Enough Evidence Said to Have Been Secured to Unseat and Disqualify Mr. Hyman, and
This Explains a Majority of 329.

SMITH ELECTED BY ONLY 349 REAL INDEX TO PUBLIC SPIRIT

London, June 13.—(Special.)—London will have a cabinet minister and Canada will have a cabinet minister. The returns give the minister of public works a majority of 329, three wards showing gains for him. The result is nothing less than a personal victory. His newspaper here made the campaign on the one issue, "London cannot afford to turn down Hyman." Across the first page the words "Canada wants Hyman" were flaunted daily, and the autonomy bill was almost lost sight of in the notes that were made on behalf of Hyman, the cabinet minister.

All sorts of local issues were created by the Liberals in this, the most bitter political fight that has ever been waged in London. Some of the labor leaders were enrolled behind the cabinet minister, and an attempt made to show that Billy Gray was an enemy of the laboring man. Gray relied on getting the bulk of this vote, but an analysis of the returns does not bear out forecasts of his workers. The Hyman gains were not confined to one section. There were pretty general all over the city.

The Catholic vote went solid for Hyman. This vote alone carried him to 1000, and the Conservatives say they usually get between 100 and 300. This was a dead loss to Gray, and added to it was the defection of those Conservatives to whom the cry of a cabinet minister for London was made.

A Big Vote.

A large vote was tallied, 257 greater than in November, last, when Hyman defeated Gray by 22 votes. The slimness of the Liberal majority in November was put down at the time to over-confidence, as the Conservative candidate entered the field only a week before polling day. Hyman's majority of over 600 in 1904 is said to be more indicative of his real strength.

But with a bare majority of 329, the Liberals set out in this campaign with most powerful organization that has ever been effected in this city. Voters were brought home from as far away as St. John, N.B., to help Hyman. Liberal headquarters were set up that is freely admitted by Hyman.

A torchlight procession was held in honor of the victory. The noise was kept up till a late hour, and it is safe to say that Londoners are immensely pleased that the campaign has come to an end.

Following is the vote by wards:

Ward	Gray, Hyman	Smith, Hyman
Ward 1	1034	1185
Ward 2	1254	1290
Ward 3	1223	1278
Ward 4	1223	1278
Totals	4533	4582

Majority for Hyman 329.

The vote by wards in the general election of Nov. 21, 1904, was:

Ward	Gray, Hyman	Smith, Hyman
Ward 1	1115	1115
Ward 2	805	851
Ward 3	1223	1278
Ward 4	1223	1278
Totals	4366	4522

Majority for Hyman 156.

HAULTAIN STILL LIBERAL DEFIES GOLD AND GLITTER Haultain Disappointed But Will Keep Up Fight

Northwest Premier Received Returns at Woodstock, Where Liberals Had Big Celebration

Woodstock, June 13.—(Special.)—The Liberals have proven to be the best guessers. George Smith's majority will be about 300, the full returns not yet being complete. While far from what some of them claimed, it is also far from what the Conservatives were willing to concede, and disappointment is felt by them with the result in Woodstock. A Conservative majority of between 300 and 400 was looked for. It is true that Wallace's majority of 215 in Woodstock is close to Butler's majority of 225, but Butler's opponent was not a local man.

Still the Conservatives are not discouraged. On the whole, they did very well by keeping the majority down to 300 in the riding, the they expected to do much better.

Haultain Disappointed.

Frederick Haultain of the Northwest Territories, who waited over to hear the returns, was somewhat disappointed. He expected to take back a word of encouragement, but declared that if the Northwest could not get a seat in the House, his fight it would carry on the fight close. As to the future, he could not speak definitely. The government at Ottawa had so arranged the constituencies in the new provinces as to prevent as far as possible any expression of opinion, but he hoped to be able to carry one of the provinces, and if he did he would at once take up the fight for the Northwest. Whether he won or not, the fight would go on, he said.

The band of the 22nd Regiment escorted him to the station.

Mr. Smith to his residence, where he thanked the electors. The Liberals had great rejoicings.

The Results.

