CONVERSION OF PRINCE WILL HELP MISSIONS

Fushimi to Embrace Christian Religion—Toronto Women's Mission Society.

That Prince Fushimi, who is shortly to visit Toronto, may in the near future embrace the Christian religion.

It was the 14th annual meeting of the Toronto conference branch of the Woman's Missionary Society.

The supply company of the local branch, shipped last year $5000 worth of clothing, etc., to help the work of the society in British Columbia and the Northwest, as well as among the Indians of Ontario, and domestic work.

It has been appointed superintendent of systematic giving, this position being left vacant by the death of Mrs. George Brown, Parkdale. Two foreign missionaries have been accepted by the executive for the foreign field, Miss Rose Beaty, B.A., of Parry Sound, who has been appointed to Japan, and Miss Ethelwyn Howson of Toronto, who has completed her course for trained nurses in the "Daughters" training Home, which will probably be sent to India.

The annual membership is now 2674, and the total receipts for the year were $12,285.43, an increase of $1975.51.

DELINQUENT CHILDREN.

Chief Inspector Archibald presented a lengthy report upon the police method of dealing with delinquent children before the police commissioners at their meeting yesterday afternoon.

The board decided that the local system was the equal of the now famous Boston Police method of Denver.

No conclusion in this matter of the licensing of fruit peddlers was reached. The commissioners were reluctant to refuse licenses and still did not want the streets obstructed.

The cab and livery bylaw will come up for an early discussion.

SIXTY-ONE BOOKMAKERS GET POLICE BLUE PAPER

Two Charged With Keeping Gambling Place and Others as Being Frequenters.

Charged with keeping and frequenting a common betting place at the Woodbine track, at bookmakers yesterday summoned to appear in police court this morning. Twenty more summonses to alleged frequenters are to be served.

John G. Cavanagh, 220 Broadway, New York, and Mortimer Mahoney are the alleged keepers. Of these, Mahoney, who acts as agent for Cavanagh, who holds the track betting privileges from the O. J. C. was personally served, and also served for his principal.

The other 28 were charged by summonses, and are those who "made book" upon the grounds. Their names follow:

Jack Saunders, poolroom proprietor, Toronto; James Munroe, horse dealer, Toronto; John Richards, clerk, Toronto; Frank Bear, clerk, Toronto; Patrick J. Moylett, real estate, Toronto; Herbert Bailey, real estate, Toronto; James P. McInerney, real estate, St. Catharines; Ed. Baxter, editor, Windsor; John Karin, clerk, Buffalo; Frederick Slocum, clerk, Buffalo; John Wellington, clerk, Philadelphia; David Williams, clerk, New York; Wm. S. Y. Charles Walker, bookmaker, California; Reginald Chambers, bookmaker, California; John Conroy, operator, Toronto; Arthur S. Smith, editor, St. Thomas; Louis Allenberg, New York; speculator; Robert S. Turner, stock broker, Hamilton; Ben. Berk, clothier, New York; Al Herford, broker, Baltimore; Frank Burrows, broker, Baltimore; Sigmond Sigmond, bookmaker, New York; George Hickey, tobacconist, Toronto; John Gough, clerk, New York; George T. Cantled, bookmaker, Hamilton; Ben. Berk, clothier, New York; Walter Herman, clerk, New York; Samuel Blake, tobacconist, Toronto; Mark Boasberg, bookmaker, Memphis; Ed. Rich, bookmaker, Hamilton; Sigmond Levy, bookmaker, Chicago; Edward Colel, clerk, Brooklyn; L. Winters, clerk, New York; G. J. Gibson, broker, New York; Joseph Brady, broker, Buffalo; William J. Rhoades, clerk, Philadelphia; Nicholas Wagner, clerk, New York; G. J. Jones, broker, Chicago; William S. Cameron, broker, Hamilton.

The charges are laid as those upon which convictions were had last year, with this difference, that the authorities now contend that a "place" means the whole premises instead of the individual bookie's stall, as before. The keepers are charged with "keeping" this place, while those who "sub-let" from them are the frequenters.

Whether prosecution will be made against the "talons" is not known. Staff Inspector Stephen, who is the chief mover in the matter, with Chief Inspector Archibald, declares that should such a step be taken, it would be successful.

Betting Will Go On.

It is understood that the prosecutions will in no wise interfere with the betting, at least until after a decision has been given in the police court.

GOVERNOR EXPLAINS.

Assault on Japs Due to Existing Labor Conditions.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Secretary Root to-day received from the governor of California a wire stating that he would call the attention of the chief of police of San Francisco as to the matter and request him to use every effort to protect the Japanese. He thinks the assaults were due largely to uncertain conditions existing in San Francisco by reason of the labor troubles.

The state department has taken note of their action in the matter, but undoubtedly will communicate to Governor Gillett's telegram to the Japanese embassy, and belief is expressed that it will satisfactorily meet their complaint.

CORONER AND A JURY PROBE HOPKINS' FIRE

Investigation Arising Out of Arrest of Three Men on Charge of Fraud.

An inquest on the Hopkins fire at 420 Yonge-street, on April 30 last, over which Cecil Elliott and the two Hopkins are awaiting trial on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Anglo-American Insurance Company, was opened at the city hall last night.

Chief Coroner Johnson conducted the inquest, assisted by County Crown Attorney Drayton. T. F. Phelan appeared for the three accused.

Ralph S. Fleury, 411-42 Parliament-street, told of the purchase of $3500 worth of bankrupt stock of jewelry, etc., from Elliott last November, for which he paid $588. He paid Elliott $10 a week to run the business at 17 East Queen-street. At this premises a fire occurred on Jan. 1, 1907 (the first of the year), and the damage was estimated at $200 by Elliott. The claim made on the insurance company was for $200. The valuation of the stock, before witness disposed of it to Albert Hopkins, made by Elliott, was $4000.

The inquest will go on next Tuesday.

KENTUCKY CRUSADER HERE.

Hopes to Wipe Out Remaining Saloons in Blue Grass State.

A unique campaign has been started in Kentucky, to beat out the saloons and have all the brewery and distillery licenses cancelled. The leader of the movement is L. C. Kelly (not Kelly in Louisville, Ky., who is crying against the drink evil) thru the editorial pages of a new newspaper, published in Louisville, the capital of Kentucky.

Mr. Kelly was registered at the Rossin House yesterday. To The World he has written and asked it to publish a notice of his plan to visit the city.

Kelly is confident that Kentucky will be a dry state in a few years. At the present time, he says, there are only three counties where liquor can be got, and his crusade, he is certain, will establish prohibition over the whole state.

He will see the mayor to-day to arrange for a recess to his party, and to-morrow he will return home.
