

as in the Articles, how clearly the great and leading doctrines of the gospel are brought out; such as the Fall of man, his Redemption through Christ alone, the Sacrifice of the Son of God for the sins of the world, the doctrine of the blessed Trinity, the Godhead of Christ and of the Holy Spirit, the need of good works and of a holy life, the certainty of a judgment to come. All these doctrines are plainly and broadly held by the Church to which we belong. Truly it may be said of her in this respect, that she is 'built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone.'

And is it a small blessing to have so sound and faithful a Guide? Instead of being 'tossed to and fro by every wind of doctrine,' we have something solid and substantial to fall back upon. We are founded upon a rock, which never shifts nor wavers. It is possible that ministers may sometimes be unfaithful, or their teach-
