LOCAL NEWS

BOUND FROM GULFPORT Schooner Persis Colwell sailed from Gulfport, Mississippi for Demararas on Thursday last (Feb. 12).

THEIR CHILD DEAD. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Long, of 28 Mill street, will sympathize with them in the death of their infant daughter, Julia E., which occurred on Saturday.

GONE TO TORONTO. Charles A. Conlon, who has been connected with the Canadian Oil Co., Ltd. in this city for some time, left on Saturday evening to put in two months in the head office in Toronto. After that he will take the position of auditor for the company, travelling through Canada to the cities where the branches are located.

CARLETON RALLY SERVICES. In connection with the rally services in the Ludlow street Baptist church, Rev. Shirling Stackhouse was the preacher in the morning and the pastor, Rev. W. R. Robinson addressed the congregation in the evening. The services were attended by large numbers. Three men and three women were accepted yesterday for baptism and church membership.

MORMONS HERE. Among the passengers arriving on the steamer Victorian on Saturday, were forty-five Mormons, many of whom are returning elders, who are on their way back to Salt Lake City, Utah, after doing missionary work in the British Isles and on the continent. Included in the party were several travelers who, although they were not of the Mormon faith, took advantage of the Mormons' experience in traveling to accompany them to America.

METHODIST MINISTERS. The Methodist Ministerial Association held their weekly meeting this morning in the Centenary church parlor with Rev. H. E. Thomas in the chair. Rev. E. H. Creed of Hampton, was present. Rev. W. H. B. Marraslongh gave an interesting talk on The Child and The Church. He explained the methods he found useful and successful in his ministry in regard to the young people of his congregation. His address was very interesting and contained very valuable suggestions.

NEW METROPOLE ON THE OLD SITE

Word Comes From Salvation Army Headquarters—Officers Coming to Launch Campaign

Adjutant Cummins of the Salvation Army received a communication this morning from the Canadian headquarters of the army in Toronto saying that it had been decided to rebuild the Metropole on the same site if sufficient money can be raised in St. John for this scheme.

In speaking to the Times this morning the adjutant said he had been requested to submit plans for the new building showing what space would be needed for various branches of the work. He said that the new building would probably extend from Prince William street to Water street, but he did not know what other plans would be made or what the cost of the new building would be.

Colonel Turner, Major Moore and Adjutant Gilbert will arrive in the city on Thursday or Friday to perfect plans for the campaign to raise sufficient funds for the new Metropole.

The site on which the Metropole will be built is owned by the Salvation Army but there is a mortgage of $8,500 on the property. Until the new building is completed in Prince William street, the Queen Hall in Queen street will be used as a temporary shelter for the men. It is expected that all the equipment for the place will be in the city tomorrow. Part of the bedding has been received from the Toronto headquarters and the rest is due here. If everything runs along smoothly, Adjutant Cummins hopes to have the hall opened by Wednesday night.

Meal tickets are still being issued to the men, and the army will continue to do so until the fund raised for the purpose has been exhausted.

SECOND FALL IN WEEK; THIS TIME WRIST BROKEN

Joseph McHugh Hurt at Courtenay Bay—Few Days Ago Plunged Into Sea

For the second time within a week, Joseph McHugh, an employe of Norton Griffiths & Co., at Courtenay Bay, fell from the trestle work on one of the spurs to the new breakwater and is now in the General Public Hospital with a broken wrist.

McHugh, who is about twenty years of age, was employed on a pile driver, which is doing work on some trestle near the base of the breakwater. On last Thursday, when the tide was nearly high and the temperature between ten and twenty degrees below zero, his foot slipped and he was given a cold plunge into the icy water. He swam to shore and was pulled out by some of his fellow employes. When he arrived at his brother's home, a few hundred yards from the works, he was encased in a suit of ice, but after changing to a dry suit, felt no ill effects and was able to resume work.

Yesterday morning he again developed descending pneumonia, but this time the tide was out and a young man, losing his foot hold on the pile driver, fell about thirty feet to the sand and rocks. Had he not struck a projecting plank he might have suffered more serious injuries, but he came through with a simple fracture of the right wrist. He was able to walk to his brother's residence and Dr. Murray MacLaren was summoned and the young man was taken to the hospital.

PYTHIANS' WEEK

Big Time By Knights In Many Places

An Attractive Anniversary Celebration is Arranged For the Local Members of the Order—St. John First in Empire to Have Lodge City

The present week in St. John will be memorable one in the history of the Knights of Pythias order. In fact across this broad continent the 18th and 19th will witness celebrations of the order's jubilee in hundreds of cities, thousands of towns and numerous little places. Much money is being spent in preparation for this event and programmes of unusual elaborateness have been arranged. The great central celebration, at which all the exalted officials of Pythianism will be present, will take place in the capital city of Washington, D. C., and festivities almost as extensive will be held in the major cities of the United States and Canada. Dr. F. A. Godsoe of St. John, who occupies the important position of Supreme Master at Arms, left Saturday evening for Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Godsoe.

