Try it! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! it is harmless.

HIGHER SALARY FOR METHODIST PASTORS APPROVED BY LAYMEN

Minimums $1,500 For Married Men and $1,250 For Single.

GENERAL SESSION TODAY

Twelve Probationers To Be Ordained On Sunday Next.

STRATFORD, June 2.—Adequate salaries for ministers proved the big question before the Lay Association of the London Methodist Conference today. Various speakers took up the debate pro and con and before the afternoon session closed the discussion had reached quite a sharp division.

The proposal was to raise the minimum salary to $1,500 as suggested by the General Conference committee which met in Toronto recently.

In the course of the debate lines were quite sharply drawn between the rural and city delegates, the former strongly opposed the plan, but the rural delegates, taking the stand that the smaller circuits in the country could not afford to meet such a minimum, have won the day.

Just before 6 o'clock, there was an apparent submission to the majority and only five minutes after the resolution introduced by J. C. Hay of Litchfield, which called for the appointment of a laymen's committee to aid in the raising of the minimum salary to $1,500. The resolution was carried.

Salaries Committee.
The first business of the evening session was the appointment of such a committee, which is as follows: Ezra Hunt, Lambeth; and Henry Pocock, London, with the following as district chairmen: J. Watson, London; J. C. Hay, Stratford; J. A. Cooper, Windsor; George Ferguson, Sarnia; G. W. Allison, Windsor; J. B. Clark, Chatham; J. Frank Stone, Ridgeway; L. W. Miller, St. Thomas. The laymen's association officers are ex-officio members.

The plan is to have a committee formed in each of the districts to work in conjunction with the district committees of the various districts in the proposal. The conference committee will meet on the 10th of August to quarterly board meetings.

ST. THOMAS DISTRICT.
St. Thomas (First Church), George A. King; Grace Church, George T. Watts; Central, G. W. Henderson; Alma College, Perry S. Dobson; Mount Elgin, Arthur S. McVittie; Whitby, to be supplied; Aylmer, W. K. Hagg; Richmond, Irving P. Cairner; Harold Lawton; Brownsville, William A. Walden; Caledon, to be supplied; Conith, William G. Fager; Clinton, P. E. Rutherford; Malhede, William Peterson; Yernath, to be supplied; W. Pring; Port Stanley, G. C. Gifford; Sparta, J. N. Gould; Pinal, Frank Burgess; Talbotville, Melvin Koyser; Sheddin, Roy Johnston; Muncy, Hector W. McTavish; Oneida, Charles W. McKenzie; Middlemiss, to be supplied.

WHITE SUGAR SHOULD NOT COST MORE THAN 22 CENTS, IS CLAIM

Board of Commerce Issues Statement Regarding Prices.

OTTAWA, June 2.—That there is no justification for white sugar selling for more than 22 cents a pound is the opinion of Commissioners O'Connor and Munro of the board of commerce, and made public in a statement issued this morning.

Mr. W. F. O'Connor, acting chairman American marketing of the sugar investigation today, stated that sugar at 30c a pound was not justifiable and that the board would take every means of preventing this practice. Mr. O'Connor practically predicted a drop in the price of sugar when he said he did not believe it in the best interests of the consumers to fix the price of sugar, the consumers would probably benefit more by the board allowing the price to fluctuate.

his feet, after which he could share the white man's burden in the usual way.

The greatest taxing instrument of all—the tariff—has not changed save for the repeal of the war customs of 7½ per cent ad valorem. Considering the exchange, which is ten points against us in the United States, the biggest customer—the protection is still about 45 per cent, which seems enough in all conscience. Tariff investigation is likely to be a leisurely matter. The tariff advisory board, which has much to recommend, is still some distance in the future.

Business Profits Tax.
The business profits tax is continued at reduced rates. Criticism on this point, earlier than abolishing the tax altogether and shifting it to income and giving the tax a more intelligent treatment, has been moving it on goods for export. The latter course, it is claimed, would have the effect of building up our export trade, correcting the exchange between Canada and the United States, and attracting American manufacturers to this side of the line to take advantage of our favorable export trade conditions. This suggestion was made to the Government but for some obscure reason it was turned down.

The luxury tax aroused most comment—the possible evasions, the industrial methods, the duty of collection, but the deliberate opinion seems to be that it is a wise tax and will have the effect of bringing down high prices. This tax seems right round to the retailer who has been in clover for five years and who—so his critics say—should not object to his put on a subtle now. The chances are that the retailer, finding that his customers will buy high priced articles with the tax atop, will scale his goods down, so that they will be comfortably inside the taxable limit.

The luxury tax is avowedly part of the plan to bring down the cost of living, which has reached the top of the toboggan slide and is due for a swift descent. The factors in this highly desirable reform are (1) the workman who has come to the end of his paper money bag and can no longer afford to buy eighteen dollar shirts; (2) the player who will soon be able to pull down the sign "No Smoking"; (3) the average citizen who has ceased buying sooner than submit to further extortions; (4) the banks who are tightening up on credits. These are four rays of hope, and if the government would help a little more by weeding out the civil service, firing the spongers in the various war bureaux—many of which are functionally over staffed—and retrenching generally, we should be well on our way back to normal conditions.

Sir George Foster has the principle at heart, although he falls down as to practice. In one of those sunset glow speeches with which he warms our hearts ever and anon, the Elder Brother told the members of parliament to preach economy to their constituents—admonish them to work more and spend less, and above all not to poster the government for expenditures on public works. From time to time Sir Thomas White has said the same thing, and the wonder is that advice so good has not had its effect at Ottawa. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, and the government should see the example. Was it Plato who made the remark, or somebody nearer home—"Do as I do, not as I say." I am always reminded of it when I hear these counsels of thrift from a government that can't make ends meet on four hundred million dollars a year.

Mr. Fielding's speech indicates that there is a considerable gap between the Liberals and the Farmers yet to be bridged. Mr. Ballantyne's speech, in which he nailed the protectionist tag to the Unionist mast, goes to show that the quarrel is merely one of name, and that the Conservative party will carry the old flag at the next general election.

The budget, though it imposes some new taxes, contains no new ideas. The sales tax and the luxury tax are Washington fashions two years old. Indeed, we get most of our fiscal styles from the United States now.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupefy the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself without consulting a physician.