Following is the vote polled at different sub-divisions:

Sub-division	Smith, Wallace	Butler, Wallace
Woodstock	61	14
Enniskillen	158	138
Blenheim	518	387
East Nisour	324	208
East Zorra	485	318
West Zorra	382	202
Totals	2285	2206

Majority for Smith 349.

$50,000 LOT WIN OXON WITH AUTONOMY IGNORED

Hyman's Trump Card a $2 Bill, Says
Free Press—It Was Well Played.

London, June 13.—(Special.)—Tomorrow the Free Press (Cons.) will say: The result in London is no endorsement of the Autonomy bill. Even in the figures of Mr. Hyman's majority Laurier can take no comfort, for Hyman has had in a general election as much as 500 majority, which he had not the prestige of a cabinet minister, the treasury of Canada, and the cabinet stampers to aid him. But more than that, Mr. Hyman did not in this election make the fight on the Autonomy bill. In a manner unworthy of a cabinet minister he employed his own expense a professional tramp journalist "to side step" the Autonomy bill. Every effort was made to belittle the issue and before the minds of the electors. Mr. Hyman appealed for support as a cabinet minister, and was so lost to the dignity of his office as to insinuate that London would gain materially by his election to a seat beside the treasury. He was presented to the electors as "London's brilliant and favorite son." Citizens were asked to vote for him that he might achieve his ambition in politics, and bring honor (in name) to the city of his birth.

He was called the friend of labor, and he called his opponent a strike breaker. He ranted the religious issue and falsely accused the Conservatives of precipitating it. He did everything, but cowardly refused to face the issue and the fight like a man—the Autonomy bill.

Counting the Cost.

Moreover, evidence is not wanting that Mr. Hyman's election is due to the power of money. His trump card was marked "53 bill," and his henchmen placed it where it did most good to the Conservative cause. A close analysis of the vote shows that certain polling subdivisions could not have been so suddenly changed by the use of less money was used. Wherever the vote was not purchasable the returns show gains for Mr. Gray. It is currently estimated that the Conservatives have been spent to win this election for Laurier. The city was checked, boarded by outsiders known as political gamblers, and they played their game. All these notorious forces were working with Mr. Hyman, and below what he has had before under less corrupt and therefore advantageous conditions.

That the election was the vote of men who think before marking their ballots, was proved against Mr. Hyman. He conceded the free trade issue, and was willing to be misled from the real issue, voted for principle. The high bond partisans and the hirelings of the Conservative cause, of high and justice to make triumph for the man who has gone back on his earlier ideas and of the true principles of the Liberal party.

Conservatives are not disheartened by the result. The campaign has been one of the most successful of the kind since the time of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. The fight has been for principle, and wherever the principle has reached the intelligent mind it has borne fruit. The question raised by the Autonomy bill is not settled, and will never be settled till it is settled right.

GREGIAN PREMIER MURDERED BY PROFESSIONAL GAMBLER

Opened Carriage Door and Stabbed
Victim as He Alighted—Assassin
Nearly Lynched.

Athens, June 13.—Theodore P. Delianis, the popular premier of Greece, was stabbed and mortally wounded by a professional gambler named Gherakaris at the main entrance of the chamber of deputies at 5 p.m. to-day. The premier died within three hours. The assassin, who was immediately arrested, said he committed the deed in revenge for the stringent measures taken by Premier Delianis against the gambling houses, all of which were recently closed.

The premier arrived at the entrance of the chamber in a carriage. Gherakaris approached, saluted the premier and opened the carriage door. The premier was in the act of thanking Gherakaris for his courtesy when the gambler plunged a long dagger into M. Delianis' abdomen, inflicting a frightful wound.

Lynching of the assassin was prevented only by the gendarmes, who rushed him from the building to the prison. It is estimated that 20,000 persons followed the body of the premier from the Red Cross Station to his late residence.

Gherakaris was recently liberated from prison, having been sentenced for 15 years for the murder of his wife.

