

General Assembly in favor of shortening the theological course, so far from meeting with the approval, receives the most pronounced disapproval of the student body.

In view of the constant tendency to raise the intellectual standard of other learned professions, it would be most unfortunate if there should be any retrograde movement in theology. The cry for more Biblical theology is a most hopeful sign of the times, and the Honor Courses of our colleges might be improved by requiring a thorough historical and exegetical knowledge of larger portions of the Bible than are now found in the curriculums of many theological colleges.

THE JOURNAL.

Since the publication of the January number of the JOURNAL a few mistakes have appeared which require explanation. In the account of the installation of Mr. Brandt the name of the Rev. R. P. Duclos was placed in the list of those who were present instead of among those who took part in the programme.

We have learned too, almost by accident, that some old subscribers have not been receiving the JOURNAL regularly. This is most unfortunate. Perhaps the business board was never more careful in making arrangements for what they hoped would prove the satisfactory delivery of the JOURNAL, and yet in spite of their care some have been disappointed. It is hardly fair, however, to blame the business board, as they must believe that all are receiving the paper who do not send in any complaint. Should there be any others who have not received any of the back numbers of this Session, if they will report the fact to the Treasurer, they will be supplied as far as possible with the missing numbers.

The time for sending out the bills for the JOURNAL has again come round, and we hope that all will be met in a prompt and practical way so that the Treasurer may be able to report a satisfactory state of finances and the JOURNAL will go on its way rejoicing.
