HERE IS A STRANGE CASE. Unknown Woman Gives Birth to Baby Girl in the Rosedale Ravine and Deserts It.

An unknown woman gave birth to female infant in the Rosedale Ravine la night, and then deserted it in the place by William and Harry Sullivan, two brothby William and Harry Sullivan, two brothers, who live in the rear of 135 Roseavenue. The boys were attracted to the spot by the child's cries, and on going into the ravine the woman staggered up to them and inquired in a weak voice the way to Parliament-street. The lads then made an investigation and found the infant lying on a napkin close to the roadside. The founding was clothed only in nature's garb, and to protect it from the chilly weather Harry Sullivan wrapped the youngster in his coat. The child was then carried over to the Rose-avenue fire hall, and after Dr. Hastings had attended to its, wants the youngster was taken to the Infants' Home in the patrol wagon. The police have been furnished with a description of the mother, and they hope to locate her whereabouts to-day.

Capt. Robson, M.L.A., Moves to Set Aside the Petition Against Him. Mr. Justice Osler of the Court of Appeal yesterday reserved judgment on an application by Captain Robson, M.L.A. for East Middlesex, to have the petition entered by the Liberals against his return set aside. The ground upon which the application was made was that one of the petitioners, James Palmer, lacks the necessary property qualification.

Air, Dewart yesterday applied to Chief Justice Meredith on behalf of Mr. D. Ross, representing the estate of Varcoe, the murdered East Queen-street grocer, that the moneys and exhibits found on the persons of Williams and McIntosh be handed over to the estate. An application was made before Chief Justice Meredith yesterday for an order to pay into court $150, the amount of a legacy from the estate of the late Samuel Anderson, near Belleville, left to Elizabeth Roblin of Brighton. While the amount is small it has been hanging fire for ten years, and the disputed point was the amount of interest to be paid. His Lordship ordered the money to be paid into court.

When the War May End,

According to private letters received by friends in London from Lord Roberts, the latter does not expect to bring the South African war to a conclusion before the end of June or well on into July. It is not, according to Lord Roberts, so much on account of the powerful resistance on the part of the Boers that this delay will take place, althe this stubborn resistance is expected. But the main reason for the prolongation of the campaign, declares "Bobs," is "the extreme difficulty of transporting troops, especially infantry, thru such a bare country as this."

Just before Lord Roberts sailed for the Cape he devoted some time to a careful Just before Lord Roberts sailed for the Cape he devoted some time to a careful and searching examination of the cheap lodging houses in London, built and maintained by Lord Rowton, and which have their counterpart in the so-called Mills hotels in New York. The fundamental condition of these hotels on both sides of the Atlantic is that each lodger shall have his own room to himself, an object which is accomplished by the adoption of the principle of cubicles.

Lord Roberts, after careful consideration of the question, has become an ardent advocate of the introduction of the same systems of the example of the Rowton hotels in London, Since his departure the matter has been taken up by the Prince of Wales with a still greated degree of enthusiasm, and thanks to the popularity of the army at the present moment and the readiness of the English people to do everything in a financial way that can add to the comfort of those who are sacrificing their lives for their country in South Africa, it is probable that the project will be put into early execution.
