STREET RAILWAY DEBENTURE BILL DIES IN COMMITTEE

St. John Company Had Asked For Authority For Issue of $1,000,000

Fredericton, April 2.—The bill presented to the legislature by the St. John Railway Company asking permission for another issue of debentures to the extent of $1,000,000 was thrown out by the law committee of the legislature last night.

The bill to incorporate the Miramichi Hospital was withdrawn, in view of the opposition to the name suggested for the new institution. It was said that application would be made for incorporation under letters patent instead of by an act of the legislature.

The bill to provide for an increase in the log driving tolls charged by the Lower South West Miramichi Log Driving Company was considered. The bill provides for practically doubling the rates as compared with those charged last year, and was opposed by D. J. Buckley, J. D. McIntosh and others, who said that to impose increased rates this year would affect contracts already made. The bill was stood over until next Tuesday, the committee apparently being against a favorable recommendation.

It was decided to favorably recommend the Grand Falls Railway bill and the bill to incorporate the New Brunswick Veterinary Association was then taken up and stood over until Friday morning.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH IN WORK OF SURGERY

Replacing Injured Nerves Restores Paralyzed Limbs

London, April 2.—The latest achievement of surgery is the restoration of paralyzed muscles by repair and replacement of injured nerves. Some time ago, under surgery, a patient after many successes, essayed the problem and proved that if a cat nerve was immediately grafted, loss of function did not take place.

It has now been demonstrated that in cases where for any reason union of the divided nerve is impossible, a junction may be effected between its degenerated portion and any other convenient nerve. This "nerve grafting" is found to give results usually almost as good as those obtained by the older method of nerve union.

The remarkable feature of the new operation is that it proves conclusively that a brain cell may be taught to govern two separate functions. Each nerve communicates with a particular set of brain cells which control its activities.

It was supposed that these cells were of a highly specialized character and could perform only the functions allotted to them by nature. The idea that they might be taught to control in addition an entirely opposite, even a different series of actions was regarded as absurd.

Prof. Robert Kennedy, of Glasgow, perhaps the most brilliant worker in this field, has recently made a series of experiments conducted on the foreleg of a dog with a view to throwing further light on this question.

The possible applications of the discovery are very wide. For example, the nerves of a withered or useless limb, the function of which has been lost through some injury to or disease of the brain—e.g., by apoplexy—if connected to a nerve trunk leading to a healthy part of the organism, might again receive and convey stimuli, in that case the degenerated and flabby muscles would regain their power and the deformity be cured.

NOW INVADE PARIS

Suffragettes Make Open Air Speeches But Police Drive Them Away

Paris, April 2.—French Suffragettes this week made their first attempt to hold an outdoor meeting in a street off the boulevards. The meeting had been frowned upon by the principal woman suffrage associations and consequently there were few women who responded to the call for the rally. A compact throng of male spectators, however, was on hand for the proposed demonstration.

On a big board which hung from the balcony of one of the buildings was the following inscription:

"We want votes for women. We want to collaborate in making the laws we obey. We demand with indignation the legal sanction which gives us the quality of French women without the rights of citizens."

Several women made speeches, after which an attempt was made to march to the boulevards, but the demonstrators were politely dispersed by a small body of police.
