PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

At last all details for the new Belasco-Pike-Shubert theatre are arranged and the contract with a local syndicate completed. It will be situated on the West Upper Canada College grounds on West King-street.

A frontage of 100 feet has been bought, and all the house will be 80 feet wide. The body of the house will be only 90 feet in depth so that it will be nearly square, with every person close to the stage.

The coming of Adelaide Thurston to the Grand next week promises an evening of unalloyed enjoyment for theatre-goers. Miss Thurston has always been admirably suited in her plays, the personality of which have fitted her personality and her artistic abilities. Her new play, "The Triumph of Betty," a comedy by W. A. Tremayne and Irving, which this dainty actress has yet appeared. Her scenes transpire in a grand town hall, and the production is most complete.

At the Princess Theatre, for an engagement of three nights and a matinee, beginning to-morrow night, Charles C. McMahon will present for the first time in this city as "The Taming of the Shrew" in four Shakespearean productions, with the following arrangement of repertoire: Thursday night, "Romeo and Juliet"; Friday night, "The Taming of the Shrew"; Saturday matinee, "Twelfth Night"; and Saturday night, "The Merchant of Venice".

Mr. Sothern's Romeo, to be seen in the opening play, is credited as an unusually fine Shakespearean impersonation. "The Taming of the Shrew" is being done by Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe purely as a farce, with the broadest and funniest treatment. The scenic productions of all the plays will be most handsome and careful. They exemplify at its highest perfection the skill of every department in the theatre, and they have won enthusiastic praise from even the most hypercritical.

In addition to procuring the cream of negro talent, Richards & Pringle's famous Georgia Minstrels, at the Matinee next week, will introduce a sensational offering in Marsh Craig, "The Human Enigma"; Kirk and Cooper, the singing comedians; James Crosby and his famous song and dance, "The Jolly Six Old Men"; the Three Tones in acrobatic program; and the cal part of the program is claimed to be exceptionally strong.

From a comedy standpoint alone, to say nothing of its numerous other attributes, "The Tiger Lilies," the popular farce organization, which the Campbell-Drew Amusement Company offer at the Star Theatre next week, ranks as one of the foremost of the season. Two original musical reviews entitled "A Temporary Husband," and "The King of the Coffee Fields," are given.

DO YOU EASILY TIRE?

If a Day's Toil Exhausts Body or Brain, Find the Reason Why.

We all inherit a disposition to disease. With one it is consumption, another heart disease, or perhaps, nervousness. In the springtime, when the body is loaded with wastes and impurities, this disposition to disease is intensified.

At first you are languid, but as the fatigue increases you lose appetite and spirit, feel as if work wasn't in your line.

Surely no clearer evidence of ill-health is needed.

Thousands have been in the same sickly condition; those who heeded not were sorry; those who used Dr. Hamilton's Pills were cured. The pills have eaten up the vitality of the blood, and a cleansing tonic like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is urgently needed.

At once your blood will be redden and gain in strength.

Digestion will so improve that additional nourishment will be supplied to all needy organs.

INSANE MURDERER ESCAPES FROM CELL IN THIRD STOREY

Saws Bars, Cleverly Constructs Rope, Puts Dummy in Bed and Gets Away from Kingston.

Kingston, May 8.—(Special.)—At 7 o'clock this morning the discovery was made that Joseph Chabran, alias Chartrand, the Sault Ste. Marie murderer, whose sentence of death was commuted to life imprisonment, because of alleged insanity, had escaped from the insane ward in the penitentiary.

The alarm was at once sounded and the countryside is being scoured for him. He has been in the prison two years. His mode of escape was cutting the iron bars in his cell, and also those of a window across the corridor.

A rope was available and he scaled the wall. The manner of his escape will be investigated, as it is thought he had confederates. The methods employed, too, were extremely cunning. Chabran cut two bars of his cell, also two bars on the window of the ward, three storeys above the ground level. Each cut is a clean one. Where he secured the steel saw, the instrument used, is a mystery.

Put Dummy in Bed. He secured the window sash cords and made his rope from them. So that his hands would not be blistered in sliding on the rope, he tied it in sailor knots. The hook he used to throw at the top of the wall, he made from the handle of the pail in his cell. This he covered with a piece of bed clothing in order to deaden the sound of the "clink" when the hook came in contact with the stone. The west gate was the spot he selected for climbing over to freedom.

The guard on duty was James Fegor. In the cell was found a dummy made of flower pots and other articles. The make up was sufficient to deceive any official. The watch clock was wound regularly, an indication that the guard was awake and alert. His rounds were made regularly.

It seems that after dropping from the wall on the west side, the convict cut loose the yawl of the schooner Marshall, loading stones on the prison wharf, and used it to propel himself over to Portsmouth. The yawl was not further used. It is thought that the convict has escaped by way of the water, as he was an expert sailor.

It is six years since a prisoner successfully got away. That convict hid in a building while the gang were breaking back from the farm. He was never caught. It is a score or more of years since a convict got away from the inside to get out of the prison.

Murdered a Policeman. Chabran was found guilty of murdering Constable John Watson, who went to arrest him on a train standing at Webbwood Station, not far from the Soo. He escaped, and had his liberty back from the farm. The man who followed him was caught in a swamp.

The convicts were not allowed out of the cells today, the guards being used in the search. Deputy Warden O'Leary is dangerously ill with pneumonia.

The escaped man is half French and Indian. His original home was in Montreal, and then he drifted to Ottawa. After that he went up to the Soo. He found employment there as a laborer, and combined that life with the one of a rough sailor.

Chabran is aged 38, a sailor, weighs 140 pounds, has a height of 5 ft. 10 in., brown, birthmark on left leg back of knee, two scars on head.

One hundred dollars is offered as reward for his capture. Many men have been out all day looking for him, but no trace of him can be found. It is supposed that he is hiding in the woods in day vicinity, but he is so desperate a character that the great escape is exercised, lest he may have fire arms, in which case he would use them with deadly effect, before.

FORBES' WORK DEFENDED. Some Further Opinions on the Parrot's Royalty.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, May 8.—It is generally recognized in unofficial artistic circles that the parrot's picture of the King and Queen have been unfairly criticized. The Canadian Associated Press has been informed on the most authoritative basis that the picture of the King and Queen was exhibited by royal command and is absolutely untrue. Such a command would be not only unconstitutional, but quite contrary to all precedent.
