NOTES.

- (a) P-Q 5 was the move here.
(b) Black takes immediate advantage of White's weak move.
(c) P x P in passing is best.
(d) We think here that White should have taken Kt with B then played Q-K 2, and Kt-B 3 and Black could not have saved his pawn.
(e) Black purposely leaves his pawn to its fate for sake of an attack.
(f) Too late now to avail.

THE selfish languor and indifference of to-day's possession is the consequence of the selfish ardour of yesterday's pursuit; the scorn and weariness which cries vanitas vanitatum is but the lassitude of the sick appetite palled with pleasure.—Thackeray.

FOR scrofula in every form Hood's Sarsaparilla is a radical, reliable remedy. It has an unequalled record of cures.

LIFE is misery to thousands of people who have the taint of scrofula in their blood. The agonies caused by the dreadful running sores and other manifestations of this disease are beyond description. There is no remedy equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, salt rheum, and every form of blood disease. It is reasonably sure to benefit all who give it a fair trial. Be sure to get Hood's.

TENNYSON'S PENSION.

"RICHARD MILNES," said Carlyle one day, withdrawing his pipe from his mouth, as they were seated together in the little house in Cheyne Row, "when are you going to get that pension for Alfred Tennyson?"

"My dear Carlyle," responded Milnes, "the thing is not so easy as you seem to suppose. What will my constituents say if I do get the pension for Tennyson? They know nothing about him or his poetry, and they will probably think he is some poor relation of my own, and that the whole affair is a job."

Solemn and emphatic was Carlyle's response.

"Richard Milnes, on the Day of Judgment, when the Lord asks you why you didn't get that pension for Alfred Tennyson, it will not do to lay the blame on your constituents; it is you that will be damned."—Life and Letters of Lord Houghton by T. Wemyss Reid.

Most arts require long study and application, but the most useful art of all, that of pleasing, requires only desire.—Chesterfield.

THERE are two ways of establishing your reputation—to be praised by honest men and to be abused by rogues. It is best, however, to secure the former, because it will invariably be accompanied by the latter.—Colton.

WHAT A SOMERSET (PA.) COUNTY MAN THINKS OF THE INVALIDS' HOTEL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE, LOCATED AT BUFFALO, N. Y.—W. H. Miller, of Stoyestown, Pa., who has been suffering for nearly a quarter of a century from an affection of the kidneys, resulting in the necessity for a surgical operation, after consulting and being treated by a number of our own doctors, as well as receiving the treatment and advice of some of the most eminent professional men of the land, finally became acquainted with the above institute, and their mode and means of treatment. After due correspondence with the World's Dispensary Medical Association, the proprietors of the Invalids' Hotel, he was induced to visit said institution. On arriving there and after being fully acquainted with the abundant means they possess, he lost no time in making the necessary arrangements for the required treatment. After remaining for nearly four weeks at the Invalids' Hotel, where you receive the kindest and best treatment, and where patients are loath to leave, after recovery, he returned to his family and friends a cured and happy man. In giving this to the public, Mr. Miller wishes to say that he owes the aforesaid Institute nothing but his best wishes. And the fact that his own success and great relief is due to similar testimonials from others who were successfully treated there for all manner of chronic diseases from every State and Territory of the Union, Canada, Mexico, and South America. It is a marvel of success. He further says, should this fall to the notice of any sufferers from chronic diseases, such as seem to baffle the skill of your own physician—but first and above all give your own physicians a fair and impartial trial, and all the available means offered, as Somerset County may justly feel proud of her medical men, who spare no means nor time in the treatment of all cases entrusted to their charge. And if they fail, in many cases, it will be an act of charity to point you to a place where a probable cure may be effected, which is the humble intent of the above communication. The above Association is courteous, prompt and reliable.—Somerset (Pa.) Herald.

THE VALUE

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for Catarrh is daily becoming better known, as people recognize in its use the common-sense method of treating this disease. Local applications can do but little good. Catarrh is constitutional in character and therefore requires a constitutional remedy. Hood's Sarsaparilla attacks the disease at its foundation by eliminating the impurities in the blood which cause and feed it, and by restoring the affected membrane to healthy condition. A book containing full information will be sent free to all who wish it.

THOUGHT SHE HAD CONSUMPTION.

"My daughter has had catarrh for 9 years. She coughed and expectorated so much that every one thought she had consumption. I tried everything I heard of but gained no relief. I sent her to Florida in September for the winter, and there her friends advised her to use Hood's Sarsaparilla. She wrote me that she had taken three bottles and never felt so good in her life."—Mrs. McKnight, 137 Williamson St., Newport, Ky.
