

door we come to is the entrance to a small lecture room or theatre for demonstrating purposes. This will be used for pathological and other demonstrations to at least 50 students at a time. Close to the door of this theatre is one of the entrances to the Histological Laboratory, the other entrance being to the right of the head of the stairs. This laboratory will have, commencing about its centre, a stage two feet six inches high, reached by three or four steps on which will be two tables extending across the room. Behind this will be another of a similar height and arranged in the same manner. There will also be four tables ten feet long with microscopes on the floor level, the tables on the stage being provided with three or four microscopes. This arrangement of stages is to prevent students standing in front of the tables from obstructing the light of those using the microscopes. This laboratory will be furnished with thirty microscopes, also microtomes and other apparatus for practical work.

In the annex on this flat will be a large lecture room, capable of seating comfortably 300 students. Its measurements are 56 by 46. This theatre will be utilized as the anatomy lecture room besides other purposes. Separate entrances are provided for the students. The Professor of Anatomy will have his room opening off this theatre. Beneath the higher seats will be rooms eight feet high and twelve wide at narrowest part.
