

WHAT ARE YOUR DAUGHTER'S MUSICAL TASTES?

A Matter That Affects the Home and More

(Quoted from Pictorial Review, August, 1913.)

"What of your daughter's musical taste? She's in the parlor now, entertaining a caller with the very latest songs picked up at your local department store. And you are beating time with your foot as you read. There's a strange lilt to that ragtime stuff, eh? But forget the tune and catch the words:

"Honey-man, I sigh for you;
With my lips to yours, I could die for you."
Or—
"Wait till I get you alone in the dark
In a nice little, shady little, corner of the park."
Yes, that's your daughter, the little girl who such a short while back sat on your knee tugging at your moustache or searching your pockets for chocolates. How much of that sensual doggerel does she understand? Perhaps she is only charmed by the lilt of the rollicking tune that has set even your feet going. You are not sure, but you know that when she has gone to bed you'll confiscate the song and burn it.

No good, Mr. Father. Her music cabinet is filled with more of the same sort, and if you burn the lot, she'll hear the songs wherever she goes along that sheltered path you are strewn with roses for her.

By this time you have worked yourself up to a fine moral frenzy. You are just waiting for your wife to come home. You mean to tell her what you think of the way she has brought up her daughter. Don't! Just stop and realize that the girl is your daughter too. You are half-way responsible for her upbringing as well as for her existence. And particularly are you responsible for what she knows or does not know of that phase of life which was probably an open book to you before you ever met and knew her mother. Your wife, thanks to her parents and to you, had led the sheltered life. You have probably felt that you have screened her from a lot of knowledge that would do her no good. Blind, adoring mother that she is, she honestly believes that times are changing and that her daughter must change with it. Sometimes she is a bit shocked at what her daughter says, but she is assured by glib speakers before her club that the modern girl does not shy at the word "sex."

A generation of speakers and teachers have drummed into Mother's head that the child is an "individual" and must not be suppressed. The individual nature must be permitted to expand along its individual lines. "Society" in the form of the school, the club, the institutional church, not Mother, has played the more important part in molding the modern girl's character, and now in this late day Mother is awakening to the fact that the hand which rocked her child's cradle should have led that child out into the world. Truly the modern child does not cling to Mother's hand nor heed Mother's old-fashioned warnings. The modern girl has been taught that she is capable of judging her own conduct. She has neither reverence nor respect for experience and age.

If, after you have read this chat, you talk to your daughter, she will tell you that you are years behind the times. Girls have been taught to think and act for themselves. And yet you and I and every other man know that not one girl

A GIANT LOBSTER

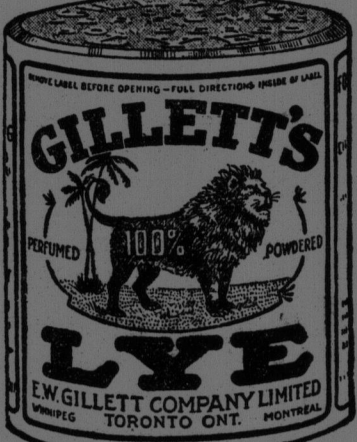

(St. Andrews Beacon.)

A large male lobster was captured by Capt. Marshal Stinson in a tide pool on St. Andrews Island last week, and has been mounted for the museum of the Biological Station. Its living weight is not known, as it was more or less dried out before it was possible to weigh it. From its size, it must have weighed twenty-five pounds at least. The length of the body is twenty and three-quarters inches and the total length to the tips of the claws, thirty-four inches. It is one of the largest lobsters on record, and is slightly larger than a specimen captured at Lunenburg in 1892, and said to be preserved on Campbell Island. A specimen twenty-three and three-quarters inches long and weighing thirty-four pounds is known. A larger lobster than this has not been authoritatively reported. These large lobsters are naturally of an uncertain age, but it has been estimated that they are in the neighborhood of the half-century mark.

PREVENTION OF DISEASE

Thus one of the ideals of the profession—namely, the prevention of disease—has in recent years made advances toward realization beyond the dreams of the most sanguine a generation ago. Medicine, like the law, is in a measure engaged in attempting to remove the reasons for its existence. As the feeling for justice and equity grows and the social conscience gains in strength, law is freed to take up new and larger questions. So when we come to the province of medicine there opens before us a new order of things, arising from our progress in the control and elimination of disease. The prevention of many important forms of disease has been carried far, but that is only the first step. This condition must be maintained. Herein elsewhere, eternal vigilance applies. Moreover, new conquests in this field are yet to be made and are needed to that end. This brings the physician more and more into the service of the community at large.—Professor Wm. T. Sedgwick in Science.

