

TSING TAU IS TAKEN; FURTHER NEWS FROM CHILEAN SEA FIGHT

Tokio, Nov. 7.—It is officially announced that the German fortress of Tsing Tau has surrendered to the Japanese and British forces.

The capture of Tsing Tau loses to Germany her last foot of possessions on the Asiatic mainland, as well as her last strategic position outside of the German empire in Europe. For nearly three months the German garrison, amounting to about 7,000 men, has held out against the land and sea attacks of the Japanese, and of certain British detachments of both white and Indian troops that found themselves in China at the outbreak of the war. What the losses of the garrison have been are not known, but the official Japanese and British reports have intimated that Tsing Tau has been taken at heavy cost of men on the part of the Allies.

London, Nov. 6, 10 p. m.—It is officially announced by the Admiralty that the British cruiser Good Hope took fire during the engagement with the German off the coast of Chile last Sunday and foundered.

The Admiralty statement says it is believed that the British cruiser Monmouth, which the Germans reported had been sunk, was run ashore. The cruiser Canopus, it adds, was not present at the time of the fight.

The statement says: "During Sunday, the first of November, the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow came up with the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig and Dresden. Both squadrons were steaming south in a strong wind and a considerable sea.

"The German squadron declined action until sunset, when the light gave an important advantage. The action lasted an hour.

"Neither the Otranto nor the Canopus was engaged.

"Reports received by the foreign office from Valparaiso state that a belligerent warship is ashore on the Chilean coast, and it is possible that this may prove to be the Monmouth. Energetic measures are being taken, on this assumption, to rescue the survivors.

"The action appears to the Admiralty to have been most gallantly contested, but in the absence of the Canopus the enemy's preponderance in force was considerable."

Valparaiso, Nov. 6.—Nothing is known here concerning the British warships Canopus and Defence, which are reported to have passed through Magellan Straits to join the battle cruiser New Zealand.

This is the first indication that the New Zealand is in the Pacific. Probably the Australian is meant. Both are of the highest type of battle cruisers, mounting eight 12-inch guns with a tonnage of 18,500 tons. The Defence is also a new type cruiser, 14,600 tons with four 9.2 and ten 7.5 guns besides smaller armament.

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 6.—Private advices today to prominent British shipping agents here from their correspondents in Valparaiso report that an engagement is taking place off South America between British, German and Japanese warships.

London, Nov. 7, 2:04 a. m.—A despatch to the Central News from Lima, Peru, says that the British cruiser Glasgow, which was in the naval battle with the Germans off Concepcion, Chile, last Sunday has arrived at Puerto Montt, Chile, via Valparaiso, via London, Nov. 6, 7:05 p. m.—A large German steamer, has been blown up south of the Danish island of Langeland, in the Great Belt, by a mine, said to have been placed by the Germans. A number of her crew were lost.

London, Nov. 6, 9:40 p. m.—The Russians report that, having driven the Germans back to their border in the north, and forced their centre to retire from the Vistula to the Warta River, the Russian general staff has turned its attention to the Austrians, who have so stubbornly been holding their positions along the San River, in Galicia.

According to a telegram received from Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russians have won a victory more important than any preceding it. The Russians say they have again occupied Jaroslavl, north of Pzemyshl, capturing 5,000 prisoners and much war material.

It is believed here, however, that there will have to be another big battle on the Warta, before the armies of Emperor Nicholas seriously threaten Silesia.

In the struggle between the Germans and the Allies in the west there has again been little, if any change. The Germans, twice balked in their attempt to reach the French coast, are preparing for another attack, which, like the last, is directed at the line held by the British on both sides of the town of Ypres, where for a fortnight some of the most sanguinary fighting of the war has taken place in progress and where the casualties on both sides, perhaps, have been larger than those on such restricted front in any previous battle.

A Berlin official report claims that the Germans have made progress here, but this is in direct contradiction to the claims of the Allies, who say that they are holding all their positions, and have made some advances.

The British fleet, according to unofficial accounts, again has taken action along the Belgian coast, and have been bombarding Knocke and Zeebrugge, where the Germans are supposed to be organizing bases for their submarines.

For the present, interest is centred in the possibilities of the Balkan States becoming involved in the war. Greece, it is stated, has annexed Epirus, which she was denied by the London conference after the first Balkan war.

Why Smith Succeeded

He was on the job—alert and energetic. Mental ability and physical activity made him shine in his old job and brought promotion.

Smith took care of himself.

Right there is the keynote of success—one must be mentally and physically fit.

A good start is to avoid the heavy, greasy foods that cause indigestion and kindred ills, and use a wholesome, building food such as

Grape-Nuts

This healthful, appetizing food is made of selected wheat and malted barley. It contains those vital mineral salts, so necessary to health, that are often lacking in the every-day diet.

The partial malting of the barley, with the long baking (about 20 hours), makes Grape-Nuts a food that digests easily and quickly.

FACES AS FAIR AS A SUMMER'S DAY

Are Possible if Stuart's Calcium Wafers Are Used for a Short Time After Each Meal.

