This Institution is intended to give a thorough training to teachers, especially for the Protestant population of Lower Canada. This end is attained by instruction and training in the Normal School itself, and by practice in the Model Schools; and the arrangements, are of such a character as to afford the greatest possible facilities to Students from all parts of the Province.

The McGill Normal School has now been in operation for eleven years, and more than two hundred of those who have taken its Diplomas are usefully employed in various parts of Canada, while the demand for teachers trained in the School continues to increase, as Commissioners and Trustees become more fully aware of the difference between trained and untrained Teachers. More especially, those who have taken the Model School and Academy Diplomas are much sought after, and the demand for male teachers trained in the School
