

The publication of the foregoing narrative is induced by the expectation which is entertained by many 'military men, that arrangements will be made for effectually preventing desertion both from the British and the United States colours.

END OF VOL. I

LONDON

Printed by Schulze and Co., 13, Poland Street.