The special preacher at the evensong service was flev. Ceanon Gould, D.D., general service, and it promises to be a close one in this ward. At 11.30 o'clock last night an alarm of fire rung in from Gilmore and Dundas-streets, brought detachments from three stations to the stable of Charles Taylor, vegetable merchant, at 2119 Dundas-street, which had caught on fire thro some unknown cause. The building was of frame and the fire quickly spread to where the two horses were kept. Many efforts were made to save these, but in vain. The terrified animals would not leave the blazing building, as is so often the case, and were burned to death. The damage amounted to about $400, only half of which was covered by insurance. On their way west, the Perthavenue fire-engine skidded on the slipper pavement opposite Pacific-avenue and crashed into the kerb. The middle horse of the three slipped and fell directly under the huge engine, but fortunately between the wheels. It was extricated from this painful postition with difficulty by the firemen and beyond some severe bruises escaped unberoing in the latter an ex-warden.

around the big city to the south, will was undecided as to which of the positions he would make a dash for.

There was a small crowd at Saturday's nomination, but the proceedings were good and lively, the feature being Mr. Nelson's criticism of councill's work during the year and the speech of George S. Henry, one of the "good roads" commissioners, in which he charged that the criticism of Tho World as to the jurisdiction of the York County roads was misleading, and not supported by facts.

"It is perfectly well understood among all the municipalities in the good roads zone," said Mr. Henry, "that the commission positively does not assume the roads to be improved until they are actually taken over and work begun. Until that time they remain as now a township charge."

Mr. Henry further denied the general rumor that any of the funds had been spent in jaunts by the commission.

But coming back to the York Townskip nominations these gentlemen were placed in nomination.

For reeve—John T. Watson and Jeremiah Nelson.

For councillor—Sidney F. Sylvester of Swanssa and Frederick Miller, who was last year councillor.

George S. Henry was chairman, and dealing generally with the record of council he said that economy had been practical in all departments consistent with the progress of the township. The financial standing was unsurpassed, good bridges built of concrete had been put up, the trouble with the burdal trust over the highway thru Mount Pleasant Cemetery was in a fair way to be settled, the adjustments between the city and township over school section well arranged, and altogether matters were very satisfactory. Mr. Watson raferred to the great expansion of the city, and the enormous work enabled on council by the filling of plans.

Jerry Nelson attacked the council fore and aft, declaring that they were not big enough to give the railway companies a good fight, relied too much on the solicitor, and not enough on themselves, claimed cradit for beating on the messives, claimed cradit for beating on the messives, claimed cradit for beating on the automobile men in civic legislation sought to be imposed on farmers and teamsters, and made a strong bid for support. ELECTION NEW YEAR'S DAY is a necessary one and objection now comes late in the day.

The only position absolutely safe in Scarboro in this fight is that of first deputy, which goes to J. G. Cornell by acclamation. Mr. Cornell has been in the council only one year and his rise is one of the most spectacular in the history of the township. He's a good man and will do credit to the position.

For the council six men are out for the three offices, and it is safe to say that not many votes will be left unpoiled in Scarboro this year.