Many people have been heard to say that they used creams and lotions for years without effect, yet after five or six days of Stuart's Calcium Wafers their complexions were perfectly clear.

"I Got Rid of Blackheads in a Jiffy by Using Stuart's Calcium Wafers."

It's easy to understand why. Creams and lotions only get at the surface. While Stuart's Calcium Wafers go right into the blood stream instead of a sluggish deposit in the skin the impurities that cause skin diseases are destroyed in the perspiration that is exhaled through the pores in the form of invisible vapor. You'll never have a good complexion without pure blood, but you positively will have a fine, beautiful complexion if you use Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

They contain no poisonous drug of any kind, are perfectly harmless and can be taken with absolute freedom, and they work almost like magic. Calcium Sulphide, their principal ingredient, is the greatest blood-cleanser known to science.

No matter how bad your skin may be, Stuart's Calcium Wafers will quickly work wonders with it. It's goodbye to blackheads, pimples, acne, boils, rash, eczema and a dirty "dried-up" complexion. You can get a box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers at any drug store at 50 cents a box, and you will be positively delighted with their wonderful effect. A small sample package mailed free by address to F. H. Stuart, 175 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

PERSECUTION OF THE CHRISTIANS RENEWED

And Turks Order Syrian Press to Use Only War News from German Sources.

At the meeting of the Syrian Canadian Club of Montreal, at which prominent members of the Syrian colony declared their loyal attitude toward the British flag, and their hatred of all things Turkish and German, an interesting letter from a compatriot was read by Albert Mesara.

The writer stated that the Turkish officers had renewed their persecution of the Christians about a month ago. Ten thousand Syrians had enlisted as volunteers in the French army, the letter said, and a second contingent of 10,000 men had been raised, but the French Consul at Beirut refused to allow them to go to France, contending that they would soon be needed to defend their families at home. The letter told how, when the Syrian press was ordered to print only war news from German sources, the papers ceased publication, rather than not print the allied views; the government then ordered them to continue publication under a penalty of being fined 200 piasters sterling for each day they did not comply with the command.

THE GREEN PAPER

(From the New York World)

Warriors and statesmen will ponder this pledge drawn up by T. P. O'Connor and adopted with enthusiasm by a great meeting of Irish Nationalists in London.

"We will never sheathe the sword until Belgium has got back her freedom; until every inch of her soil is clear; until a treaty is made, not on a scrap of paper, but on a foundation behind which stands the millions of the British race.

This is the answer of the Irish to Louvain. There is no doubt whatever that it expresses the sentiment of the overwhelming majority of that race in all the ends of the earth. The Irish may now be better disposed than they have been for a century toward the British Government, but neither that feeling nor the old friendship for France counts most heavily. It is deep resentment at the fate of Belgium, it is swift sympathy with its exiled people, its ruined cities, its shrines profaned, that feeds the Celtic battle fury.

It may never be known how many men of Irish blood are rushing to the defence of the stricken little land, or to vengeance where it is too late for defence. They do not all hail from Ireland. They are enlisting in Canada, in Australia, in New Zealand; they are leaving the United States to volunteer. In the British capital itself they do not content themselves with this unpunctual defence, but are taking up arms to make it good.

The world may quote and quarrel over the White Book, the White Memorandum, the Orange Paper, the Gray Paper of the belligerents' diplomats to study the causes of the war. This Green Paper of Erin is short. It is easy to read. Its meaning is clear. The feeling it expresses is having a tremendous influence upon the outcome of the great campaign.

MONTREAL CHIEFS KILLED IN ACTION NEAR LILLE

Word of Death of Paul Caylart and A. Souquette, Who Were Employed at the Windsor Hotel When Call To Colors Came

Word has been received by Emile Renaud, chef at the Beguines' Club, Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal, that two of his friends, Paul Caylart and A. Souquette, formerly chefs at the Windsor Hotel, have been killed while fighting against the Germans near Lille.

Caylart and Souquette had been employed at the Windsor hotel for several years and had gained a reputation amongst patrons of the house and fellows of their profession. When the first call for French reservists was received by the French consul in Montreal, they immediately returned to their native land, and were sent to the front. There was no word of them until Mr. Renaud received a letter announcing the death of both, while defending a village near Lille.

Both of the men were married.

RINGWORM COVERED CHILD'S FACE

Much Inflamed. Child Not Recognizable. Troubled with Itching. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Free from Trouble.

"Stanford, Que.—A year ago my little boy, three years old, was affected with ringworm on the skin. It did not appear to make him suffer and I paid no attention to it. But what was my surprise when after a time the eruption increased by half and was much inflamed. I commenced to use a remedy, but the breaking out only spread so that it covered the whole of his face. He was not recognizable. He scratched the eruption, which made it red. What troubled him was the itching. "I had taken care of it for a year without doing him any good. Then I sent for some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed his face morning and evening with the Cuticura Soap and warm water before applying the Cuticura Ointment. At the end of a month he was completely free from the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. Alfred Tremblay, Mar. 10, 1914.
