dame St. W., Montreal.

"For three years, I was troubled with bad Headaches, Nervous Dyspepsia and Liver Troubles. Then, I began taking 'Fruit-a-tives'. Very soon my condition improved, and thanks to these wonderful fruit tablets I am once more entirely well!"

"Fruit-a-tives" is the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, intensified and combined with tonics—and forms a complete fruit treatment for Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Skin Troubles.

25c. and 50c. a box—at dealers or sent by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

A Foe to Asthma. Give asthma half a chance and it gains ground rapidly. But give it repeated treatments of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy and it will fall back even faster. There is no half way measure about this remedy. It goes right to work and drives asthma out. It reaches the inmost breathing passages and leaves no place for the trouble to lurk. Have it by you for ready use.

BACK AGED TERRIBLY

Mrs. McMahon Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down condition after the birth of my baby boy. I had terrible pains and backache, and was tired and weak, not fit to do my work and care for my three little children. One day I received your little book and read it, and gave up taking the medicine I had and began taking the Vegetable Compound. I feel much better now and am not ashamed to tell what it has done for me. I recommend it to any woman I think feels as I do."

—Mrs. J. R. McMAHON, 153 Harvey St., Chatham, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has for nearly fifty years been restoring sick, ailing women to health and strength. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful periods, irregularities, tired, worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. McMahon writes, as well as by one woman telling another. These women know, and are willing to tell others, what it did for them; therefore, it is surely worth your trial.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women."

"On Parliament Hill"

(By a Member of The Parliamentary Press Gallery)

Ottawa, May 12th, 1924.—The Budget debate is gradually making for itself a reputation for wearisome re-iteration. Every second member of parliament seems to have heard a call to place before Canada his particular ideas upon the hundred and one matters that come under the aegis of the Budget and the result is a prolongation of the discussion beyond reasonable lengths. It had been hoped last week would see an end of talk, and the division; now, it is fairly certain that the better part of this present week will be devoted to the Robb proposals. Speeches, for the most part, have been needlessly long, two hours having come to be regarded by the average member of the House as a sort of standard for oratorical effort. On Wednesday of last week, there remained fully 40 members anxious to get a Handsard in the Budget debate; how many of these, by this time of writing, have decided to "let George do it" calls for too much arithmetical calculation to make the result of even passing interest.

There were four outstanding addresses during last week instalment of the debate, those of Messrs. La Sueur (Conservative), and Raymond and Euler (Liberals) Ontario, and of Hon. Mr. Motherwell Minister of Agriculture, Mr. La Sueur took high ground and in a non-partisan effort put up the first constructive case presented, as yet, by the Opposition; particularly effective was his reference to the vast trade possibilities awaiting Canada in South America. Mr. Raymond's speech was a cautious and careful exposition of his attitude in opposing the fiscal proposals of the Budget, on the score of the injury likely to be done thereby to the industries of his constituency, the City of Brantford. In the case of Mr. Euler, there was less careful phrasing but a frankness and candor that won the admiration of the whole House. Mr. Euler spoke in the voice of Kitchener, Preston, Waterloo and Hespeler and plainly intimated that he must oppose the Budget because of its tariff clauses. He repudiated absolutely the Liberal platform of 1919, to which, he said, he never had subscribed and the implementing of which he could not now condone, inasmuch as it was by way of departure from the "stability of tariff" that he had been led to expect from the pre-election statements of Liberal leaders.

Implement Industry Not "Ruined"

Distinctly disconcerting to the Conservative Opposition was the publication, last week, by the Massey Harris Company of an extremely optimistic statement in respect of the farm implement business of that huge Canadian concern. The manifesto intimated, simply and in so many words, that the Massey-Harris Company was going to carry on "Business as usual" and, more than that, that the Company was preparing to pass on to the farmer, at once the saving in cost price that was made possible by the Budget. This statement coming gratuitously from Canada's greatest implement manufactory just at a time when Conservative members were bemoaning daily the inevitable ruin of the implement industry in Canada, was, as Mr. Motherwell said "a sad blow" to the Opposition gloom dispensers. A similar silencer was the highly-optimistic vision of the future of Hamilton as the home of industrial concerns, as painted in the press, two weeks after the Budget had been tabled, by Mr. Kirkpatrick, Industrial Commissioner of the "Ambitious City."

Political theories of impending blue-ruin are of little avail, after all, when concrete evidences of prosperity and the will to "carry on" are being put before the public by the very interests for whom the untimely obsequies were being prepared by too-easily-persuaded friends.

Of more than passing interest to the public generally was a remark dropped by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, at the annual dinner of the Parliamentary Press Gallery. Making eloquent reference to the place made for themselves in Canadian history by the early French explorers, Mr. Lemieux intimated that, in the not far distant future, he might present to the House of Commons its first stained glass windows. The subject of the decorative window, the Speaker added, would be the landing on Gaspe peninsula of Jacques Cartier.

Church Union Compromise
 The Church Union Bill is still before Committee and probably will not emerge before the middle of this week. The fight has been not only keen, but bitter in the extreme, and in well-informed circles there has grown up the impression that the probable outcome will be an amendment acceptable to both sides; an amendment whereby the Bill will be reported, its principle carried and approved, with a provision whereby individual Presbyterian congregations so desiring may, within a period of six months or one year, register their desire not to be included in the proposed United Church of Canada and retain their present status and property rights.

Frank Clark has sold his farm of 200 acres to Francis Hubbard. Albert Griffin has recently sold his farm formerly owned by John Canton, and has moved to Sarnia with his wife.

Miss Gladys MacDougall, Victoria Hospital, London, spent the weekend at her home on the London road.

Mrs. H. L. Forbes, Toronto, is spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Grieve. Her husband, Dr. Forbes, went to Britain in charge of a boat-load of cattle and will be absent several weeks.

The young people's league of the Brooks Methodist church held a debate and program on Wednesday evening. The subject of the debate was "Resolved that Canada is of more importance to Great Britain than Australia." The affirmative side was upheld by Kenneth and Maxwell Strangway of Ennisville and the negative side by Leslie MacDonald and Ford McAlpine, P. and E. townline. The negative won by 7 points.

The judges for the debate, Miss V. Gregory, of Copleston, Miss S. Cran public school teacher in the vicinity and Wm. Waghorne of Mandaamin. There was a large attendance including visitors from Wyoming, Copleston, Sarnia and Mandaamin. The program consisted of duets by Ida McIntyre and Harold Smith of Plympton and Rosie Salisbury of Copleston quartette by Vera Trott, Martha Knudsen, Elgin Dennis and Angus Maw, recitations and readings by Nora Hendy of Marthaville, Miss McRae of Mandaamin and Annie Ford, P. & E. townline. At the close a splendid lunch was served.

PLYMPTON
