DEANERY MEETING AT ANNAPOLIS

Successful Sessions Held in the Historic Town on Monday and Tuesday

The clergy of the Rural Deanery of Annapolis met on Monday at Annapolis Royal, Nov. 28th and 29th. During the first afternoon a financial meeting of rectors and church wardens took place, at which the Deanery apportionment of $3,150.00 for missionary and other purposes was subdivided among the parishes.

At the clerical chapter meeting the study of the Epistle to the Ephesians in the original was continued. Canon Morris contributing another of his interesting and instructive papers on this subject.

Other papers read were as follows: "The Mother's Union" by Rev. A. W. L. Smith, and "The Unconscious Influence of the Catholicity of the Church on the World at Large" by Rev. M. Taylor; both were practical and impressive and were followed by interesting debates.

The usual routine business was transacted and a grant of $50.00 from Deanery funds was voted toward the King's College campaign.

The Rev. E. Underwood, rector of Bridgetown, who has been secretary of the Deanery for fourteen years, made a vain attempt to resign that office, but was met by such a storm of protest that he eventually withdrew his resignation. The official Deanery Service was held in St. Luke's Church on Tuesday morning, when the Holy Communion was celebrated by Rev. W. Driffield, Rural Dean, and the sermon on clerum was preached by the Ven. Archdeacon Watson.

Services also took place on both Monday and Tuesday evenings, participated in by all the assembled clergy; the preachers were: Rev. Canon Morris and Rev. M. Taylor. Arrangements were made for the next meeting at Granville Ferry next April, papers on interesting subjects being promised by the Revs. J. Reeks, T. C. Mellor and E. Underwood. Thanks were expressed by unanimous vote of the chapter to the Rector and Mrs. Mellor, the hostesses who entertained, and the organist and choir who braved the elements to be present at service. The whole gathering was a delightful and profitable one, in spite of exceedingly inclement weather.

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL

(Spectator)

Mrs. F. C. Whitman returned from Halifax Saturday.

Alton Collins spent the week end at his old home here on his way to Halifax, having been transferred from the Yarmouth to the Halifax agency of the Royal Bank.

Miss Jean McGillivray, stenographer at the Entomological Laboratory, has been called to Boston by the illness of her sister, and Miss Marie Cox, of Cambridge, has taken her place. Rev. L. F. Wallace assisted Rev. Mr. Gibson at the Baptist Church here last Sunday evening, much to the pleasure of his many old friends, and also preached at Granville Centre in the afternoon.

Fort Anne had a visit this week from Capt. Knight, Royal Canadian Engineers, who condemned the bridge over the moat and ordered a new decking of 3-inch plank besides new stringers where they had rotted. He also staked off the ground for the new town building, 100x110 feet, for which the necessary lease documents will now be drawn.

The capacity of Frost's Restaurant was tested very creditably on Monday evening at a banquet given by Mr. Bartram to workmen to whom he had promised a spread if they rushed the work on King's new theatre so that it could be used for the meeting last Saturday night. There were 26 participants and at the close Mr. and Mrs. Frost were highly complimented.

A very pleasant function was that of Saturday evening last at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McDermott when they were given a surprise party by a few friends of St. Luke's Church and a basket of dainty things was presented to Mrs. and Miss McDermott. The occasion was one of much enjoyment to all participants, including the rector, who with Mrs. Mellor, were among the party.

The Spectator deprecates the probability that George E. Sanders, the talented chief of the government Entomological Laboratory in this town, will leave here at the end of the year to accept a lucrative commercial position in Louisville, Kentucky. If Mr. Sanders really goes it will be a distinct and serious loss to the town, to the entire Valley, to the fruit industry and to the government officials, for as an entomologist he has risen to the world's foremost rank in ability and as a citizen he is universally esteemed. His fine farm at Round Hill is advertised for sale.

DIGBY SCHR. CAUGHT IN GALE

The Dorothy M. Smart Had Keel Damaged And Her Sails Torn.

The Digby fishing schooner Dorothy M. Smart, Capt. William Ross, is in port at Yarmouth in a somewhat damaged condition. The vessel was fishing on the grounds north of the Lurcher Lightship when she was struck by the terrific blow of last Friday morning, and as the wind increased into a strong gale, Captain Ross decided to turn into port for shelter, but before he reached Yarmouth Sound the vessel's lower sails were practically all split and badly torn, so much so that it was impossible to work the vessel quickly and as a result she mis-ported when running into the outer harbor and struck on what is known as Corning Rock near Bug Light, and remained fast for some hours during which the vessel pounded heavily.

