HINING AND DE New York, Dec. 14.—Nathan M. Murphy, delegate to Congress, came from Washington Saturday night to stay over Sunday. In talking about the Cuban question last night he said: "A majority of both Houses is unmestionably in favor of doing something to help the Cubans, but the Senators and Representatives do not know precisely what to do or how to do it. I sat near Chairman R. R. Hitt of the Foreign Affairs Committee, and I gathered from what he said that nothing would be done this week, but that the question might be brought before the House by the committee next week.

"The financial interests of this country have enormous influence in legislation, as no doubt they should have. The money interests do not want any thing to happen that shall disturb credit and confidence. I suppose every senator and every member of Consress has received telegrams, and letters from prominent persons whom they know, asking that the Cuban question be treated with great caution and deprecating any course that might result in war."

MR. BRADLEY, of this firm, is well known throughout the world as the greatest Designer of Gentlemen's Evening Footwear, having spent many years, both in London and Paris, designing Court Shoes, especially manufactured for and worn by all the crowned heads of Europe. The shipments to Europe of this firm have been increasing from year to year, and their goods receive the highest praise from fashionable people. Mr. Bradley's latest design for evening wear is the "Prince of Wales" Shoe, which is a Patent Leather low shoe with a corded silk crimped front, and tied with a large bow above the instep. This will be the proper thing for the coming season.

"Nothing; absolutely nothing. I ame a military man, not a politician. I can only say I have no feeling against Mr. Cleveland or any other President."

Speaking of Maceo, Gen. Weyler said he regarded the rebel leader as the most important person of the insurrection, and added: "I went to Pinar del Rio."

The General added that Maceo was dead beyond doubt.

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, and can show an incommand in Pinar del Rio?"

"Really," said Gen. Weyler, 'he is little known, and it is impossible to estimate his value to the insurgents."

Gen. Weyler said, however, that if Perico Diaz was in command in Havana Province, as reported, the insuragents' cause was lost there. He admitted that there had been six thousand in Pinar del Rio."

"Really," said Gen. Weyler, "he is little known, and it is impossible to estimate his value to the insurgents."

Gen. Weyler said, however, that if Perico Diaz was in command in Havana Province, as reported, the insurgents' cause was lost there. He admitted that there had been six thousand in Pinar del Rio.

"Yes, at present and as long as the situation remains as it is, or until changes in the operation make the troops necessary elsewhere."

"Is it sure that Maceo crossed the trocha by water?"

"Yes, I believe so, but the captains of the gunboats deny it. It is naturally a delicate point, but they were hardly to blame, as the passage there is very easy."

Gen. Weyler said as to the object of attacks on American Consulates in Spain that he thought them aimed against the Spanish Government by its enemies, and not against the United States.

"Why is the American Consulate suarded by spidiers?" was asked.

"Smply as a precautionary measure," Gen. Weyler replied. "I anticipate no trouble here from the Spaniards, but at the same time the celebrations over Maceo's death might lead the insurgents to take an advantage and make trouble between Spain and the United States." Day—Thompson.