The city of St. John occupies a singularly conspicuous position in the Pythian order in the fact that it was here the pioneer lodge of the British Empire was instituted, New Brunswick Lodge, No. 1, John Beamish, endeavoredly referred to as "Uncle John" by local knights, organized this lodge by taking it up to patrons of his barber shop nearly two score years ago. The three sturdy lodges with a membership of more than 700, not to mention uniform rank and Dramatic Order Knights of Kluksawan, are a handsome tribute to the fortitude, foresight and perseverance of this little old gentleman of the Valley district, who will be so much in evidence at the great gatherings on Wednesday and Thursday.

The plans for St. John's celebration of the fiftieth anniversary are completed and neither trouble nor expense is being withheld to make the event a memorable one. Because of the large number of knights in the city and provinces cards have been issued to members of the order only, and also to Pythian's lady friends (one knight, one lady) for the social gatherings.

Keith's suite, Carleton street, and the auditorium up stairs have been engaged for the two days' affairs and are being prettily decorated and renovated. On Wednesday evening the knights and ladies will assemble in the auditorium and listen to an excellent concert in which Mrs. L. M. Curran, Miss Blenda Thomson, Messrs. Pidgeon, McKean, Smith, Mrs. J. M. Barnes and others will participate. The Imperial Theatre people will present some curtain novelties and Jones' orchestra will play. The affair being of a purely private nature, guests will have the freedom of about twelve dances. It will be a gay and festive night and a large committee of knights will be on hand to attend to the details. A specially good feature will be a continuation of the spangly entertainment for those who do not dance.

Thursday evening's affairs will be exemplified upon a class of fifty-eight citizens. A specially selected team of stunts will "illuminate the rows into the mysteries of this first stage of the chivalric order and it is expected numerous Pythians from outside of town will be present. After the initiation ceremonies the knights will illumine to refreshments; then pipes and cigars and a mixed programme of vaudeville and pictures.

Next Sunday in St. David's Presbyterian church, Rev. Ralph Houghton, a Pythian who is pastor of the Congregational church here, will address the knights on "Fifty Years of Pythianism." Special music will be a feature of the divine service.

TEN BELOW THIS MORNING IN MANAWAGONISH ROAD

Fairville Merchants Hoping For Bright Spring After a Dull Winter—Good Sleighing Enjoyed

The thermometer registered ten below in Main street this morning and outlying sections report several degrees lower still. As there was no wind during the night, few realized the cold to be as severe as it was.

The Fairville street car service was kept open and operated very creditably considering the wild storm of Saturday. Business conditions generally are quite depressed here this winter, but many merchants are hoping for a good spring to help make up. Owing to the sawmill trouble during the summer, many men were idle for several months and it was expected the winter port would make up for this at least in part, as in former years good wages have been earned. But since Christmas the winter port business has fallen short materially and most of the working men in this section are just about making ends meet and those dependent upon a trade such as carpenters, masons, etc., report nothing doing.

There is promise, however, of building operations early in May on Fairville Plateau, and other section lands; the new bridge service should be inaugurated before next winter and that should bring in many permanent residents who prefer a suburban home with nearby city connections.

Police reports indicate very quiet times in the village of late, and the representative of law and order is rarely called upon to make an arrest.

A few disorderly spirits who were wont to rendezvous near the Suspension Bridge on Sundays were given a little extra police attention and apparently they have taken the hint and dispersed voluntarily.

Those in a position to know say that very little if indeed any liquor is being sold here now. The snow fall of Saturday made the sleighing and many city people availed themselves of the opportunity for a spin to the Manawagonish Road on Sunday afternoon. Now that the street car service has invaded the Marsh Road, this section is becoming more popular for sleigh parties.

Custom Tailoring for Critical Men

THE NEW FABRICS FOR SPRING deserve the strongest sort of talk—and yet five minutes spent among the cloths will tell more than a whole page advertisement.

First-hand selections nearly a year ago is the real reason for the choice stock. If we had to choose late (as many merchant tailors must) it would be another story.

Choosing choice cloths isn't everything—not by a great deal. Many a tailor has gloated over his exquisite taste and judgement in the selection of fabrics and lost sight of the end far more important. If clothes don't fit, where's the satisfaction! The right sort of cutters and tailors must be intimately associated with the cloths, or good-bye to right results and the hope of increasing business.