Later the tug Mary H. Cann went to the assistance of the schooner, hoisted and took her up to one of the rocks where on Saturday a survey was held by Port Warden Ferguson, and Capt. F. A. Laid, who recommended that the craft be hauled out on the Marine Railway.

Monday morning she was placed on the slip, and further survey revealed that she sustained considerable damage about the keel and garboards, which will take about ten days to repair. Besides that work the schooner will require a new suit of lower sails. The Dorothy M. Smart is owned by the Maritime Fish Corporation, and Capt. J. E. Kinney, of Yarmouth, has been appointed to look after her owners' interest, while the vessel is undergoing repairs.

WEST VICTORY

Mr. Arthur Pulley left Monday for Round Lake for the winter. Miss Ethel Devaney was the week end guest of Miss Ruby Simpson. Mr. Chester Pulley has gone in the rabbit business. We wish him success. We are pleased to see Mr. Charles Trimmer pass through here occasionally.

Mr. Harry Milbury left Monday for Victoria Bridge to work in the pulp mill.

The men are making good use of the snow hauling long wood and cord wood.

Mr. Richard C. Brooks, of Centreisle, was the week end guest of Mr. George Berry.

Mrs. Grace Devaney and daughter Laura spent Saturday with friends in Bear River.

We are sorry to state that Mr. Kenneth Milbury is confined to the house with rheumatism. Mr. Norman Trimmer, of Greenland, called on friends in this place on Thursday, December 1st.

Mr. Clevis Jefferson, of Bear River, and Miss Waterman, of East Victory, passed through this place on Friday last.

Mrs. (Dr.) Lovett made a flying trip to this place on Thursday, 25th, calling at the home of Mr. Kenneth Milbury. Mr. Arthur Pulley and daughter Edith spent Sunday, November 27th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cross, Clementsvalle.

DALHOUSIE WEST

The men are busy hauling stave wood to Bealers & Peters' mill on the Morse Road. We are glad to see Mr. Jack Buckler home after being away on the Valhalla all summer.

The Epistle Ladies Aid meets at the home of Mrs. David Shipp on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Arthur Buckler, who has been to work for several months in St. John, has returned home.

We were very pleased to have Rev. Louis Wallace with us on Saturday and Sunday evening. He preached to a large congregation. He certainly received hearty greetings from a very sorry Mrs. Wallace could not accompany him on his visit.

JOHN PARIS IS GUILTY OF MURDER

Truro Man Charged With the Murder of Sadie McAuley, Convicted at St. John.

St. John, N.B., Dec. 2.—"Guilty" was the momentous word that fell upon the ears of John Paris, charged with the murder of nine-year-old Sadie McAuley near Riverview Park here on August 2nd, when shortly before midnight tonight he stood in the court room to hear the verdict announced by the foreman of the jury. Paris shook his head from side to side and seemed to be muttering to himself and breathing heavily when the verdict was announced. He was taken out of the court room back to the jail. Judge Chandler announced that he would not pass sentence on the prisoner this evening. The jury was out approximately four hours before they returned with the verdict.

The trial which culminated this evening in the conviction of Paris was drawn out over a period of ten days. All the witnesses in the case were in on Thursday evening and both of today's sessions of the court were occupied with the addresses of G. H. Vernon, for the defense, and Hon. J. P. Byrne, Attorney General of New Brunswick, for the Crown, and the charge of Judge Chandler to the jury. The Judge completed his charge just about six o'clock and then sent the jury for their evening meal announcing that he would hold the court open during the evening in case they should arrive at a verdict.

Three times during the course of the evening the jury came in for the last time at 11:30 they returned to the court for information. On the first occasion they asked for instructions regarding the law on manslaughter. On the second occasion they wished to have certain evidence read to them, and the third time they wished to hear the testimony of another witness.

When the foreman announced that the jury was ready with its decision, the Judge ordered the prisoner to be sent for, and in a short time he was brought from the jail. When the verdict was announced, the Judge refused to allow the crowd to leave the room for several minutes afterwards. Despite the fact that the court room had been closed the news of the verdict filtered out through the large crowd that were outside the building unable to gain admittance. When the prisoner appeared in the custody of several officers and was about to be placed in the patrol wagon, some one in the crowd shouted "lynch him," but no demonstration followed.

