

Provincial, was shot at Queens Ranges, and in connection with it the team match for the York and Kings pitcher.

Another feature which marked the prize meeting was the introduction of the time system of squadding, and the change seemed to give general satisfaction. With the experience thus gained, and with a more general compliance with the rule requiring entries to be made before the date of the matches, the Secretary will no doubt be able to time the several competitions more accurately than was possible on the first attempt.

Fine favorable weather and a pleasant meeting can once more be recorded. The competitions were all commenced at the hours previously fixed, and the shooting was easily finished on the afternoon of Thursday. The general meeting of competitors was held after gun-fire Wednesday evening, and immediately thereafter the presentation was made of the prizes in the completed matches. In one particular, that of the attendance of winners, this arrangement worked surprisingly well. With but two exceptions all the winners were present and received their prizes.

Success again awaited our team in the Maritime Match at Charlottetown, though by the narrow majority of two points. The teams scored as follows: New Brunswick, 631; Nova Scotia, 629; Prince Edward Island, 598. The more general use of the Martini will in the future, it is hoped, give us a larger field of experienced shots from which to draw our New Brunswick team.

The Province was represented on the Bisley team by the two members who won their places last year at Ottawa—Col.-Sgt. M. B. Henderson and Pte. Walter Langstroth. It is also to be noticed that the adjutancy of the team was filled from this Association, the selection falling on Major F. H. Hartt.

The Council have with deep regret to report that in regard to the Ottawa matches the Association failed to maintain its representation or its shooting record. The reason, of course, is to be found largely in the fact that we retained the Snider
