FRONTENAC COUNTY .- The County cf Frontonac adjoins the city of Kingston, and a vote took place there the same day. The majority in favor of the adoption of the Act in Frontenao was 536, every municipality, with two exceptions, giving handsome majorities.

PENDING VOTES .- The Government have ordered votes for the adoption of the Act in the following counties in Ontario: -Lincoln, Middlesex, Perth, June 18th; Hastings, July 2nd; and Guyaboro, Nova Sootia, June 25th. The Scott Act has now been adopted in fifty-six counties and four cities in the Dominion, and rejected in three counties and three cities. The total aggregate majority in favor of its adoption is 45,432.

KINGSTON.—The voting on the adoption of the Scott Act in Kingston ra the 14th of May turned out disappointing to the temperance people, as the majority was small against it-about fifty. There was a strong sgainst it—about fifty. There was a strong fight and a thorough canvas, but in Kingston, as in nearly all our other large cities, the liquor interests are strong and it will require a good deal of agitation to educate the electorate up to the point of voting them down. This is the second vote of this character in Kingston within a few years, and it is a pretty significant fact that the anti-majority this time was not one quarter as great as it was before. Probably another such a victory would be more than the liquor men of laingston could stand.

The indignation roused among the temperan e people by the attempt of the Senate to mutilate the Scott Act of its real prohibitory provisions is very great. Nearly everywhere strong resolutions are being adopted against the matter, but, of course, the Senate is out of harms way so far as public opinion is concerned, and its members can, therefore, ven ture to act according to their own aweet will, or their own aweet interest either, in defiance of the will and the interests of the people. Happily it is otherwise with the House of Commons, and the chances are that the Commons will not venture to adopt the Senate amendments. The various church conferences are unanimously adopting resolu-tions against the Senate amendments, and probably two-thirds of the Protestant minis-ters of the Dominion are raising their voices in that direction. On the other hand Sen-ator Frank Smith—himself a liquor seller awor r rank Smith—himself a liquor seller—and several others, are presenting petitions in favor of the wine and beer clause. It is simply absurd, however, to say that these petitions voice public opinion on this question.

GOOD TEMPLARS

R. W. G. LODGE -The Annual session of the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of Good Templars was held in Toronto last week, and the session was large ly attended and pleasant and narmonious throughout. We intend in next week's TRUTH to give a report of the entire proceedings.

GRAND LODGE SESSION .- The Annual session of the Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. of this Province will be held in the hall of Reliance Lodge, city of Hamilton, com-mencing Tuesday, June 23rd, Arrangements have been made for reduced railway fares and hotel rates for all numbers desiring to at-tend. The name and address of all such should be sent to the G. W. Secretary as early as

From Annapolis, N. S.

The Canada Temperance Act has been in operation in this county for about four years, but owing to technical objections being raised, and the vexations delays of the law in relation thereto, it has almost been a dead letter until within the last year or so. A branch of the Dominion Alliance has been formed, and they have instituted proceedings against those engaged in the illicit sale of the contraband article, in which they have had the sympathy of the clergy. The V result has been that almost altogether the P sale has ceased, and our county is nearly free from the vice and crime which exist in counties where the Act is not in operation.

The temperance people were very much surprised at the action of the Senate in passing the amendments of Dr. Aimon, but have faith in the members of the House of Commons (who are responsible to the people) that they will preserve the Act intact, thereby preventing the amendments from becoming law.

Fraternally yours,

W. H. WKLDON.

NEWS AND NOTES.