Daily Hints For the Cook

Macarons
Work together 1/2 pound almond paste and 3/4 pound powdered sugar on a smooth board. Then add the whites of 8 eggs gradually and work until mixture is perfectly smooth. Shape with pastry bag and tube on a thin sheet, covered with buttered paper 1-2 inch apart or drop from tip of spoon. Bake from 15 to 20 minutes in slow oven. After removing from oven invert paper and wet with a cloth wrung out of cold water. If you like you can sprinkle macarons before baking with almonds blanched and shredded or chopped.

Nut macarons: Best white of one egg till light, add 1 cup brown sugar gradually, beat 10 minutes. Add 1/2 cup chopped-peanut nut meats sprinkled with 1/4 teaspoon salt. Drop from spoon one inch apart on unbuttered sheet. Bake in moderate oven till brown.

Chocolate Sauce for Ices
Grate one ounce of chocolate, add 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Boil 5 minutes. Add 2 1/2 cups water, let boil 5 minutes and add 1 teaspoonful of vanilla.

WILL TACKLE THE HOUSING PROBLEM

Company Incorporated to Build Garden Suburbs in Halifax, Sydney, New Glasgow, Truro, Amherst and Yarmouth

"To engage in the business of buying and developing land for use and beauty, whether in city, suburb or country, in the province of Nova Scotia, and to plan and operate garden cities, garden suburbs, co-operative towns, communities, and to apply generally in the development of property the principles of town planning."

Thus runs the first paragraph of the charter of the "Province of Nova Scotia Land Corporation, Limited," which has just been incorporated by Messrs. McInnes, Melish, Fulton & Kenny to carry out the objects of G. Trafford Hewitt's housing scheme in Halifax, Sydney, New Glasgow, Amherst, Truro and Yarmouth.

Mr. Hewitt has just returned from a tour extending over five weeks lecturing on the subject of the "Housing Problem," and better housing accommodation for the dwellers in towns and cities. During the course of his journeyings Mr. Hewitt had an opportunity of studying the local conditions at Sydney, New Glasgow, Truro, Amherst and Yarmouth, and in each one of these towns he was much impressed with the possibilities they offer as important industrial centres in the near future. In each of them there is room for improvement along the lines of town planning.

Mr. Raymond Urwin is next day to arrive from England within the next day or two, and will at once go into the question of comprehensive planning for the improvement and future extension of the City of Halifax. Mr. Urwin is to read a paper on "Some Principles of Town Planning" at the Municipal Conference at Bridgewater this week, and should he not arrive in time he has forwarded his paper to be read by Mr. Hewitt.

Was 98 Years Old

A Presque Isle letter says: "J. C. Graham was called to Andover, N. B., Monday by the death of his father, James Graham which occurred Monday, at the age of nearly 98 years. Mr. Graham was born in Fredericton in 1816, and has spent his life on a farm and has lived on the same farm for years. He always enjoyed the best of health and, until his last sickness, had never had a doctor but once, 42 years ago. He leaves two sons and five daughters."

Kicked by a Horse

Charles Maxwell, of Bayside, was found lying on the floor of his barn last week, in an unconscious state, having evidently been kicked on the head by one of his horses. No bones were broken and he is slowly improving.

GOOD ROADS PAY

Montreal Star (editorial)—It pays to have good roads. The office of public roads in the United States department of agriculture states that the expenditure of $250,000 on 24 per cent. of the roads in one county of Alabama has doubled the value of all the farm land in the county in ten years.

In Virginia the value of a farm of 100 acres increased from $1,800 to $8,000 after the road bordering it had been improved. These facts are more significant than many abstract arguments and should weigh with those responsible for the roads of this province. We gladly acknowledge that considerable improvement has been shown in recent weeks, but there is still plenty of room for improvement. Perhaps the saddest feature of this question is the neglect to finish roads properly. There has been an amount of good work done which lacks but a little of being excellent. Roads have been made which are well drained but which have no binder. As a result they will begin to go to pieces much sooner than if a proper binder had been used. The latter easily repays what it costs. It saves a considerable expenditure on repairs and makes travelling more comfortable. We are grateful to the parishes which are doing something to remedy their wretched roads, but we hope they will do more. Apart from the great loss of traffic this year, bad roads have cost the farmers much money even though the exceptionally dry season has made the loss less than it must otherwise have been.