QUARTER MILLION BLAZE WAS CAUSED BY LIGHTNING

Scott Furniture Company's Seven
Storey Building in Winnipeg
Totally Destroyed—Four Firemen Hurt—Fire Appliances Inefficient.

Winnipeg, June 13.—(Special.)—An extraordinary heavy thunderstorm struck the city at 7.30 to-night. Shortly after the storm broke the Scott Furniture Co.'s new premises on Main-street, between St. Mary and Graham-avenues, were struck by lightning and a general fire alarm was turned in. A strong southerly wind enabled the flames to make rapid headway, and the efforts of the whole department have but now (11.30 p.m.) put the conflagration under control. While fighting the flames from ladders Jermain Wolf, fireman, grabbed a live wire and fell to the ground. Although seriously burned, hopes are entertained for his recovery. Three other firemen were knocked off the ladders and were removed by the ambulance, but were not seriously hurt.

The total loss will be over a quarter million, $100,000 for building and over $150,000 for contents. The building has been erected but a few months, and the furniture store was the biggest in the Dominion and among the finest in the Dominion.

The loss is covered by insurance, the well established among various companies operating here.

The fire conclusively proved the deficiencies in the city's fire appliances and the danger from the low pressure system now obtaining. The building was a new one, and the firemen could do no effective work above the fourth storey, while attempting to erect the ladders and the firemen were out of the way of the flames.

A prominent fire insurance man says that decent appliances should have checked the fire at the outset. The building was solid brick, but the fire was so fierce that both side walls fell out.

It is understood that the Scott Furniture Co. has been insured for $1,000,000.

Has Been "Raising" Bills.

Old Time Convict Falls Into Hands of Kingston Police.

Kingston, June 13.—(Special.)—The man who has been passing bills in Eastern Ontario for several months is resting to-night in the police cell. He had on him two Canadian ones raised to ten, and two American ones similarly treated. The work is cleverly executed. A box of paints and brushes lately used, receipts for a photographic process, a bottle of acid for removing ink prints, a dry which held his hair pink, a loaded revolver and a box of cartridges were found in his room.

The man made a daring escape from a penitentiary here thirty years ago by scaling the wall with rope ladders, in company with another convict. Then his name was Smith in 1880 he was sent to the North Bay on a charge of burglary, and was sentenced to the 100 years and still has been "raising." He is about 60 years of age.

1200 MEN STRIKE TO AID CRIPPLE

His Job Taken Away From Him and They Want It Back.

Halifax, N.S., June 13.—(Special.)—Twelve hundred men are out on strike in the Spryfield mines. The management took a good job away from a cripple named Hyatt and placed him in a position on the picking table, where he could not make a living. This took place last week, and since then the men have made several representations to the management, but in vain.

The sub-committee of the F.W.A. called a meeting Wednesday night, which was attended by sixty-two members, who decided to call a strike on June 14th. All the men and boys both above and below ground are out, and the mines are idle. It is not expected that a conference will take place for several days.

ARMY AND NAVY VETERANS.

At the meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans last night, Major John A. Murphy was elected to honorary membership. His brother, Robert, late of the Royal Engineers, was also elected.

Gray is Cheated of Votes By Misprinting of Ballots

His Name Only So Close to Margin That Voters Were Led to Put Cross to the Left—Lost 26 in Two Divisions—
Hints of a Protest.

London, June 13.—(Special.)—"I have nothing to say to 'The World,'" was Mr. Hyman's response to a query as to the causes which contributed to his election. Whether the result could be regarded as an endorsement of the autonomy bill or merely an endorsement of the selection of a London boy to a cabinet position the minister would not say.

Mr. Gray had an opinion. "We were bought up," he said. "And the evidence is beginning to come in."

Mr. Gray has learned that in two divisions 26 Conservative ballots were thrown out by the D. R. O. because they were marked in the space at the left of the candidate's name. How many ballots were thus spoiled will not be known until all the scrutineers have had taken place and live in peace and harmony.

London has done her duty by Mr. Hyman, the government and Sir Wilfrid Laurier," spoke Walter Scott, M.P., who was elected on the Conservative ticket.

