

Toronto's first City Hall and Fire Hall, 1844.

W. L. Mackenzie,
Mayor 1855.

Toronto is now 83 years old—and a review of the progress of our city in that brief time must be gratifying to the pride of all those who love Toronto.

A. B. Sullivan,
Mayor 1855.

Left half is the Simpson Store in 1881; the entire building was occupied in 1882.

Thomas D. Morrison,
Mayor 1856.

We publish here the pictures of the men who served Toronto in the capacity of Mayor since 1854, the year when Toronto was incorporated. There are also shown the first City Hall and the present City Hall, as landmarks of our city's growth.

George Burnett,
Mayor 1837-1845-9-10.

The city's mercantile expansion in the last 36 years is illustrated by the picture of the little old wooden structure where the late Robert Simpson began business in 1881. By 1882 the corner building had already been added. The present company took over the business in 1898. It will be 30 years ago next March.

John Powell,
Mayor 1838-9-10.

The two magnificent buildings here pictured are required for our city and eastern mail order business. In addition, other buildings are used for warehouse and factory purposes, and there is also a great mail order building in Leslie.

George Monto,
Mayor 1841.

Henry Sherwood,
Mayor 1842-43-44.

Toronto City Hall, Completed 1899.

Wm. H. Boulton,
1845-46-47-1855.

These all indicate a strong and steady growth which has added on an average, each year of the twenty, a volume of business equal to that taken over in 1898. Just as the growth of the city must be an expression of the esteem in which it is held by the hundreds of thousands who live in it, so is the degree of confidence and liking of the public for a mercantile concern represented by that firm's expansion.

David B. Read,
Mayor part of 1855.

The city sale which we here announce is further evidence of capacity in merchandising, that we believe will commend itself to our customers and merit a continuation of their generous support.

John G. Bowes,
Mayor 1851-5-8-1861-2-3.

Some of these Special Sale items for Tuesday are limited in quantity, and only by early shopping can you be sure of not being disappointed. We urge you to read the entire list, and to come and get your share of them.

John G. Beard,
Mayor 1854.