SEA SICKNESS

Prevented—Stopped
MOTHERSILL'S sea sickness pills are now generally adopted by the medical profession in Great Britain and New York Steamship Companies and many other leading transatlantic lines.

Four years ago Mr. Motherstill gave a personal demonstration of his remedy on the English Channel. He was seasick and received unequalled assistance from Lewis' doctors. Such people as Bishop Taylor Smith, Lord Northwick, and many other gentlemen and professional men. Letters from persons of international renown—people we all know—together with which will be sent free upon receipt of your name and address.

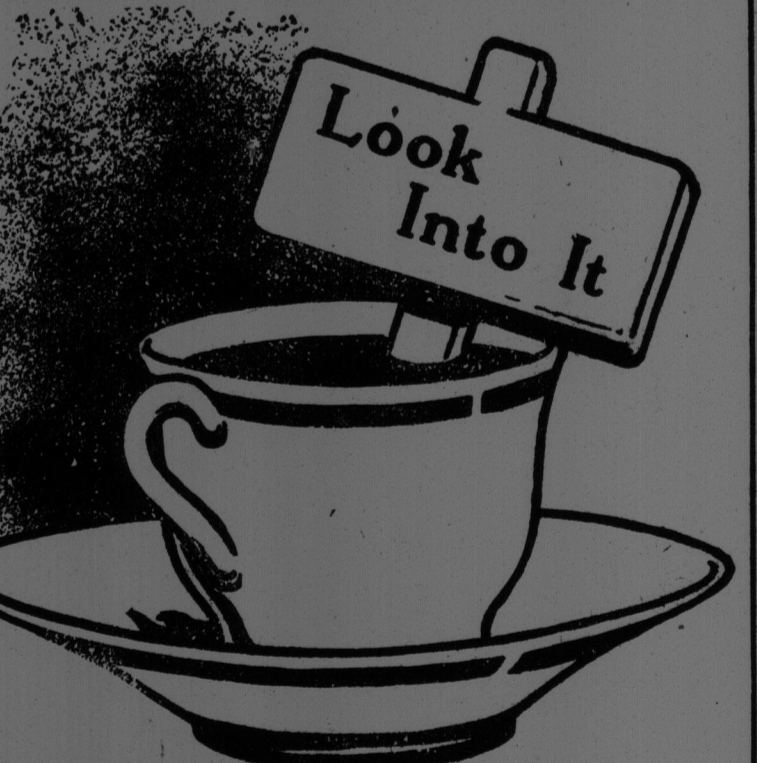

MOTHERSILL'S is guaranteed not to contain cocaine, morphine, opium, chloral or any other poisonous substance. It is sufficient for twenty-four hours. Your doctor or a Transatlantic agent will obtain it for you from his wholesale agent. If you have any doubts, write the gentleman, send direct to the Motherstill Co., 47, St. James Street, Detroit, Mich. Also at 19 St. Bride St., London, and at 10 St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and Chicago.

USE THE WANT AD WAY

A cup of tea or coffee contains from 1-1.2 to 3 grains of caffeine—a poisonous drug.

Five grains of caffeine is enough to kill a rabbit. Of course that much wouldn't kill a man.

But continual tea and coffee drinking usually produces hiltiness, headache, dullness, sleeplessness, irritability and heart agitation. Many people have gotten rid of these troubles by quitting tea and coffee and using

INSTANT POSTUM

It is pure and made entirely of Northern wheat and the juice of Southern sugar-cane. Postum is a genuine food-drink—rich in Nature's phosphates, and contains no drug whatever.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum (must be boiled.)

Instant Postum requires no boiling, but is made instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water with cream and sugar to taste.

Experiment until you get it to suit your taste, then have it always made that way. Made right, Postum has a delightful flavor.

If tea and coffee don't agree, suppose you leave them off ten days and try Postum.

Drink it instead of tea or coffee.