The trial just concluded was the second trial of Paris in the McAuley murder case. The first trial, which was begun towards the last of September, resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

DEATH OF MRS. PYLE

A Prominent Nova Scotian Passes Away in New York.

Late New York newspapers contain the following obituary:

PLYE—Hester A., widow of the late James Pyle, on Tuesday, Nov. 8th, in her 94th year. Funeral private. Mrs. Pyle was formerly Miss Hester Whitman, a native of Boylston, Guysboro County, N.S. In New York city she married James Pyle, (also a native of Guysboro Co.) and they lived a long and happy married life in that city. Mr. Pyle was known almost the world over as the originator and manufacturer of "Pyle's Pearline"; and he died over 25 years ago—a wealthy manufacturer. He left his great business to his sons, but death claiming them, the business was sold and is carried on by others, though under the original name of "Pyle's Pearline."

Mr. and Mrs. Pyle were personal friends of B. B. Hardwick, Esq., the popular Mayor of Annapolis Royal, who has travelled the entire American continent in the interest of "Pyle's Pearline."

NEW SCHOONER FOR CAPT. CLAYTON MORRISSEY

Word from Gloucester says that plans have been drawn and work will go forward on another new fishing vessel to be commanded by Capt. Clayton Morrissey in the salt fishing branch on Grand Banks. The new craft, a prospective competitor for the honor of challenging for the International Fishermen's trophy, will be of the model of the old Oriole and designed by Thomas McManus of Boston, and a practical commercial fisherman, with no radical departure from the present accepted standard of the modern fishing vessel.

The new vessel will be built by Arthur D. Story, of Essex. She will be a little longer overall than the Oriole, about six feet, and will measure about 105 feet on the waterline. Capt. Morrissey and Mr. Story will be her principal owners. No name has been selected as yet.

The Oriole, built at Essex, in 1908, was one of the fastest fishermen ever launched. Besides her speed, she was good in every way, able and a big carrier. She was run down and sunk at sea some eight or ten years ago. If the new vessel proves speedy enough, she will be entered in the elimination race off there in the fall.

WASHBURN'S LATEST FILM "A FULL HOUSE" FINE COMEDY DRAMA

Popular Star Has Congenial and Humorous Role in New Production.

Bryant Washburn has in "A Full House," a new Paramount comedy drama, another one of those delightfully conceived comedy roles which have brought him such a high measure of success. "A Full House" was scenarized by Alice Eytton from the famous Fred Jackson stage farce. It will be presented at the Primrose Theatre for two days beginning Friday next.

In the production Mr. Washburn appears as George Howell, a young attorney who gets into most amazing difficulties when he leaves his bride for a few hours to go on a business trip. This journey has a most amusing maze of complications involving another man's love letters, stolen jewelry, policemen and thieves. Mr. Washburn's impersonation is a finey drawn characterization that brings a continual stream of laughs.

Opposite the comedian is Lois Wilson, the pretty and popular leading woman. It has been some time since Miss Wilson has appeared in a Washburn picture. Hundreds of her admirers will welcome her back to the company.

FALKLAND RIDGE

Alvin Dorey returned to Berwick on Wednesday, November 30th. The farmers loaded a car of potatoes at Springfield, December 2nd. The W.M.A. Society convened at the home of Mrs. C. R. Marshall, November 30th. Mrs. Mary Sproule, who has been visiting relatives at Bridgewater, returned home Saturday, 26th. Mrs. Anthony Wagner and Willis Wagner are spending a few days with Mrs. G. Baker at Middleton.

Mrs. C. McLean, who has been visiting friends here, went to New Germany December 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Graves, of Aylesford, spent the week end, guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Marshall. Mrs. William Layton went to Middleton December 2nd to meet her husband who has been for some months past at Sydney.

A number of the young people went for a sleigh drive to East Dalhousie and spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. W. O. Wright.

PARADISE

Mrs. Rupert Chesley is visiting friends in Clarence. Mrs. H. H. Saunders recently visited with friends in Paradise West. Mr. Spurr has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. I. M. Longley. The Misses Wambolt have been the guests of their sister, Mrs. A. W. Gillis. Mrs. (Dr.) Logan, Pennsylvania, spent a week, the guest of Mrs. H. F. Layte. Mrs. G. N. Banks has returned from a visit with friends and relatives in Massachusetts. The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. H. D. Starratt on Thursday last. The usual number were present. An Xmas program was rendered in which the children of the Elementary department took part.
