

	PAGE
the Treaty. — Strange Conduct of Bradstreet. — Michilimackinac reoccupied. — Embassy of Morris. — Bradstreet at Sandusky. — Return of the Army. — Results of the Expedition .	168

CHAPTER XXVII.

1764.

BOUQUET FORCES THE DELAWARES AND SHAWANOEES TO SUE FOR PEACE.

Renewal of Indian Ravages. — David Owens, the White Savage. — Advance of Bouquet: his Message to the Delaware; the March of his Army; he reaches the Muskingum. — Terror of the Enemy. — Council with the Indians. — Speech of the Delaware Orator. — Reply of Bouquet; its Effect. — The English Camp. — Letter from Bradstreet. — Desperate Purpose of the Shawanoees. — Peace Council. — Delivery of English Prisoners. — Situation of Captives among the Indians; their Reluctance to return to the Settlements. — The Forest Life. — Return of the Expedition	214
--	-----

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1764.

THE ILLINOIS.

Boundaries of the Illinois. — The Missouri. — The Mississippi. — Plants and Animals of the Illinois; its Early Colonization. — Creoles of the Illinois; its Indian Population	261
---	-----

CHAPTER XXIX.

1763-1765.

PONTIAC RALLIES THE WESTERN TRIBES.

Cession of French Territory in the West. — St. Louis. — Saint-Ange de Bellerive. — Designs of Pontiac: his French Allies; he visits the Illinois; his Great War-belt. — Repulse of Loftus. — The English on the Mississippi. — New Orleans in 1765. — Pontiac's Embassy at New Orleans	272
--	-----