

Business of the House

But, Mr. Speaker, "legislomania" or our mania of legislating on a lot of small details in order to improve the administration of legislation in this country will, in the end, pester everybody and limit everyone's activity, particularly that of the provincial and municipal governments, thus doing more harm than good. There must be, somewhere, a little latitude left to provincial governments, municipalities and private enterprises.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, my conclusion is that the notice of motion of the hon. member for Regina-Lake Centre, even though its intent is worthy of praise, is not acceptable because it is not necessary. It represents an incursion in the provincial jurisdiction, which is incompatible with certain positions taken by the leaders of the member's party. Furthermore, it is excessively strict—

Mr. Deputy Speaker: Order. The hour appointed for consideration of private members' business has now expired.

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Aiken: Mr. Speaker, I wonder whether the house leader would indicate the business for tomorrow.

Mr. Macdonald (Rosedale): Mr. Speaker, we will continue to completion, I hope, the committee stage of the bill with regard to the Farm Improvement Loans Act, thereafter we will call second reading of the bill to amend the Farm Credit Act and carry that through second reading and committee stages.

At six o'clock the house adjourned, without question put, pursuant to standing order.