Col. Little, the sound Protestant, was proud to say he believed the results of London would support any hierarchy if they believed it to be right. The question had been settled for all time.

"REBUKE TO TORONTO AGITATORS."

London Advertiser Says Result Will
Sobor Up Conservative Party.

London, June 13.—(Special.)—The Advertiser has the following on the result:

London has spoken, and in tones of thunder rebuked the Toronto agitators who have essayed to foment a sectarian war in this community, and this country.

Consider the evolution of the tactics of Mr. Hyman's enemies. The first was to elect Mr. Hyman to the city to counter with local members of the party. Mr. Borden gave out a signed interview, affirming, with marked emphasis, that the question of separate schools was not involved in this contest, that it was solely and purely a question of provincial rights. Let us settle this matter in the light of the constitution," he said. Mr. Gray, at the same time, echoed the words of his leader.

Then came Mr. Gray's nomination by the party convention. The speaker was Messrs. Sproule and Cockshutt. Spurning the injunction of Mr. Borden, they declared the issue to be one of national versus separate schools. From the outset, therefore, the Conservative position was equivocal. As the campaign proceeded the constitutional argument was thrust into the background. Bennett, Sproule, Maclean, Hughes, Foster, Cockshutt, Haultain, Sheppard, Goggin and St. James, some of them co-operators in 1896—these men let to the issue of the means by which it was hoped to sweep the electors of London off their feet.

But the character of this community has been always a bulwark against the waves of religious bigotry. The bulk of the Liberals stood unmoved by the insidious appeals to passion and to the din and clamor of their newspapers and their platform speakers, and placed the interests and the peace of the city above their party propensities.

We venture to say the result will have a sobering effect upon the Conservative party, by smothering the intolerant elements which in this campaign have dominated and controlled it.

Mr. Gray had an opinion. "We were bought up," he said. "And the evidence is beginning to come in."

Mr. Gray has learned that in two divisions 26 Conservative ballots were thrown out by the D. R. O. because they were marked in the space at the left of the candidate's name. How many ballots were thus spoiled will not be known until all the scrutineers have had taken place and live in peace and harmony.

London has done her duty by Mr. Hyman, the government and Sir Wilfrid Laurier," spoke Walter Scott, M.P., who was elected on the Conservative ticket.

Col. Little, the sound Protestant, was proud to say he believed the results of London would support any hierarchy if they believed it to be right. The question had been settled for all time.

Sobor Up Conservative Party.

London, June 13.—(Special.)—The Advertiser has the following on the result:

London has spoken, and in tones of thunder rebuked the Toronto agitators who have essayed to foment a sectarian war in this community, and this country.

Consider the evolution of the tactics of Mr. Hyman's enemies. The first was to elect Mr. Hyman to the city to counter with local members of the party. Mr. Borden gave out a signed interview, affirming, with marked emphasis, that the question of separate schools was not involved in this contest, that it was solely and purely a question of provincial rights. Let us settle this matter in the light of the constitution," he said. Mr. Gray, at the same time, echoed the words of his leader.

Then came Mr. Gray's nomination by the party convention. The speaker was Messrs. Sproule and Cockshutt. Spurning the injunction of Mr. Borden, they declared the issue to be one of national versus separate schools. From the outset, therefore, the Conservative position was equivocal. As the campaign proceeded the constitutional argument was thrust into the background. Bennett, Sproule, Maclean, Hughes, Foster, Cockshutt, Haultain, Sheppard, Goggin and St. James, some of them co-operators in 1896—these men let to the issue of the means by which it was hoped to sweep the electors of London off their feet.

But the character of this community has been always a bulwark against the waves of religious bigotry. The bulk of the Liberals stood unmoved by the insidious appeals to passion and to the din and clamor of their newspapers and their platform speakers, and placed the interests and the peace of the city above their party propensities.

We venture to say the result will have a sobering effect upon the Conservative party, by smothering the intolerant elements which in this campaign have dominated and controlled it.

Whether the result could be regarded as an endorsement of the autonomy bill or merely an endorsement of the selection of a London boy to a cabinet position the minister would not say.