Medical testimony on the injurious effects of intoxicants is always valuable. Prof. M'Kendrick, M. D., L. L. D., President of the Glasgow University Total Abstinence Society, recently gave his reason; for adopting total abstinence principles. There was he said, first, the physiological argument. he said, first, the physiological argument.—
Thr—could not be the slightest doubt that hab—indulgence in slocholic stimulants beyond a certain minimum was after a time invariably injurious. It had been proved that a perfect state of healthand vigor could be maintained without their use. The question, too, was a moral or a. When a manor woman indulged immodewately in alcoholic drink, there was a degredation of the moral character. They became untruthful and dishonest. They became untruthful and dishonest. They hecame untruthful and dishonest of the moral truthful and truthful and truthful and dishonest of the moral truthful and

CABUINAL MANNING .- In answer to a let ter recently received Cardinal Mauning expresses himself as follows: "The statemen that men cannot be made sober by Act of Parliament' is none of mine, but a silly saying of the opponents of the temperance movement. I have often answered it by a saying almost as silly, though espable of saying almost as silly, though espable of being drawn out into very grave truth, namely, 'that men may be made drunk by Act of Parliament;' that is to say, that the present state of the law in respect to the drink traffic gives such enormous facilities to cover the whole face of the country with direct and glaring temptations to intemperance, that Parliament is responsible and culpable in a large measure for the drunkenness that is destroying our people. In my belief the only just and adequate remedy for this is Local Option, or Local Veto; that is to say, the people have a right of self-defence. You may make any use you like of this reply."

The Liberal Temperance Oreed. BY J. S. DUNBAR.

Scott Act law and Prohibition— Oh what silly, senseless crics, What a puerile inamition, What a scandalous imposition On our rights and liberties.

We have no need of restriction, Save regarding kinds of drinks; Then from there it each make selection, And all drink to their satisfaction, Despite what this or that one think.

This would preserve the people's freedom; And swell the nation's revenue, Make plenty work to clothe and feed 'em, And plenty drinks to all who need 'em, To gulp and guzzle as they choose.

Let them dri-k then, freely, fully, When or where they have occasion, And go at it, calmly, coolly, Till appetite becomes unruly, And then restrict by moral sussion.

Such the creed so proudly vaunted By the Liberal Temperance band; Though played out long since, yet undaunted, They hold 'tie just the thing that's wanted And all that's needed in our land.

The Story of a Ring.

Many stories have been related of the re cognition of persons by a ring. The follow ing instance has been recorded by De Thou and other French historians.

In 1562 Rouen was besieged by the Pro. testants, and the Governor of the city, Montgomery, having observed the dauntless bravery of an officer under his command, Francois de Civille, intrusted him with the defense of a fortified gate.

While thus engaged he was shot through the head by an arquebusier and rendered insensible. Falling from the rampart and considered dead, he was thrown into a ditch and some earth was lightly thrown over him. He lay thus from ten in the morning until six in the evening.

His faithful servant, named Barro, hearing of the sad fate of his master, obtained permission to search for the body and have permission to search for the body and have it buried. All his care seemed fruitless, for the body was disfigured and covered withmud. He was about to return dis-consolate, when he observed, by the light of the moon, something shining brilliantly, and, stooping down, he found that it proceeded from a diamond which his master ceeded from a diamond which his master wore in a ring.

On touching the finger he fancied there was some warmth in it, and he conveyed the body tenderly to the garrison, where the body was examined and pronounced lifeles. The servant, however, was not satisfied with this opinion, and remained watching with his master until, after four days of insensibility, Civil'e regained his senses and was restored to consciousness.

This remarkable man, who was born in 1537, and died in 1614, was the hero of numberiess adventures and critical escapes. P'Aubigne, the historian relates: "I saw him at the National Assemblies, a Deputy from Normandy, forty two years after his from Normandy, forty two years after his wound, and I observed that when we signed our depositions he always added, Francois de Civille, three times dead, three times buried, and three times, by God's grace, restored to life."

A young lawyer is the amartest thing in the world, except a young widow.

"Doctor," said a despairing patient to his physician, "I am in a dreadful condition! I can neither lay nor set What shall I do?" "I think you had better recet," was the reply.

Miss Fisher—"I really don't think I shall take part again in theatricals. I always feel as though I were making a fool of my Lelf." Pilk'ns (who always says the wrong thing; — "Oh, everybody thinks that."
